Vast Aid Program Is Truman's Plan

Proposal Would Give Help to Europe at End of Marshall Plan; Would Run Into Billions

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—A blueprint for a vast new American foreign aid program, including economic help to western Europe beyond the scheduled end of the Marshall Plan, was made public by the administration last night.

It probably will form the basis for President Truman's foreign economic recommendations to the new Congress next year.

The Chief Executive made public a global survey of economic prospects and American aid in the light of the Communist threat and the western rearmament program. The survey calls for far-reaching developments in American policy to provide help running into billions of dollars over the next few years — perhaps $8,000,000,000 or more.

Mr. Truman released the report, prepared by former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray, as a document deserving "the attention and study" of the American people. But administration officials said there is no doubt that its main recommendations will largely shape the President's foreign economic proposal in his State of the Union message to Congress in January.

This will pose squarely the issue of how long and how much the United States wants to give or lend friendly nations to help them rearm and strengthen thir political and economic life against the threat of communism.

Had Hard Time

The administration had hard sledding getting funds from the present Congress to finance the third year of the Marshall plan for western European recovery. There is every indication that it will have a rougher time with the new Congress in obtaining approval for an extension of help to Europe beyond the scheduled end of the Marshall plan on June 30, 1952.

The attack of the enlarged Republican opposition may not be, however, so much on the point of furnishing some assistance as on the related issues of how much and under what conditions.

This was indicated in a call by Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) for a detailed review of the program of European rearmament, already underway. It was also indicated in a comment on the Gary report by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), who said he thought this country will "have to continue to loan money and make grants" to its friends.

"The method of doing it is the thing that concerns me," McCarthy said. He advocated giving assistance directly to private enter-

Quiz Ahead In Vote Case, Leader Says

Didn't Ask Post

Congressman Says He Did Not Seek Office in Senate

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP) — A House committee has undertaken an inquiry into the New York congressional district where Republican Rep. W. Kingsland Macy apparently was defeated for re-election.

Macy asked the investigation, and Chairman Mansfield (D.-Mont.) of the House Campaign Spending Committee announced last night that it will be made.

Macy said in Islip, N. Y., that he had asked for an investigation because of his failure to receive cooperation from Nassau county officials in examining election figures.

A canvass of ballots in the district, which takes in all of Suffolk county at the eastern end of Long Island and part of neighboring Nassau county which runs west to the New York city line, showed that Macy was defeated by Ernest Greenwood, Dmocratic-Liberal candidate, by 126 votes out of more than 152,000 cast.

Mansfield said he had asked the chief of police at Mineola to impound registry books, voting machine tally sheets and records of the board of elections and place them under guard.

Statement Is Made

Macy said in a statement that Nassau officials "from whom I had every right to expect party regularity xxx conspired together" to prevent his representative from examining election tabulations.

"What puzzles me," he added to a reporter, "is this drive against me by my own side. It's a very peculiar proceeding."

Macy was the recipient of the letter from Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley which provided many of the fireworks in the New York campaign. In it, Hanley wrote that he had been promised he could clean up his personal financial problems if he agreed to run for the Senate.

Hanley previously had been assured the GOP governor nomination. When he withdrew, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey announced he would seek a third term. Dewey won. Hanley was defeated by Senator Herbert Lehman (D-Lib-NY).

The 74-year-old lieutenant-governor released a copy of the letter on Oct. 16, after he learned that the Democrats had obtained a copy.

Democrats claimed the letter showed that Hanley had been paid off to relinquish his claim to the gubernatorial nomination in favor of Dewey.

Both the lieutenant governor and Dewey denied and wrongdoing.

Macy said he was glad that the

Dewey Says Isolation Trend Seen

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said today there is some evidence of a trend toward isolationism in the Republican party, but Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said there are no isolationists any more.

They gave these contrasting opinions to the magazine U. S. News and World Report, published here. Dewey and Taft were among a number of prominent winners and losers in last week's elections interviewed by the magazine by telephone.

Asked whether it could be inferred from the vote results that the GOP was tending back toward isolationism, Dewey replied:

"I'm afraid there are individuals of that kind, but as long as I have a position of responsbility, I'll be fighting it."

Taft, asked whether isolationism cropped up in the campaign, replied:

"I don't know what they mean by 'isolationist.' Nobody is an isolationist today. That's just name calling and I don't think it means anything."

Lack of Confidence

Taft, GOP policy leader in the Senate, attributed much of the Republican success in the elections to lack of confidence in the Truman administration's foreign policy.

"They've got us in a hell of a mess—that's the general idea," he said.

Republican Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania said a large factor in his election to the Senate was the Korean War.

"I think that the average citizen that thought about the problem felt that our Asiatic policy has been badly mishandled," Duff said.

Rep. Richard M. Nixon (R-Calif) credited the Korean War and Communist issues generally with his Senate victory over Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif).

"Over and over again * * * I pointed out that had it not been for the fall of China, the Korean War would not have happened," Nixon said.

Foresaw Defeat

Senator Millard E. Tydings, Maryland Democrat who lost his bid for a fifth term, said he foresaw the possibility of defeat because the party was demoralized by a bitter Democratic primary fight for the governorship.

He said he does not think that Senator McCarthy (R-Wisc.) as a person had anything to do with his defeat, but that the issue McCarthy raised had a secondary effect.

Tydings headed the Senate subcommittee which branded McCarthy's Communism-in-Government charges as a hoax. Describing the group's report as a whitewash, McCarthy made some campaign speeches against Tydings.

Dewey Goes to Florida

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey boarded a Florida-bound plane today for a post-election vacation during which time he said he would "catch up on my sleep." Dewey, recently re-elected to a third term, said he would be gone two to three weeks. He brushed aside all political questions fired at him by newsmen who watched him and Mrs. Dewey board the plane. "All I am interested in now is getting caught up on my sleep," Dewey said. The Deweys will stay at the Roney Plaza Hotel, Dewey's secretary, James C. Hagerty, said. While there, the governor expects to do some fishing.

Aluminum Use Slashed

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—The government today slashed the non-military use of aluminum by about 35 per cent starting in January. William H. Harrison, administrator of the National Productions Authority, announced the order at a news conference. Replying to a question he said the order "very likely" will cause some unemployment in particular factories but he would expect that industry would have some opportunity to prepare before January and use some substitutes for aluminum.

Printers Approve Contract

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Printers employed on ten major daily newspapers in New York city approved yesterday a two-year contract providing a $7-a-week wage and welfare "package." The printers, members of Local 6 of the A.F.L. International Typographical Union, previously had rejected the proposed contract. Seven other craft unions in the newspaper industry had signed up on similar terms previous to yesterday.

Baldwin's 'Tour' Ends When He Is Booked on Counts

Solution Claimed to Store Theft; Is Held for Grand Jury

George Baldwin, 20, of 35 Clinton avenue, had state, county and local police on his trail early Sunday before he was arrested on charges of second degree assault and burglary third degree.

Charles Stevens, 60 Franklin street, driver for the Perry Taxi Service, started the police action when he told at the sheriff's office of driving his cab to the Sawkill road near Route 28 as Baldwin sat behind him with a loaded rifle.

Authorities claim solution of the burglary at the Cerasaro Brothers Sport Center, 336 Clinton avenue, last Thursday, and said that information gained from Baldwin resulted in the arrest of two other youths for an alleged theft at a summer camp between Willow and Edgewood.

Arraigned Before Judge

Baldwin waived examination and was held for the grand jury when he was arraigned today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The young man, it is charged, before he was finally taken by police at 35 Clinton avenue, had attempted to force his way into the home of James McCabe, "Bright Acres," formerly owned by the late Elissa Landi.

Officer Joseph Fallon notified local police at 4:15 a. m. Sunday that Stevens, the cab driver, was at the sheriff's office and said he had been "forced to drive" Baldwin out of the city.

When the youth got into the cab, the report said, he informed the driver he had no money but he wanted to go to Willow.

Says He Was Forced

The cab driver suggested that they go back to the taxi office and "make arrangements with the boss" for the trip to Willow, and at that time, the report said, Baldwin forced the driver to take him out of the city.

Baldwin left the cab near the point where the Sawkill road intersects Route 28 and was not heard from until the call to police headquarters at 4:50 a. m., from James McCabe of Bright Acres.

The youth told McCabe he wanted to fix a flat tire. Baldwin disappeared from near the door of the house and McCabe drove over the long lane leading to his place from Route 28.

Demanded Entry

When McCabe was away from the house, it is charged, the youth stood near the place with the rifle and ordered Samuel Godfried, McCabe's brother-in-law, to let him into the house.

Mrs. McCabe, when her husband drove back to the house, informed him that the young man had a rifle. Mrs. Godfried was

Truman Unsure Of Earlier Call

Washington, Nov., 13 (AP)—The White House said today President Truman still has not decided whether to ask that Congress meet earlier than the Nov. 27, the date it set for reconvening.

Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, told newsmen he does not expect a decision today. He said Mr. Truman probably will hold further long distance telephone talks with congressional leaders before making up his mind.

"The matter is just where it was the last time I talked to you," Ross said. "Up in the air?" a reporter asked.

"Yes," Ross replied.

Michigan Election Still Undecided; Williams in Lead

Dems' Incumbent Has 558 Edge in Governorship Race; Some Counties Still Unreported

Detroit, Nov. 13 (AP)—The lingering see-saw race for the Michigain governorship, still undecided six days after the state election, swung back to the Democratic incumbent G. Mennen Williams today.

A change in the canvassed returns from Macomb county, straightened out by a precinct election board chairman's testimony before canvassers, gave these state totals, with official canvasser still narrowly incomplete.

Williams (D) 935,128.
Harry F. Kelly (R) 934,570.

Thus, with a half dozen of the state's 83 counties still to report their official canvassed figures, Williams takes the lead by a margin of 558 votes over his Republican rival, two-time former Governor Kelly.

Strangely, in the unique mixup resulting from the state's closest governor election in history, Michigan may still not know whom it elected governor—even when inauguration time rolls around Jan. 1.

A formal recount of the state vote seemed certain, and that may take six weeks to complete after the canvassed figures are all in. And canvassers aren't required to report to the secretary of state's office before Dec. 7, thirty days after the voting.

If the state's biggest puzzler in political history isn't solved by Inauguration Day the newly elected lieutenant-governor, Republican State Senator William C. Vanderberg will take over temporarily until the race is settled.

Says It's Too Early

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP)—An American pilot who shot down a Russian-made MIG-15 jet fighter plane in the first battle between jets said today it is too early to determine the merits of the new Communist planes or their pilots. Lt. Russell Brown, 25, of 258 S. Hudson street, Pasadena, Calif., said the man he shot down over Sinuiju last week "made a mistake in judgment." Brown said there has been too little determined dog fighting to say whether the MIG-15s are on a par with American F-80s. He said the Red jets sighted so far are "nice looking planes, brand spanking new."

Reported in Manchuria

Manhattan 'Lock Out' Is Charged

New York, Nov. 13 (AP) — Long distance telephone operators in New York city charged today they were "locked out" when they reported for work after striking equipment workers removed picket lines.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., said that the charge of "lockout is absurd."

In Pittsburgh, mounted police dispersed a crowd of pickets who surrounded a small Bell truck halted in traffic. There were no injuries.

The C.I.O. equipment workers struck against the Bell System in 44 states last Thursday in a dispute over wages and length of contract.

Removal of the picket lines in New York was part of the "hit and run" picketing tactics of the CIO Communications Workers of America to snarl Bell System long distance lines. The flash picketing was designed to catch management unawares and throw long distance service into chaos before enough supervisors can be mobilized to man switchboards.

Report in Three Shifts

The New York operators reported at the A.T. & T. long lines center in three shifts. Large numbers of them—estimated at 1,300—left the building within a short time. They charged they had been told by chief operators to leave after they said they would continue to respect picket lines. They said the company told them they had other workers for the jobs.

The operators' union charged its members were refused work when they declined to sign contracts which would have pledged them to cross picket lines.

The company, in a typewritten statement, said "we are glad to have our employes back if they sincerely wish to help us do the job.

Precision Needed

"Close and precise scheduling of our people is needed in order to meet hour-to-hour service requirements. Before disrupting the team that has done such a splendid job of giving service to the public during the past several days, we merely wish to know that the returning people are prepared to meet this need."

Joseph A. Bierne, CWA head, charged the company's action constituted discrimination and violated the Taft-Hartley Act. He said he planned to take the matter to the National Labor Relations Board.

Meantime, federal mediators said neither union nor management had budged over the weekend in the strike. New talks were set for today in the pay and contract dispute.

Find Glass Bottom

Quonset Point, R. I., Nov. 13 (AP) —The bottom of the bay was as smooth as glass. Navy divers reported yesterday that they found Davy Jones locker full of empties after years of pop bottles tossed overboard from incoming carriers. So far the divers have hauled up more than 5,000 empties, each worth 2 cents. The proceeds were turned over to the Naval air station's welfare and recreation fund.

Fighting Is Active Near Both Coasts

North Koreans Battle in Force on Eastern Seaboard

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 13 (AP)—Parka-clad U. S. Marines pushed cautiously five and a half miles through undefended, icy hills toward the great Changjin reservoir today.

While the marines advanced in the center of the front, there was dogged fighting near both coasts.

Back of the front, United Nations forces drew a solid defense line across the narrow waist of Korea. The line was completed by the junction of the Third Division, built up to battle strength by the addition of South Koreans and Puerto Ricans, and the South Korean Eighth Division.

Weather Is Frigid

The advancing marines, bundled like Eskimos, wound through a cork-screw gorge in subzero weather without tank support. Tank tracks churned the mountain road into a soggy mass that bogged down the heavy equipment.

Marine planes flew close cover. Even that was unneeded as the Leathernecks ran into only a scattered handful of Chinese Communists, remnants of the 124th Division, garbed in padded cotton uniforms. The Reds were eliminated without marine loss.

To the west, Communists appeared to be digging in or fighting delayed actions, but on the east coast they swarmed to the attack.

North Koreans guarding the approaches to the Soviet border attacked in force on the east coast Monday under cover of a blinding snowstorm. The Red spearhead battalion was led by tanks and self-propelled guns. It pushed across the Orangchon river, about 90 miles from the Soviet border, threatening to outflank a South Korean regiment.

Cavalry Advances

Near the west coast, U. S. First Cavalry Division units advanced a mile and one-half. That carried them halfway to the walled town of Yongbyon. Patrols reached the walls but did not enter the town.

Heavy Communist resistance stopped over First Cavalry Troops near Won, eight miles southeast of Yongbyon.

And five miles south of Won, an estimated three regiments of Chinese Reds smashed a two mile dent in lines of the South Korean Sixth Division. Allied fighter-bombers halted this drive, killing about 1,000 Reds in a blazing attack two miles south of Kunu. The South Korean Seventh Division moved up to bolster the sixth.

Elements of the U. S. 24th Division advanced up to two miles on the extreme western end of the front, about 18 miles west of Won. An Eighth Army spokesman said this placed them in the vicinity of Tungsan, four miles northeast of Pakchon and about 60 miles southeast of Sinuiju, entryway for Chinese Troops from Manchuria.

Fleets of B-29th ranging back of the fronts hammered again at Sinuiju and set three main supply points aflame with fire bombs.

A spokesman at General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters said both bridges across the Yalu river from Manchuria to Sinuiju were believed knocked out after Monday's attack.

Forty B-29s made the fire attack. They loosed 340 tons of incendiaries on Sakchu and Chosan, on the Yalu river northeast of Sinuiju, and on Namsi. Communications center between Sinuiju and the northwest front.

Three other communications and supply centers were set aflame Sunday in the B-29 scorched earth raids. The air force is methodically burning out Red collection points for men and supplies.

MacArthur's Intelligence Officer said there had been no information for two days on whether Chinese Communists still are sending reinforcements in large numbers across the Yalu. He said the Chinese appeared to be throwing more strength into the central part of the peninsula between the Changjin reservoir and the Yalu river.

Ex-V.F.W. Chief To Address Rally

Clyde Lewis Will Feature Americanism Program in Kingston

Hon. Clyde Lewis, past national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the speaker at the Americanism rally to be held at the Kingston high school auditorium Monday, Nov. 20. The rally, under sponsorship of the Kingston Joint Americanism Committe, also will feature a concert by the West Point Army band under command of Capt. Cotruna.

Prior to the rally at the high school, there will be a parade which will start at 7:30 p. m. from Maiden Lane and Albany avenue and proceed down Broadway to the high school where it will disband. The rally will start at 8:30 p. m.

In the line of march will be the West Point Army Band, the Port Ewen Fife and Drum Corps, the Kingston High School band, the 156th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, and the combined membership of the organizations sponsoring the rally.

At the conclusion of the rally at the high school the U. S. Army band will entertain with a concert.

In early October the group of spirited citizens, under the honorary chairmanship of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, formed the Americanism committee in order to rekindle the fervor of Americans for the ideals which thousands of other Americans have given their lives to preserve. "It had become apparent to the committee that our citizenry had taken the American way of life too much for granted and the Communists were doing a far better selling job with their brand of 'phony democracy' here in the United States and in other countries of the world It was believed a definite need existed to awaken the people of Kingston to the realities of the conditions which confront them nationally and throughout the world in preservation of a democratic way of life," a spokesman of the group said.

Many Croups Assisting

Joseph Koenig was named general chairman, and under his supervision, delegates from the American Legion of Kingston and Port Ewen, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Knights of Columbus, B'nai B'rith, United Commercial Travelers, Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A.M., Rondout Lodge No 343, F. & A.M., Elks, Zionist Organization of America, Reserve Officers Association, Marine Corps League, 156th Field Artillery and others planned and developed the rally. Assisting Koenig have been Richard Kalish, Harry Gumaer, Herbert Greenwald, William Reardon and Lawrence Quilty.

With the cooperation of Congressman Jay LeFevre, the committee was fortunate in obtaining

Chief Official Has Appealed to Nehru, Is Report

New Delhi, India, Nov. 13 (AP) —The Hindustan Times reported today that Nepalese insurgents had reached Amlikganj, only 25 miles from Katmandu, capital of the little kingdom bordering Tibet.

The insurgents, members of the Nepalese Congress party which is allied to India's ruling Congress party, have proclaimed their own government in an open rebellion against the all-powerful prime minister who ousted democratically-inclined King Tribhuvana.

Unconfirmed reports from Patna, in nearby Bihar, said the prime minister of Nepal, Maharajah Mohun Shamsher Jang Banadur Rana, had appealed to Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru to mediate the conflict. The Nepalese embassy would neither confirm nor deny the report.

The Hindustan Times also said M P. Koirala, leader of the Nepalese Congress party, was coming to New Delhi to meet King Tribhuvana. He may also seek an interview with Nehru

Is Rail Terminus

Amlikganj is a railway terminus 25 miles from Birganj, second largest town of Nepal, which the insurgents were reported to have seized. Amlikganj is about 25 miles south of Katmandu.

Unconfirmed reports said the insurgents also had captured the airstrip at Semra, 12 miles beyond Birganj.

The Nepalese embassy, however, said the government garrison at Birganj still was resisting the rebels and was being reinforced from Katmandu.

Timetable Tonight For Legion Ball

The 32nd annual Victory Ball of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, goes on tonight at the municipal auditorium, featuring a New York stage show and two popular local orchestras for a concert and dancing.

Doors open at 7 p. m.

Concert by Sal Cast's orchestra at 8 p. m.

Stage show of five acts, presenting stars of radio, stage and television, 8:30 p. m.

Suicide Guard Watches Over Kidnaper of Child, 9

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 13 (AP)—Dr. Nancy Campbell, 43-year-old Yale-trained woman doctor, was released from jail today on bond pending trial on charges of kidnaping a contractor's nine-year-old daughter.

The $20,000 bond was signed by two doctors and two other property owners: Dr. Charlotte Jones, close friend, Dr. Herbert Ellis, vice-president of the Santa Fe County Medical Association; David Hughes and Walter G. Turley.

Her attorney made immediate plans to send Dr. Campbell to an Albuquerque hospital. The district attorney's office said arraignment on the kidnaping charges, carrying a penalty of five years to death, would be in a week or two.

Through the night, a suicide guard stood watch in Dr. Campbell's jail cell, placed there by her attorney.

Dr. Campbell—dressed in men's clothes—was caught red-handed Saturday night when she reached for $20,000 ransom cash and 30 hidden FBI agents and police rushed her in the darkness.

"I'm only a go-between!" they said she shouted as they hurtled into her, thinking she was a man.

But in her yellow convertible only a few feet away they found her bedraggled victim — blonde Linda Stamm. The little girl was groggy from a dose of sleeping medicine and chilled from exposure to a temperature of 10 degrees above zero, but otherwise unharmed.

Later, after they found two more ransom notes and a 25-caliber pistol in the woman's pockets, the FBI said she ad-

Statement Controls Are Too Harsh Gains Support

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Support for consumer and dealer complaints that the new installment buying controls are too stringent in some cases came today from Senator Frear (D-Del.)

He said he had in mind particularly the recent Federal Reserve Board order requiring a down payment of one-third on automobiles and allowing no more than 15 months to clean up the balance.

"I believe that automobile dealers and car buyers who have been protesting about that probably have a good case," Frear told a reporter. "Those terms seem a little too drastic when automobiles are being produced at the rate they are at present."

Frear said he is inclined to favor relaxing the restriction at least to the extent of permitting payment over 18 instead of 15 months. He said that in no case should the down payment be less than 25 per cent.

The Delaware Senator is a member of the Senate Banking Committee which helped draft the new Economic Controls Law authorizing the Federal Reserve Board to regulate installment buying terms.

The new law also set up a Senate-House "watchdog" committee to study operation of the overall measure. Senator Maybank (D-SC), slated to be chairman, recently announced that the group would start public hearings this week on what he described as "complaints from all over the country" regarding the 15-month pay-off period on automobiles.

Maybank said over the weekend, however, that the hearings will be delayed until the week of Nov. 27, the date the "lame duck" session of the expiring 81st Congress is scheduled to start.

The tightening of credit controls for other commodities has brought some protests, too, but most of the complaints have dealt with automobiles.

As for the general economic picture, Senator Wiley (R-Wis) urged over the week-end that the Senate and House Banking Committees be called back to Washington immediately to consider "the grave inflationary situation." That situation, Wiley declared, "threatens to blow the roof off our economy by skyrocketing prices."

Vast Aid Program Is Truman's Plan

Proposal Would Give Help to Europe at End of Marshall Plan; Would Run Into Billions

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—A blueprint for a vast new American foreign aid program, including economic help to western Europe beyond the scheduled end of the Marshall Plan, was made public by the administration last night.

It probably will form the basis for President Truman's foreign economic recommendations to the new Congress next year.

The Chief Executive made public a global survey of economic prospects and American aid in the light of the Communist threat and the western rearmament program. The survey calls for far-reaching developments in American policy to provide help running into billions of dollars over the next few years — perhaps $8,000,000,000 or more.

Quiz Ahead In Vote Case, Leader Says

Congressman Says He Did Not Seek Office in Senate

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP) — A House committee has undertaken an inquiry into the New York congressional district where Republican Rep. W. Kingsland Macy apparently was defeated for re-election.

Macy asked the investigation, and Chairman Mansfield (D.-Mont.) of the House Campaign Spending Committee announced last night that it will be made.

Macy said in Islip, N. Y., that he had asked for an investigation because of his failure to receive cooperation from Nassau county officials in examining election figures.

A canvass of ballots in the district, which takes in all of Suffolk county at the eastern end of Long Island and part of neighboring Nassau county which runs west to the New York city line, showed that Macy was defeated by Ernest Greenwood, Dmocratic-Liberal candidate, by 126 votes out of more than 152,000 cast.

Dewey Says Isolation Trend Seen

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said today there is some evidence of a trend toward isolationism in the Republican party, but Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said there are no isolationists any more.

They gave these contrasting opinions to the magazine U. S. News and World Report, published here. Dewey and Taft were among a number of prominent winners and losers in last week's elections interviewed by the magazine by telephone.

Asked whether it could be inferred from the vote results that the GOP was tending back toward isolationism, Dewey replied:

"I don't know what they mean by 'isolationist.' Nobody is an isolationist today. That's just name calling and I don't think it means anything."

Lack of Confidence

Taft, GOP policy leader in the Senate, attributed much of the Republican success in the elections to lack of confidence in the Truman administration's foreign policy.

"They've got us in a hell of a mess—that's the general idea," he said.

Republican Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania said a large factor in his election to the Senate was the Korean War.

"I think that the average citizen that thought about the problem felt that our Asiatic policy has been badly mishandled," Duff said.

Rep. Richard M. Nixon (R-Calif) credited the Korean War and Communist issues generally with his Senate victory over Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif).

"Over and over again * * * I pointed out that had it not been for the fall of China, the Korean War would not have happened," Nixon said.

Foresaw Defeat

Senator Millard E. Tydings, Maryland Democrat who lost his bid for a fifth term, said he foresaw the possibility of defeat because the party was demoralized by a bitter Democratic primary fight for the governorship.

He said he does not think that Senator McCarthy (R-Wisc.) as a person had anything to do with his defeat, but that the issue McCarthy raised had a secondary effect.

Tydings headed the Senate subcommittee which branded McCarthy's Communism-in-Government charges as a hoax. Describing the group's report as a whitewash, McCarthy made some campaign speeches against Tydings.

Dewey Goes to Florida

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey boarded a Florida-bound plane today for a post-election vacation during which time he said he would "catch up on my sleep." Dewey, recently re-elected to a third term, said he would be gone two to three weeks. He brushed aside all political questions fired at him by newsmen who watched him and Mrs. Dewey board the plane. "All I am interested in now is getting caught up on my sleep," Dewey said. The Deweys will stay at the Roney Plaza Hotel, Dewey's secretary, James C. Hagerty, said. While there, the governor expects to do some fishing.

Aluminum Use Slashed

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—The government today slashed the non-military use of aluminum by about 35 per cent starting in January. William H. Harrison, administrator of the National Productions Authority, announced the order at a news conference. Replying to a question he said the order "very likely" will cause some unemployment in particular factories but he would expect that industry would have some opportunity to prepare before January and use some substitutes for aluminum.

Printers Approve Contract

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Printers employed on ten major daily newspapers in New York city approved yesterday a two-year contract providing a $7-a-week wage and welfare "package." The printers, members of Local 6 of the A.F.L. International Typographical Union, previously had rejected the proposed contract. Seven other craft unions in the newspaper industry had signed up on similar terms previous to yesterday.

Baldwin's 'Tour' Ends When He Is Booked on Counts

Truman Unsure Of Earlier Call

Washington, Nov., 13 (AP)—The White House said today President Truman still has not decided whether to ask that Congress meet earlier than the Nov. 27, the date it set for reconvening.

Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, told newsmen he does not expect a decision today. He said Mr. Truman probably will hold further long distance telephone talks with congressional leaders before making up his mind.

"The matter is just where it was the last time I talked to you," Ross said. "Up in the air?" a reporter asked.

"Yes," Ross replied.

Solution Claimed to Store Theft; Is Held for Grand Jury

George Baldwin, 20, of 35 Clinton avenue, had state, county and local police on his trail early Sunday before he was arrested on charges of second degree assault and burglary third degree.

Charles Stevens, 60 Franklin street, driver for the Perry Taxi Service, started the police action when he told at the sheriff's office of driving his cab to the Sawkill road near Route 28 as Baldwin sat behind him with a loaded rifle.

Authorities claim solution of the burglary at the Cerasaro Brothers Sport Center, 336 Clinton avenue, last Thursday, and said that information gained from Baldwin resulted in the arrest of two other youths for an alleged theft at a summer camp between Willow and Edgewood.

Arraigned Before Judge

Baldwin waived examination and was held for the grand jury when he was arraigned today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The young man, it is charged, before he was finally taken by police at 35 Clinton avenue, had attempted to force his way into the home of James McCabe, "Bright Acres," formerly owned by the late Elissa Landi.

Officer Joseph Fallon notified local police at 4:15 a. m. Sunday that Stevens, the cab driver, was at the sheriff's office and said he had been "forced to drive" Baldwin out of the city.

When the youth got into the cab, the report said, he informed the driver he had no money but he wanted to go to Willow.

Says He Was Forced

The cab driver suggested that they go back to the taxi office and "make arrangements with the boss" for the trip to Willow, and at that time, the report said, Baldwin forced the driver to take him out of the city.

Baldwin left the cab near the point where the Sawkill road intersects Route 28 and was not heard from until the call to police headquarters at 4:50 a. m., from James McCabe of Bright Acres.

The youth told McCabe he wanted to fix a flat tire. Baldwin disappeared from near the door of the house and McCabe drove over the long lane leading to his place from Route 28.

Demanded Entry

When McCabe was away from the house, it is charged, the youth stood near the place with the rifle and ordered Samuel Godfried, McCabe's brother-in-law, to let him into the house.

Mrs. McCabe, when her husband drove back to the house, informed him that the young man had a rifle. Mrs. Godfried was

Dems' Incumbent Has 558 Edge in Governorship Race; Some Counties Still Unreported

Detroit, Nov. 13 (AP)—The lingering see-saw race for the Michigain governorship, still undecided six days after the state election, swung back to the Democratic incumbent G. Mennen Williams today.

A change in the canvassed returns from Macomb county, straightened out by a precinct election board chairman's testimony before canvassers, gave these state totals, with official canvasser still narrowly incomplete.

Williams (D) 935,128.
Harry F. Kelly (R) 934,570.

Thus, with a half dozen of the state's 83 counties still to report their official canvassed figures, Williams takes the lead by a margin of 558 votes over his Republican rival, two-time former Governor Kelly.

Strangely, in the unique mixup resulting from the state's closest governor election in history, Michigan may still not know whom it elected governor—even when inauguration time rolls around Jan. 1.

A formal recount of the state vote seemed certain, and that may take six weeks to complete after the canvassed figures are all in. And canvassers aren't required to report to the secretary of state's office before Dec. 7, thirty days after the voting.

If the state's biggest puzzler in political history isn't solved by Inauguration Day the newly elected lieutenant-governor, Republican State Senator William C. Vanderberg will take over temporarily until the race is settled.

Says It's Too Early

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP)—An American pilot who shot down a Russian-made MIG-15 jet fighter plane in the first battle between jets said today it is too early to determine the merits of the new Communist planes or their pilots. Lt. Russell Brown, 25, of 258 S. Hudson street, Pasadena, Calif., said the man he shot down over Sinuiju last week "made a mistake in judgment." Brown said there has been too little determined dog fighting to say whether the MIG-15s are on a par with American F-80s. He said the Red jets sighted so far are "nice looking planes, brand spanking new."

Reported in Manchuria

Manhattan 'Lock Out' Is Charged

New York, Nov. 13 (AP) — Long distance telephone operators in New York city charged today they were "locked out" when they reported for work after striking equipment workers removed picket lines.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., said that the charge of "lockout is absurd."

In Pittsburgh, mounted police dispersed a crowd of pickets who surrounded a small Bell truck halted in traffic. There were no injuries.

The C.I.O. equipment workers struck against the Bell System in 44 states last Thursday in a dispute over wages and length of contract.

Removal of the picket lines in New York was part of the "hit and run" picketing tactics of the CIO Communications Workers of America to snarl Bell System long distance lines. The flash picketing was designed to catch management unawares and throw long distance service into chaos before enough supervisors can be mobilized to man switchboards.

Report in Three Shifts

The New York operators reported at the A.T. & T. long lines center in three shifts. Large numbers of them—estimated at 1,300—left the building within a short time. They charged they had been told by chief operators to leave after they said they would continue to respect picket lines. They said the company told them they had other workers for the jobs.

The operators' union charged its members were refused work when they declined to sign contracts which would have pledged them to cross picket lines.

The company, in a typewritten statement, said "we are glad to have our employes back if they sincerely wish to help us do the job.

Precision Needed

"Close and precise scheduling of our people is needed in order to meet hour-to-hour service requirements. Before disrupting the team that has done such a splendid job of giving service to the public during the past several days, we merely wish to know that the returning people are prepared to meet this need."

Joseph A. Bierne, CWA head, charged the company's action constituted discrimination and violated the Taft-Hartley Act. He said he planned to take the matter to the National Labor Relations Board.

Meantime, federal mediators said neither union nor management had budged over the weekend in the strike. New talks were set for today in the pay and contract dispute.

Find Glass Bottom

Quonset Point, R. I., Nov. 13 (AP) —The bottom of the bay was as smooth as glass. Navy divers reported yesterday that they found Davy Jones locker full of empties after years of pop bottles tossed overboard from incoming carriers. So far the divers have hauled up more than 5,000 empties, each worth 2 cents. The proceeds were turned over to the Naval air station's welfare and recreation fund.

Fighting Is Active Near Both Coasts

Attack Is Made

North Koreans Battle in Force on Eastern Seaboard

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 13 (AP)—Parka-clad U. S. Marines pushed cautiously five and a half miles through undefended, icy hills toward the great Changjin reservoir today.

While the marines advanced in the center of the front, there was dogged fighting near both coasts.

Back of the front, United Nations forces drew a solid defense line across the narrow waist of Korea. The line was completed by the junction of the Third Division, built up to battle strength by the addition of South Koreans and Puerto Ricans, and the South Korean Eighth Division.

Weather Is Frigid

The advancing marines, bundled like Eskimos, wound through a cork-screw gorge in subzero weather without tank support. Tank tracks churned the mountain road into a soggy mass that bogged down the heavy equipment.

Marine planes flew close cover. Even that was unneeded as the Leathernecks ran into only a scattered handful of Chinese Communists, remnants of the 124th Division, garbed in padded cotton uniforms. The Reds were eliminated without marine loss.

To the west, Communists appeared to be digging in or fighting delayed actions, but on the east coast they swarmed to the attack.

North Koreans guarding the approaches to the Soviet border attacked in force on the east coast Monday under cover of a blinding snowstorm. The Red spearhead battalion was led by tanks and self-propelled guns. It pushed across the Orangchon river, about 90 miles from the Soviet border, threatening to outflank a South Korean regiment.

Cavalry Advances

Near the west coast, U. S. First Cavalry Division units advanced a mile and one-half. That carried them halfway to the walled town of Yongbyon. Patrols reached the walls but did not enter the town.

Heavy Communist resistance stopped over First Cavalry Troops near Won, eight miles southeast of Yongbyon.

And five miles south of Won, an estimated three regiments of Chinese Reds smashed a two mile dent in lines of the South Korean Sixth Division. Allied fighter-bombers halted this drive, killing about 1,000 Reds in a blazing attack two miles south of Kunu. The South Korean Seventh Division moved up to bolster the sixth.

Elements of the U. S. 24th Division advanced up to two miles on the extreme western end of the front, about 18 miles west of Won. An Eighth Army spokesman said this placed them in the vicinity of Tungsan, four miles northeast of Pakchon and about 60 miles southeast of Sinuiju, entryway for Chinese Troops from Manchuria.

Fleets of B-29th ranging back of the fronts hammered again at Sinuiju and set three main supply points aflame with fire bombs.

A spokesman at General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters said both bridges across the Yalu river from Manchuria to Sinuiju were believed knocked out after Monday's attack.

Forty B-29s made the fire attack. They loosed 340 tons of incendiaries on Sakchu and Chosan, on the Yalu river northeast of Sinuiju, and on Namsi. Communications center between Sinuiju and the northwest front.

Three other communications and supply centers were set aflame Sunday in the B-29 scorched earth raids. The air force is methodically burning out Red collection points for men and supplies.

MacArthur's Intelligence Officer said there had been no information for two days on whether Chinese Communists still are sending reinforcements in large numbers across the Yalu. He said the Chinese appeared to be throwing more strength into the central part of the peninsula between the Changjin reservoir and the Yalu river.

Ex-V.F.W. Chief To Address Rally

Clyde Lewis Will Feature Americanism Program in Kingston

Hon. Clyde Lewis, past national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the speaker at the Americanism rally to be held at the Kingston high school auditorium Monday, Nov. 20. The rally, under sponsorship of the Kingston Joint Americanism Committe, also will feature a concert by the West Point Army band under command of Capt. Cotruna.

Prior to the rally at the high school, there will be a parade which will start at 7:30 p. m. from Maiden Lane and Albany avenue and proceed down Broadway to the high school where it will disband. The rally will start at 8:30 p. m.

In the line of march will be the West Point Army Band, the Port Ewen Fife and Drum Corps, the Kingston High School band, the 156th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, and the combined membership of the organizations sponsoring the rally.

At the conclusion of the rally at the high school the U. S. Army band will entertain with a concert.

In early October the group of spirited citizens, under the honorary chairmanship of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, formed the Americanism committee in order to rekindle the fervor of Americans for the ideals which thousands of other Americans have given their lives to preserve. "It had become apparent to the committee that our citizenry had taken the American way of life too much for granted and the Communists were doing a far better selling job with their brand of 'phony democracy' here in the United States and in other countries of the world It was believed a definite need existed to awaken the people of Kingston to the realities of the conditions which confront them nationally and throughout the world in preservation of a democratic way of life," a spokesman of the group said.

Many Croups Assisting

Joseph Koenig was named general chairman, and under his supervision, delegates from the American Legion of Kingston and Port Ewen, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Knights of Columbus, B'nai B'rith, United Commercial Travelers, Kingston Lodge No. 10, F. & A.M., Rondout Lodge No 343, F. & A.M., Elks, Zionist Organization of America, Reserve Officers Association, Marine Corps League, 156th Field Artillery and others planned and developed the rally. Assisting Koenig have been Richard Kalish, Harry Gumaer, Herbert Greenwald, William Reardon and Lawrence Quilty.

With the cooperation of Congressman Jay LeFevre, the committee was fortunate in obtaining

Chief Official Has Appealed to Nehru, Is Report

New Delhi, India, Nov. 13 (AP) —The Hindustan Times reported today that Nepalese insurgents had reached Amlikganj, only 25 miles from Katmandu, capital of the little kingdom bordering Tibet.

The insurgents, members of the Nepalese Congress party which is allied to India's ruling Congress party, have proclaimed their own government in an open rebellion against the all-powerful prime minister who ousted democratically-inclined King Tribhuvana.

Unconfirmed reports from Patna, in nearby Bihar, said the prime minister of Nepal, Maharajah Mohun Shamsher Jang Banadur Rana, had appealed to Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru to mediate the conflict. The Nepalese embassy would neither confirm nor deny the report.

The Hindustan Times also said M P. Koirala, leader of the Nepalese Congress party, was coming to New Delhi to meet King Tribhuvana. He may also seek an interview with Nehru

Is Rail Terminus

Amlikganj is a railway terminus 25 miles from Birganj, second largest town of Nepal, which the insurgents were reported to have seized. Amlikganj is about 25 miles south of Katmandu.

Unconfirmed reports said the insurgents also had captured the airstrip at Semra, 12 miles beyond Birganj.

The Nepalese embassy, however, said the government garrison at Birganj still was resisting the rebels and was being reinforced from Katmandu.

Suicide Guard Watches Over Kidnaper of Child, 9

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 13 (AP)—Dr. Nancy Campbell, 43-year-old Yale-trained woman doctor, was released from jail today on bond pending trial on charges of kidnaping a contractor's nine-year-old daughter.

The $20,000 bond was signed by two doctors and two other property owners: Dr. Charlotte Jones, close friend, Dr. Herbert Ellis, vice-president of the Santa Fe County Medical Association; David Hughes and Walter G. Turley.

Her attorney made immediate plans to send Dr. Campbell to an Albuquerque hospital. The district attorney's office said arraignment on the kidnaping charges, carrying a penalty of five years to death, would be in a week or two.

Through the night, a suicide guard stood watch in Dr. Campbell's jail cell, placed there by her attorney.

Dr. Campbell—dressed in men's clothes—was caught red-handed Saturday night when she reached for $20,000 ransom cash and 30 hidden FBI agents and police rushed her in the darkness.

"I'm only a go-between!" they said she shouted as they hurtled into her, thinking she was a man.

But in her yellow convertible only a few feet away they found her bedraggled victim — blonde Linda Stamm. The little girl was groggy from a dose of sleeping medicine and chilled from exposure to a temperature of 10 degrees above zero, but otherwise unharmed.

Later, after they found two more ransom notes and a 25-caliber pistol in the woman's pockets, the FBI said she ad-

Statement Controls Are Too Harsh Gains Support

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Support for consumer and dealer complaints that the new installment buying controls are too stringent in some cases came today from Senator Frear (D-Del.)

He said he had in mind particularly the recent Federal Reserve Board order requiring a down payment of one-third on automobiles and allowing no more than 15 months to clean up the balance.

"I believe that automobile dealers and car buyers who have been protesting about that probably have a good case," Frear told a reporter. "Those terms seem a little too drastic when automobiles are being produced at the rate they are at present."

Frear said he is inclined to favor relaxing the restriction at least to the extent of permitting payment over 18 instead of 15 months. He said that in no case should the down payment be less than 25 per cent.

The Delaware Senator is a member of the Senate Banking Committee which helped draft the new Economic Controls Law authorizing the Federal Reserve Board to regulate installment buying terms.

The new law also set up a Senate-House "watchdog" committee to study operation of the overall measure. Senator Maybank (D-SC), slated to be chairman, recently announced that the group would start public hearings this week on what he described as "complaints from all over the country" regarding the 15-month pay-off period on automobiles.

Maybank said over the weekend, however, that the hearings will be delayed until the week of Nov. 27, the date the "lame duck" session of the expiring 81st Congress is scheduled to start.

The tightening of credit controls for other commodities has brought some protests, too, but most of the complaints have dealt with automobiles.

As for the general economic picture, Senator Wiley (R-Wis) urged over the week-end that the Senate and House Banking Committees be called back to Washington immediately to consider "the grave inflationary situation." That situation, Wiley declared, "threatens to blow the roof off our economy by skyrocketing prices."

Three Are Injured In Local Crashes

Three persons were injured in two city traffic accidents over the week-end.

Solomon L. Bedford, of 94 Foxhall avenue, suffered a "severe laceration of the lower lip," in a mishap on Grand street near Smith avenue early Sunday and John F. Volk, 52 Maiden Lane and Raymond Smith, of 8 Charlotte Place, were injured Saturday night on East Chester street, according to the police.

Volk's condition was reported as "fairly good" at Kingston Hospital today. The others were also treated at the hospital, Volk for an injury of the right knee and Smith for a laceration of the right knee and a cut on the forehead.

The car, driven by Bedford, headed west on Grand street, was in collision with the rear of a tractor-trailer owned by the Textile Transportation Corp., Hawthorne, N. J., operated by David Brock, of Wyckoff, N. J., and parked opposite 54 Grand street at 12:08 a. m. Sunday. Officer Charles Hoehing investigated.

One car in the other mishap at 7:03 p. m., Saturday was driven by William Kaznowski, of Saugerties. It was parked near the curb at 248 East Chester street. The other, driven by Volk, was headed north on East Chester street, and the report said the driver was "blinded by lights" of a car headed in the opposite direction.

The Volk car was in collision with the Kaznowski auto and also struck a pole of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. The pole was broken by the impact, the report said. The injured were taken to the hospital in a W. N. Conner ambulance. Officers Hoehing, Kenneth Stratton and Francis Fagan investigated.

Says President Healthy

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—A White House aide scoffed today at a published report that President Truman's doctors are giving increasing attention to his health. "That's certainly news to me," Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference. "As far as I know, the President is a very healthy man." Reporters at the news conference had called to the attention of Ross a column by John O'Donnell, published in the New York Daily News.

Plans Are Completed

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Civil defense chiefs of New York state and New Jersey have completed plans to coordinate action by all radio stations in the two states in event of atomic attack. The plans, announced yesterday, include formation of a bi-state information-emergency committee.

Expresses Indifference

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The New York Times reported today that Yugoslavia's imprisoned Roman Catholic prelate, Archbishop Alojzijc Stepinac, in an interview had expressed complete indifference to Premier Marshal Tito's indication that he might be freed.

Employes Are Dismissed

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—City Welfare Commissioner Raymond H. Hilliard said today the department had started suspending and dismissing a "sizeable group of incompetent employes," including some "Communist-minded subversives." Addressing a news conference, he gave no indication of how many persons would comprise the "sizeable group." Three suspensions and two dismissals were announced as of today. Hilliard said the "greatest degree of incompetence" was found "among the few remaining employes who still give allegiance to the Communist-dominated group known as the United Public Workers."

Women in More Accidents

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Women drivers in New York state were involved in 47 per cent more fatal accidents last year than in 1948. The number of men drivers in fatal accidents rose 2.7 per cent. However, the State Motor Vehicle Bureau added in its annual report today that the drivers in the majority of all accidents, fatal and non-fatal, were men. The report noted that there were more men than women drivers and the total mileage driven by men was far greater than the mileage of women.

Tibet Asks Withdrawal

New Delhi, India, Nov. 13 (AP)—Tibet reportedly has called formally on Communist China to withdraw her invading troops to the Tibetan-Chinese frontier. A Tibetan diplomatic delegation in India was said to have made the demand to the Chinese embassy here, declaring that unless it were met the mission would not proceed to China for negotiations on future relations between the two countries.

Apartment House Sold

The three-story brick apartment house property at 108 North Front street has been sold by Joseph Mione and Catherine Mione, his wife, to James C. Plunket, local attorney. The purchaser stated that no immediate changes in the premises were contemplated. The property was acquired for investment purposes. Pescia and Little were the brokers who negotiated the sale.

THE SENSIBLE AGE

When forty years have slipped away
And temples show a patch of gray
We're apt to ease our daily pace
And let our juniors lead the race.

We find that comforts have appeal
When toil decides the way we feel
And home assumes a lovely glow
Because the years have made it so.
We look for warmth in Winter wear
And rules of health are given care
For eager youth and all it means
Belong to happy by-gone scenes.

We're glad to have sufficient rest
To meet our daily tasks with zest
And though we're far from being old
We seldom crave adventures bold.
At every age, there's joy for all
And though our youth builds castles tall
Life still is rich when years depart

Margaret Webster Gets Praise for Met Staging

Woodstock, Nov. 11—Margaret Webster was one of those given particular acclaim for the success of the revival of Verdi's opera "Don Carlo," the production which opened the season of the Metropolitan Opera Monday night. Virgil Thomson, music critic of the New York Herald Tribune wrote the following concerning Miss Webster's staging of the opera: "It's most striking distinction, however, was its visual mounting. Not in many years has so distinguished an investiture of scenery and costumes been designated and executed from scratch for any local production of opera. These were the work, as to design, of Rolf Gerard.

"The stage movements, also distinguished and expressive, had been composed by Margaret Webster. Had not the musical production been excellent, such staging woud have shown it up. Had not the staging, however, not been worthy of the musical production, the evening would have seemed unworthy the history of house. Billy Rose was right all the time. Attention to visual aspect has long been the Met's most pressing need. With this put in order, the musical powers of the company are shown off to advantage. Let us be thankful."

Overlook Unit Plans Meeting Next Tuesday

Woodstock, Nov. 11—The Overlook unit of he Home Bureau will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, Nov. 16, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Provenzano. The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Charles Goodrich and Mrs. Harry Lilger.

The group of 12 members has been making aluminum trays under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach and Mrs. Elizabeth Clough of the Woodstock day unit. The group appreciated the use of Mrs. Reginald Lapo's garage for the two tray classes. As he next project the group is planning to do toothbrush rug making under the supervision of the leader in the craft, Mrs. Barney Dordick.

Met on Tuesday

Water System Report

Woodstock, Nov. 10—The following insert appeared in the quarterly report of the County of Ulster Department of Health: "The Woodstock Water District System has been placed into service. The water as delivered to consumers is of excellent physical and sanitary quality. The supply will be extendd to serve the school under construction and, in the meantime, has been made available at the existing school and school annex, eliminating two polluted water supplies that have given us worries in the past. The department most certainly commends the officials and people handling the affairs of the Woodstock Water District for the final accomplishments in the installation and completion of this very much needed water supply."

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

Every columnist and editorial writer picks on the elections in order to air his views and interpretations. The Ruminator will follow suit, if you don't mind—but he will hold his comments to a somewhat impolite reference to Mr. Truman.

From a human-nature standpoint I think it is going to be most interesting to observe Mr. Harry S. Truman over the coming two years. From the standpoint of the crises that still confront us I fear the elections may prove to have affected the President in a manner that will increase confusion.

Much has been written about the President's brave fight in 1948 to win re-election and to his smiling countenance that seems to be in evidence at all times.

Little has been said, however, about his appalling lack of dignity, his extraordinary trait of coarseness in public addresses, and his demagogic attitude. It is the politician, not the man, who reveals these traits. Mr. Truman, when himself, is a pleasant-appearing, sincere sort of a person—the sort you would expect to meet at the Elks', Masons', or at Rotary luncheons. Yet, when he puts on his acts as a politician he apparently believes that only by lowering himself—as his did so pointedly at St. Louis the Saturday evening prior to election-day—can he gain the following of the masses. (This was obviously and dramatically shown to be wrong in the astounding victory of Senator Taft in Ohio—who never gets out of character or lowers himself to attract any particular group.)

This is not written merely to air my personal views of Mr. Truman's lack of dignity, but to suggest that it will have its bearings on the demeanor and upon the efficiency of the man as he goes forward into 1951 and '52. If you will think back over prominent political leaders of the past you will at once, I think, note that those men of high dignity of office never lost their sense of balance or balance of demeanor when they ran into spells of adversity.

Perhaps the most conspicuous example that comes to mind immediately is Winston Churchill. If you will recall various situations in his long public career you will agree that regardless which way the tide was running—in his favor or against him—he was still the forceful, strong character, whose dignity, patience, and temper, were always under perfect control.

You can think of numerous examples that portray the greatness of dignity. You might consider Herbert Hoover, as no public figure in recent years has been subjected to greater mass criticism, even villification, than Mr. Hoover. Yet, he never loses his decorum. Many will say, of course, that he was too reserved, too upstanding—that is why he failed to get along better politically. However, if he had been president at a time other than during the period of the world's greatest depression, who knows? — he might have well gone down in history as a popular leader.

Times make the man sometimes, as we know.

To get back to Mr. Truman, if you will think of politicians of his type—the fresh, slangy, name-calling group—you will recall they easily lose their tempers when things do not go their way. They blame everyone else ("the no-good 80th Congress") except themselves when they fail to put over their ideas.

The result is that their public service is lessened because their sense of balance is lost.

It is important to think of these things at a time like this, because the world crisis still exists. We are no nearer a solution of the Russian enigma than we were before the elections. American boys are still fighting in Korea. Inflation is still a danger to the nation.

A calm hand is needed in Washington. We cannot take the risks of off-the-cuff comments that stir up animosities, or cause diplomatic misunderstandings.

In consequence, the Ruminator's interpretation of the election results is that they may prove to be more disturbing than is now apparent. Mr. Truman has lost a great deal of power—and he has certainly "lost face." Those of us who are not pro-Truman — who are, to be blunt, what the Fair Dealers call "reactionaries"—we may be pleased with the way the elections went. Nevertheless, we must also be prepared to witness a smiling politician who will lose his smile and become a somewhat frustrated President.

This may be good for the future politics, yet bad for the immediate problems before us.

Will Install Boys' Club Officials at Meeting Tonight

New officers of the Kingston Boys Club will be installed at an open meeting 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Moose Hall, 574 Broadway. County Judge John M. Cashin will be the principal speaker.

Donald Post will be installed as the 1951 president, taking over the office from Kenneth Hotaling. Other officers to be installed are John Cody, vice president, and John Herrick, secretary.

The officers were elected by members of the Kingston Boys Club, which has headquarters at 139 Greenkill avenue. Alexander S. "Pop" Fuhrman, executive director, will make the installations.

Other boys who will guide the club's activities during the coming year include the following:

Ray Van Buren, Kenneth Hotaling and Jerry Krom, leaders.

Workshop leaders will be Kenneth Tyler in charge of woodwork and Vincent Post in charge of model aeroplane construction.

In addition to Judge Cashin's talk, the program will include the showing of a moving picture film secured through Allen Tobias. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, a member of the board of directors, will give the invocation. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, also a member of the board of directors, was in charge of speaker and program for the installation.

Suicide Guard

mitted luring the child away Friday from the Stamm's ranch estate in the wooded outskirts of Santa Fe.

Dr. Campbell, who has a four-year-old adopted son, Rufus, said she was beset with debts and unpaid bills and worried about her elderly parents, both injured in an auto crash last month.

She was formally charged with kidnaping last night and held under $25,000 bond. If convicted, she would face from five years in prison to death in the electric chair under New Mexico's severe kidnap law.

Linda's mother, 32-year-old Mrs. Allen Stamm, was shocked to find the admitted kidnaper was the same respected women's specialist who had delivered her second son, Craig Stamm, just two years ago.

But after her 30-hour ordeal she had little sympathy for Dr. Campbell.

"I hope she will never be free again to bring to others what she has brought to us in heartaches and worry," she said.

Dr. Campbell said she had enticed Linda away from home by promising to take her to her mother—who was at a bridge party. Then she drugged the child at her office, wrapped her in a blanket and left her overnight in an abandoned ranch cabin.

Despite her admissions, personal and professional friends rallied to Dr. Campbell's defense and said she must have been mentally deranged to have done such a thing.

Her attorney, former State Supreme Court Justice A. L. Zinn, said her friends had offered "hundreds of thousands" of dollars for her bond. As soon as he can win her release, he said, he would have her taken to Albuquerque for hospital care.

Zinn and another woman doctor, a friend of the accused, said Dr. Campbell had been under great strain lately and had recently suffered a head injury in a kitchen fall.

They said she talked irrationally after her arrest. FBI agents, however, said she had seemed rational enough to them during their questioning.

Zinn had a nurse placed in Dr. Campbell's cell to watch her continually and guard against any suicide attempt.

Dr. Campbell took jail calmly, asked for something to read, and quietly leafed through magazines that were given to her. She had little to say and kept a firm grip on her feelings. She is a short, mannish-looking woman, with straight brown hair, a deeply lined face, and verging on plumpness.

Santa Fe was thunderstruck to learn the identity of the kidnaper a prominent citizen in this town of about 30,000.

Dr. Campbell, daughter of an army colonel, was born in San Francisco and was an honor graduate of the University of Texas. She took her medical degree at Yale in 1931 — one of the first women to do so, and after her internship came to New Mexico as a doctor for the Indian service. In 1940 she set up private practice in Santa Fe.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Steel stocks attracted the lion's share of buying interest in a generally firm market today.

While a majority of issues were a bit above their closing prices at the last session Friday, it was apparent that the demand for stocks churned up last week by Republican gains in the elections had dwindled considerably.

Trading was quiet enough to make the market strictly a routine affair, although for an hour or so in the morning steel issues were changing hands at a brisk clip. Last week's post-election advance was one of the best rallies of the year.

Motors, rubbers, farm implement, chemicals, rails, utilities and oils also preformed well, although gains generally were counted in cents, with a boost of as much as $1 a rarity on the list.

The interest in steels evidently reflected optimism that the high production rate of recent weeks would be maintained, if not increased.

Four Persons Injured In New Paltz Car Mishap

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, in an automobile accident near New Paltz at 1 a. m. Sunday.

William Gray, 23, of 73 Montgomery street, Poughkeepsie, was taken to Kingston Hospital, where authorities today reported his condition as "serious." The exact extent of his injuries was not revealed.

Also in Kingston Hospital is Eugene Finn, Jr., 21, of 29 Montgomery street, Poughkeepsie, whose condition was reported as "fairly good."

State police said Charles Dow, 21, of Center street, Poughkeepsie, and Orlando Decker, 43, of New Paltz, were also injured. Dow was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment and has been released, while Decker was treated by Dr. Walter F. Rost of New Paltz.

Dow and Gray were passengers in an automobile driven by Finn, Jr., when it collided head-on with Decker's automobile on Route 32 about three miles north of New Paltz, state police said. Troopers said the accident occurred as Finn was attempting to pass a third vehicle whose driver or owner is unknown.

Three Are Injured In Local Crashes

Three persons were injured in two city traffic accidents over the week-end.

Solomon L. Bedford, of 94 Foxhall avenue, suffered a "severe laceration of the lower lip," in a mishap on Grand street near Smith avenue early Sunday and John F. Volk, 52 Maiden Lane and Raymond Smith, of 8 Charlotte Place, were injured Saturday night on East Chester street, according to the police.

Volk's condition was reported as "fairly good" at Kingston Hospital today. The others were also treated at the hospital, Volk for an injury of the right knee and Smith for a laceration of the right knee and a cut on the forehead.

The car, driven by Bedford, headed west on Grand street, was in collision with the rear of a tractor-trailer owned by the Textile Transportation Corp., Hawthorne, N. J., operated by David Brock, of Wyckoff, N. J., and parked opposite 54 Grand street at 12:08 a. m. Sunday. Officer Charles Hoehing investigated.

One car in the other mishap at 7:03 p. m., Saturday was driven by William Kaznowski, of Saugerties. It was parked near the curb at 248 East Chester street. The other, driven by Volk, was headed north on East Chester street, and the report said the driver was "blinded by lights" of a car headed in the opposite direction.

The Volk car was in collision with the Kaznowski auto and also struck a pole of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. The pole was broken by the impact, the report said. The injured were taken to the hospital in a W. N. Conner ambulance. Officers Hoehing, Kenneth Stratton and Francis Fagan investigated.

Says President Healthy

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—A White House aide scoffed today at a published report that President Truman's doctors are giving increasing attention to his health. "That's certainly news to me," Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told a news conference. "As far as I know, the President is a very healthy man." Reporters at the news conference had called to the attention of Ross a column by John O'Donnell, published in the New York Daily News.

Plans Are Completed

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Civil defense chiefs of New York state and New Jersey have completed plans to coordinate action by all radio stations in the two states in event of atomic attack. The plans, announced yesterday, include formation of a bi-state information-emergency committee.

Expresses Indifference

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The New York Times reported today that Yugoslavia's imprisoned Roman Catholic prelate, Archbishop Alojzijc Stepinac, in an interview had expressed complete indifference to Premier Marshal Tito's indication that he might be freed.

Employes Are Dismissed

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—City Welfare Commissioner Raymond H. Hilliard said today the department had started suspending and dismissing a "sizeable group of incompetent employes," including some "Communist-minded subversives." Addressing a news conference, he gave no indication of how many persons would comprise the "sizeable group." Three suspensions and two dismissals were announced as of today. Hilliard said the "greatest degree of incompetence" was found "among the few remaining employes who still give allegiance to the Communist-dominated group known as the United Public Workers."

Women in More Accidents

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Women drivers in New York state were involved in 47 per cent more fatal accidents last year than in 1948. The number of men drivers in fatal accidents rose 2.7 per cent. However, the State Motor Vehicle Bureau added in its annual report today that the drivers in the majority of all accidents, fatal and non-fatal, were men. The report noted that there were more men than women drivers and the total mileage driven by men was far greater than the mileage of women.

Tibet Asks Withdrawal

New Delhi, India, Nov. 13 (AP)—Tibet reportedly has called formally on Communist China to withdraw her invading troops to the Tibetan-Chinese frontier. A Tibetan diplomatic delegation in India was said to have made the demand to the Chinese embassy here, declaring that unless it were met the mission would not proceed to China for negotiations on future relations between the two countries.

Apartment House Sold

The three-story brick apartment house property at 108 North Front street has been sold by Joseph Mione and Catherine Mione, his wife, to James C. Plunket, local attorney. The purchaser stated that no immediate changes in the premises were contemplated. The property was acquired for investment purposes. Pescia and Little were the brokers who negotiated the sale.

Evening Verse—
(For Your Scrapbook)
By DANIEL J. O'CONNOR

THE SENSIBLE AGE

When forty years have slipped away
And temples show a patch of gray
We're apt to ease our daily pace
And let our juniors lead the race.

We find that comforts have appeal
When toil decides the way we feel
And home assumes a lovely glow
Because the years have made it so.
We look for warmth in Winter wear
And rules of health are given care
For eager youth and all it means
Belong to happy by-gone scenes.

We're glad to have sufficient rest
To meet our daily tasks with zest
And though we're far from being old
We seldom crave adventures bold.
At every age, there's joy for all
And though our youth builds castles tall
Life still is rich when years depart

Margaret Webster Gets Praise for Met Staging

Woodstock, Nov. 11—Margaret Webster was one of those given particular acclaim for the success of the revival of Verdi's opera "Don Carlo," the production which opened the season of the Metropolitan Opera Monday night. Virgil Thomson, music critic of the New York Herald Tribune wrote the following concerning Miss Webster's staging of the opera: "It's most striking distinction, however, was its visual mounting. Not in many years has so distinguished an investiture of scenery and costumes been designated and executed from scratch for any local production of opera. These were the work, as to design, of Rolf Gerard.

"The stage movements, also distinguished and expressive, had been composed by Margaret Webster. Had not the musical production been excellent, such staging woud have shown it up. Had not the staging, however, not been worthy of the musical production, the evening would have seemed unworthy the history of house. Billy Rose was right all the time. Attention to visual aspect has long been the Met's most pressing need. With this put in order, the musical powers of the company are shown off to advantage. Let us be thankful."

Overlook Unit Plans Meeting Next Tuesday

Woodstock, Nov. 11—The Overlook unit of he Home Bureau will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, Nov. 16, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Provenzano. The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Charles Goodrich and Mrs. Harry Lilger.

The group of 12 members has been making aluminum trays under the supervision of Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach and Mrs. Elizabeth Clough of the Woodstock day unit. The group appreciated the use of Mrs. Reginald Lapo's garage for the two tray classes. As he next project the group is planning to do toothbrush rug making under the supervision of the leader in the craft, Mrs. Barney Dordick.

Met on Tuesday

Water System Report

Woodstock, Nov. 10—The following insert appeared in the quarterly report of the County of Ulster Department of Health: "The Woodstock Water District System has been placed into service. The water as delivered to consumers is of excellent physical and sanitary quality. The supply will be extendd to serve the school under construction and, in the meantime, has been made available at the existing school and school annex, eliminating two polluted water supplies that have given us worries in the past. The department most certainly commends the officials and people handling the affairs of the Woodstock Water District for the final accomplishments in the installation and completion of this very much needed water supply."

Town Hall Speaker

Woodstock, Nov. 10 — There will be a meeting at the Town Hall next Tuesday, Nov. 14, to which the public is invited to hear the speaker, Mrs. Frederick Elias, director of the Central Hudson District of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc. The meeting will begin at 8 p. m.

Town Roads Refinished

Woodstock, Nov. 11—Les Abrams, of the Peckham Road Corporation of White Plains, and Fred Crowley, resident engineer of Keis and Holroyd, report that the town roads which have been on the course of the water system, have been completely refinished. The county roads will be completed by the end of the week and where cement has had to be replaced, the cement patching is two-thirds finished.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

Every columnist and editorial writer picks on the elections in order to air his views and interpretations. The Ruminator will follow suit, if you don't mind—but he will hold his comments to a somewhat impolite reference to Mr. Truman.

From a human-nature standpoint I think it is going to be most interesting to observe Mr. Harry S. Truman over the coming two years. From the standpoint of the crises that still confront us I fear the elections may prove to have affected the President in a manner that will increase confusion.

Much has been written about the President's brave fight in 1948 to win re-election and to his smiling countenance that seems to be in evidence at all times.

Little has been said, however, about his appalling lack of dignity, his extraordinary trait of coarseness in public addresses, and his demagogic attitude. It is the politician, not the man, who reveals these traits. Mr. Truman, when himself, is a pleasant-appearing, sincere sort of a person—the sort you would expect to meet at the Elks', Masons', or at Rotary luncheons. Yet, when he puts on his acts as a politician he apparently believes that only by lowering himself—as his did so pointedly at St. Louis the Saturday evening prior to election-day—can he gain the following of the masses. (This was obviously and dramatically shown to be wrong in the astounding victory of Senator Taft in Ohio—who never gets out of character or lowers himself to attract any particular group.)

This is not written merely to air my personal views of Mr. Truman's lack of dignity, but to suggest that it will have its bearings on the demeanor and upon the efficiency of the man as he goes forward into 1951 and '52. If you will think back over prominent political leaders of the past you will at once, I think, note that those men of high dignity of office never lost their sense of balance or balance of demeanor when they ran into spells of adversity.

Perhaps the most conspicuous example that comes to mind immediately is Winston Churchill. If you will recall various situations in his long public career you will agree that regardless which way the tide was running—in his favor or against him—he was still the forceful, strong character, whose dignity, patience, and temper, were always under perfect control.

You can think of numerous examples that portray the greatness of dignity. You might consider Herbert Hoover, as no public figure in recent years has been subjected to greater mass criticism, even villification, than Mr. Hoover. Yet, he never loses his decorum. Many will say, of course, that he was too reserved, too upstanding—that is why he failed to get along better politically. However, if he had been president at a time other than during the period of the world's greatest depression, who knows? — he might have well gone down in history as a popular leader.

Times make the man sometimes, as we know.

To get back to Mr. Truman, if you will think of politicians of his type—the fresh, slangy, name-calling group—you will recall they easily lose their tempers when things do not go their way. They blame everyone else ("the no-good 80th Congress") except themselves when they fail to put over their ideas.

The result is that their public service is lessened because their sense of balance is lost.

It is important to think of these things at a time like this, because the world crisis still exists. We are no nearer a solution of the Russian enigma than we were before the elections. American boys are still fighting in Korea. Inflation is still a danger to the nation.

A calm hand is needed in Washington. We cannot take the risks of off-the-cuff comments that stir up animosities, or cause diplomatic misunderstandings.

In consequence, the Ruminator's interpretation of the election results is that they may prove to be more disturbing than is now apparent. Mr. Truman has lost a great deal of power—and he has certainly "lost face." Those of us who are not pro-Truman — who are, to be blunt, what the Fair Dealers call "reactionaries"—we may be pleased with the way the elections went. Nevertheless, we must also be prepared to witness a smiling politician who will lose his smile and become a somewhat frustrated President.

This may be good for the future politics, yet bad for the immediate problems before us.

Will Install Boys' Club Officials at Meeting Tonight

New officers of the Kingston Boys Club will be installed at an open meeting 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Moose Hall, 574 Broadway. County Judge John M. Cashin will be the principal speaker.

Donald Post will be installed as the 1951 president, taking over the office from Kenneth Hotaling. Other officers to be installed are John Cody, vice president, and John Herrick, secretary.

The officers were elected by members of the Kingston Boys Club, which has headquarters at 139 Greenkill avenue. Alexander S. "Pop" Fuhrman, executive director, will make the installations.

Other boys who will guide the club's activities during the coming year include the following:

Ray Van Buren, Kenneth Hotaling and Jerry Krom, leaders.

Workshop leaders will be Kenneth Tyler in charge of woodwork and Vincent Post in charge of model aeroplane construction.

In addition to Judge Cashin's talk, the program will include the showing of a moving picture film secured through Allen Tobias. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, a member of the board of directors, will give the invocation. District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, also a member of the board of directors, was in charge of speaker and program for the installation.

Suicide Guard

mitted luring the child away Friday from the Stamm's ranch estate in the wooded outskirts of Santa Fe.

Dr. Campbell, who has a four-year-old adopted son, Rufus, said she was beset with debts and unpaid bills and worried about her elderly parents, both injured in an auto crash last month.

She was formally charged with kidnaping last night and held under $25,000 bond. If convicted, she would face from five years in prison to death in the electric chair under New Mexico's severe kidnap law.

Linda's mother, 32-year-old Mrs. Allen Stamm, was shocked to find the admitted kidnaper was the same respected women's specialist who had delivered her second son, Craig Stamm, just two years ago.

But after her 30-hour ordeal she had little sympathy for Dr. Campbell.

"I hope she will never be free again to bring to others what she has brought to us in heartaches and worry," she said.

Dr. Campbell said she had enticed Linda away from home by promising to take her to her mother—who was at a bridge party. Then she drugged the child at her office, wrapped her in a blanket and left her overnight in an abandoned ranch cabin.

Despite her admissions, personal and professional friends rallied to Dr. Campbell's defense and said she must have been mentally deranged to have done such a thing.

Her attorney, former State Supreme Court Justice A. L. Zinn, said her friends had offered "hundreds of thousands" of dollars for her bond. As soon as he can win her release, he said, he would have her taken to Albuquerque for hospital care.

Zinn and another woman doctor, a friend of the accused, said Dr. Campbell had been under great strain lately and had recently suffered a head injury in a kitchen fall.

They said she talked irrationally after her arrest. FBI agents, however, said she had seemed rational enough to them during their questioning.

Zinn had a nurse placed in Dr. Campbell's cell to watch her continually and guard against any suicide attempt.

Dr. Campbell took jail calmly, asked for something to read, and quietly leafed through magazines that were given to her. She had little to say and kept a firm grip on her feelings. She is a short, mannish-looking woman, with straight brown hair, a deeply lined face, and verging on plumpness.

Santa Fe was thunderstruck to learn the identity of the kidnaper a prominent citizen in this town of about 30,000.

Dr. Campbell, daughter of an army colonel, was born in San Francisco and was an honor graduate of the University of Texas. She took her medical degree at Yale in 1931 — one of the first women to do so, and after her internship came to New Mexico as a doctor for the Indian service. In 1940 she set up private practice in Santa Fe.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Steel stocks attracted the lion's share of buying interest in a generally firm market today.

While a majority of issues were a bit above their closing prices at the last session Friday, it was apparent that the demand for stocks churned up last week by Republican gains in the elections had dwindled considerably.

Trading was quiet enough to make the market strictly a routine affair, although for an hour or so in the morning steel issues were changing hands at a brisk clip. Last week's post-election advance was one of the best rallies of the year.

Motors, rubbers, farm implement, chemicals, rails, utilities and oils also preformed well, although gains generally were counted in cents, with a boost of as much as $1 a rarity on the list.

The interest in steels evidently reflected optimism that the high production rate of recent weeks would be maintained, if not increased.

Julia Marlowe Dies in New York

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Julia Marlowe, one of the greatest Shakespearian actresses of all time, died yesterday at the age of 85.

With her husband, the late E. H. Sothern, she made up one of the most famous acting partnerships in the history of the American stage. Sothern died in 1933 at the age of 73.

Miss Marlowe died after a brief illness at the Plaza Hotel on Central Park, her home in New York for the last 30 years.

Both she and her husband retired in 1924.

Miss Marlowe was born Sarah Frances Frost in Cumberland, England, and was taken to Kansas as a child by her parents. She later adopted Julia Marlowe as her stage name.

She made her New York debut in 1887 as a star in "Ingomar." She was an instant success.

After an unsuccessful first marriage, she teamd up with Sothern in a stage partnership and married him in 1911.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. (EST) tomorrow in St. James Episcopal Church.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Wife Dies, Husband Is Hurt in Plane Mishap

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—A 29-year-old woman was burned to death and her husband critically injured last night when a private plane crashed at Westchester County Airport, at Rye Lake.

Airport employes were unable to reach the woman, Mrs. Beatrice Lucci, of 1 Brook avenue, Yonkers, N. Y., in the flaming plane.

They dragged her husband, Americo Lucci, 29, away from the plane. He had been thrown partly out of it.

The husband, president of the Lucci Trucking Company in Yonkers, was reported in critical condition today at St. Agnes Hospital here, where he was under treatment for burns and other injuries.

The Luccis' two-passenger plane, with the husband piloting, undershot the runway at the airport, nosed over and burst into flames.

Julia Marlowe Dies in New York

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Julia Marlowe, one of the greatest Shakespearian actresses of all time, died yesterday at the age of 85.

With her husband, the late E. H. Sothern, she made up one of the most famous acting partnerships in the history of the American stage. Sothern died in 1933 at the age of 73.

Miss Marlowe died after a brief illness at the Plaza Hotel on Central Park, her home in New York for the last 30 years.

Both she and her husband retired in 1924.

Miss Marlowe was born Sarah Frances Frost in Cumberland, England, and was taken to Kansas as a child by her parents. She later adopted Julia Marlowe as her stage name.

She made her New York debut in 1887 as a star in "Ingomar." She was an instant success.

After an unsuccessful first marriage, she teamd up with Sothern in a stage partnership and married him in 1911.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. (EST) tomorrow in St. James Episcopal Church.

HIGHLAND

Friday, Nov. 13—The Friday bridge club met this week with Mrs. LeGrand Haviland, Sr.

Attending the wedding at the Reformed Church, New Paltz, of Miss Helen Elting and Ernest Carl Gehle followed by a reception at the Old Fort were Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Farnham, Mr. and Mrs. Sherburne Sears and two daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnham of Poughkeepsie. Miss Elting is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Elting and her mother, the former Miss Ethel Wilklow who lived here and graduated from the local school. The group attending from here were supper guests of Mrs. Sears.

Accompanying the three bus loads of science and Spanish students to New York Monday were Mrs. Albert Wilklow, Mrs. Joseph Sagarese, Mrs. Luther Filkins, Robert Sickler, Mrs. Gladys Mears, the Misses Marie Van Wormer, Antoinette Vanasco.

Mrs. Fred Munroe, Poughkeepsie, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Cramer.

Plans for the entertaining at dinner of the football team of the high school were completed Monday night at the Lions Club dinner meeting at Blossom Farm. This event is held annually and will take place on the next meeting night of the club, Nov. 20 at Blossom Farm Inn. Peter Eurdash presided at the meeting and for entertainment a movie was shown depicting the transformation of a luxury liner into a transport. There were 14 present.

Mrs. Edwin Clark was hostess to a foursome of bridge Thursday afternoon.

The turkey supper served Saturday night by officials of the Methodist Church was attended by 350 persons and $376.56 was realized.

Harold Lyons entered Vassar Hospital Tuesday as did Henry Mackey. Both will receive treatment.

The Highand Teachers Association will present the three-act farce, "Take Your Medicine," Friday, Nov. 17, at 8:15 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The cast includes John C. Miller, Eileen Germiller, Robert Schwerdt, Helen Weiland, Mary Gaffney, Mary Coughlin, June Thorne, Kenneth Watson, Henry Howard, Marie Van Wormer, Rose Symes, Virginia Hoffman. The play is directed by Philip Woodard, assisted by Eileen Kearney. Chairmen of the various committees are: Properties, Antoinette Vanasco; scenery, Peter Rider; lights and curtain, A. Herbert Campbell; make-up, John Crowley; music, Kenneth Watson; tickets, Martha Benesch; ushers, Edna Curry; programs, Marian Thompson; printing of tickets, Rose Symes. Tickets are being sold by the pupils and proceeds will be used for the association's scholarship fund which was established two years ago to give recognition to an outstanding senior. In 1949 the recipient was Lorraine Ose and in 1950 Ledgard Ball.

John Crowley, accompanied by Michael Fiorie, spent the weekend at Mr. Crowley's home in Wilmington.

The 89th birthday of Mrs. J. D. Palmatier was observed Thursday when her daughters, Mrs. Alfred Lane and Mrs. Ruth Smalley, entertained at dinner with Mrs. Leila Newberry and Mrs. Laura Baird, Poughkeepsie, as guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nace represented the Highland Grange at the state meeting in Elmira last week.

"Music and Romance" was the subject of the program for the Music Study Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William H. Maynard. Miss Rose Symes arranged the program with the opening number, Melody of Love, Engleman, Mrs. N. D. Williams, Miss Edna Curry; vocal solos, Let My Song Fill Your Heart, Charles, and Song Is So Old, Terry, Mrs. Arthur Kurtz; vocal solo, Who Is Sylvia, Schubert, Mrs. Irving Clarke; piano solo, Venetian Love Song, Nevin, also a reading on Nevin, Mrs. Maynard; vocal solo, The Rosary, with a story about the Rosary, and None But the Lonely Heart, Mrs. Gladys Mears; Mrs. Albert Thompson, unable to attend, sent two records, Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata played by Horowitz and a reading on Beethoven read by Mrs. Franklin Welker. Refreshments were served to the 12 members attending. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Oliver Kent.

Wife Dies, Husband Is Hurt in Plane Mishap

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—A 29-year-old woman was burned to death and her husband critically injured last night when a private plane crashed at Westchester County Airport, at Rye Lake.

Airport employes were unable to reach the woman, Mrs. Beatrice Lucci, of 1 Brook avenue, Yonkers, N. Y., in the flaming plane.

They dragged her husband, Americo Lucci, 29, away from the plane. He had been thrown partly out of it.

The husband, president of the Lucci Trucking Company in Yonkers, was reported in critical condition today at St. Agnes Hospital here, where he was under treatment for burns and other injuries.

The Luccis' two-passenger plane, with the husband piloting, undershot the runway at the airport, nosed over and burst into flames.

MODERATES IN THE SADDLE

Looking ahead to the likely effects of the Republicans' triumph at the polls, you can conclude that it was a victory of marked importance.

To be sure, it was landslide. The GOP gains of five U. S. Senate seats, close to thirty House seats and seven governorships ran fairly near the expected off-year trend for the minority.

It was nevertheless highly significant for these reasons:

1. Republicans mowed down President Truman's top Senate command. Stalwarts who fell included Lucas of Illinois, majority leader; Myers of Pennsylvania, majority whip; Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the vital Armed Services Committee, and Thomas of Utah, chairman of the Labor Committee and sponsor of Taft-Hartley repeal and the Truman health program.

This means that from now to 1952 the President will have to entrust his legislative proposals to new and largely untried leadership. And it's possible the battle for the top posts may leave some scars on the contestants.

2. By cutting Democratic margins from twelve to two in the Senate, the GOP virtually destroyed effective working control in that body. In the past, coalitions of southern Democrats and northern Republicans have often ganged up on Mr. Truman. Now he'll be lucky to get anything through except must appropriations, military measures and limited foreign aid. He's virtually stymied from here on.

3. Wherever the campaign tapped strong fears of communism, either in government or elsewhere, the Republicans generally triumphed. On this issue Tydings went down to defeat in Maryland, Representative Helen Douglas in California, and to some extent the Democratic nominees for the Senate in Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Utah.

4. The election results were a stiff blow to labor as a political campaigner. Labor's all-out drive to smash Senator Taft in Ohio collapsed completely as the GOP leader swept to victory by more than 430,000 votes, his best showing of all time. Elsewhere, labor's efforts produced mixed and inconclusive results.

5. Surprisingly, top Republican candidates across the nation ran well in the big cities, normally rated heavily Democratic. Governor Dewey in New York City, Illinois' Senator-elect Dirksen in Chicago, the California nominees in Los Angeles and Taft in Cleveland, Cincinnati and other Ohio cities all demonstrated great strength.

Plainly, some major housecleaning is in order in these communities if regular Democratic organizations are to regain their former power and efficiency.

In Taft's case, his heavy city vote can mean only that he captured a sizable block of labor votes despite all organized labor could do to deliver the vote to his opponent. The Taft election is a story in itself, deserving of detailed study later.

6. The heavy rural turn-out indicates Republicans were successful in stimulating farmer interest in the election, in spite of outward signs of apathy. But it isn't clear yet just how much the GOP benefitted from this effort generally.

All in all, the election did not give the Republicans a mandate to do anything for themselves. It did little to encourage their more extremely conservative elements, except perhaps in the field of Red-chasing. But it did give them the strength to resist stoutly the other extremes as well. As it translates into power in Congress, this was a victory for moderates on both sides of the fence.

CLOTHING FROM CORN

The progress America has made in the production of food is suggested by the fact that a process has been patented for making a strong fibre, from corn, suitable for weaving into cloth comparable with wool in quality.

In the early days of American settlement, corn was one of the chief staples of food, and was highly valued. A relatively large amount of useful, readily preserved food could be produced on a given plot, and corn could be grown with comparative ease and certainty since it was native to the land.

In those days food was often scarce. Starvation was no stranger in the first winters of a colony. Now food is so plentiful that we search for ways to make clothing, and countless other things, from it. This is quite a change.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE EXPERTNESS OF NONSENSE

Now that Soviet China is making war on us, it might be profitable to consider some of the extraordinarily curious notions that have, over the years, beffuddled our relations with the countries of east Asia, where our boys are fighting and dying.

One of the most catastrophic concepts, propounded by State Department experts, has been the need for "reform." This idea is an emanation of the World War 2 policy that there are good dictators and bad dictators, good countries and bad countries, and that somehow we must make the bad ones over in our image. That concept was given the all-embracing term, democracy.

By "reform," we had come to mean that each land, no matter what its traditions, must hold an election resembling perhaps the fracas in New York city this year, and must install a bookkeeping system based on I.B.M. machines. Many countries in the world have no predisposition for such reforms and grow antagonistic to the United States when the subject is stressed. The recent outburst in the Philippines thereanent was characteristic of the East Asian attitude toward "reform."

If our objective is to use those countries as bases for the defense of our land, to contain our enemy and to lessen his effectivenes, then we have to take what we get there and do the best with the material available. That, it seems to me, is common sense.

Professor John K. Fairbank, of Harvard, who is one of the Institute of Pacific relations experts on Asia, had this to say:

"My own conclusion is that the effort to ally ourselves with 'nationalism' in Asia and to use it as a bulwark against comunism is a will-o'-the wisp unles we combine 'nationalism' with 'reform' in a very specific and sophisticated manner. In the final analysis 'reform' is the more fundamental force. The effort to comprehend the nature of the revolutionary process in Asia is the most pressing necessity in our current mobilization."

This paragraph begs the question of our present task, which is to prevent Soviet Russia from creating so preponderant a power that resistance to her will become impossible. Already, Soviet Russia holds the initiative in war by geographical advantage and by superior numbers, speedily mobilized. Our advantage is manufacturing facilities which Soviet Russia could, in time, equal. Her problem is time; our problem is to find allies for increased manpower and closer bases.

If we make it too difficult for our allies by preconceptions as to their purity of heart, we shall have no allies in the end. Once Russia equals our productivity, our advantage is gone and our defensive capacity will be imperiled.

This is our problem and we need to face it realistically. China has been in a state of reform since Confucius; it has practically been at war since then. In the past 100 years, many reform movements appeared in China: the Taiping rebellion; the Boxer rebellion; the Tungmenhui; the Kuomintang; the reform movement of Kang Yu-wei and Liang Chi-chao—and many movements. All countries nearly always require reform.

However, it is impossible to achieve great reforms, even within the traditions of a people, and at the same time, hold off foreign colonialism, foreign wars and indigenous civil wars. When the wealth of a people is being expended on war, it cannot be expended on much else. This we have been witnessing even in the "rich" United States.

So the reforms did not amount to much at any time; in fact, the impact of the west upon China since the 1830's produced a degenerative tendency in that country; the old ways withering; the new ways not fructifying.

Profesor Fairbank also had this to say:

". . . The use of our China policy as a political football in the contest between the Republican and Democratic parties has ben regretable, if not indeed disastrous; but it could hardly have occurred if the American public had been united in its understanding of the revolutionary process in China."

But that is altogether untrue. In fact, exactly the opposite is true, namely, that the widespread discussion of our East Asian policy in Congress and in the press has made the American people aware that serious blunders had been made and gave ample warning that the policy of error, conceived by Alger Hiss and his associates, had to be reversed. It was too late, however, to save us from bloodshed.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

FLOW OF DIGESTIVE JUICES

I write often about the great value to health of eating a good breakfast, a breakfast which, in addition to cereal, toast, fruit and a beverage, should include some animal protein food—meat, egg, fish or milk. The addition of the protein food enables the individual to continue his work right through to the noon hour, whereas a breakfast without some protein usually means a tired feeling about 11 a. m.

One of the reasons why we should eat breakfast before going to work is that food in the stomach stimulates movement of the stomach walls which, in turn, stimulate the small intestine into which the stomach empties. The small intestine, in turn, stimulates action of the large intestine which means that wastes from food, which have gathered in the large intestine, get moved downwards and out of the body before the individual goes to work. This is the ideal time for bowel movement. In addition to stimulating movement of the stomach walls, food stimulates the flow of stomach juices by creating a chemical substance called gastrin, according to Dr. Lester R. Dragstedt and his associates, University of Chicago, in Proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine. This lends support to the theory proposed by the English scientist J. S. Edkins. The gastrin is thought to arise in the antrum, the bottom part of the stomach. Just how the lower part of the stomach causes the abundant flow of gastric juice is not known. The gastrin is thought to arise in the antrum and be taken into the blood stream. Through the blood it stimulates the glands in the other part of the stomach and causes the increased flow of stomach digestive juice.

While there is such a thing as the stomach manufacturing too much gastric (stomach) juice and thus causing ulcers, nevertheless, for the average healthy individual a good flow of stomach digestive juices, to digest food in the stomach to the point where the digestive juices of the small intestine prepare it for absorption into the blood, means good health.

This new knowledge, that the lower part of the stomach is the part that stimulates the flow of stomach digestive juices, may prove of great value to mankind.

You Never Can Tell When Someone'll Pick 'Em Up

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Despite the slim Democratic margin in the new Congress, a little personal friction cropped up between the President and his congressional leaders one day after election over the question of calling Congress back before Thanksgiving.

Vice President Barkley even went so far as to serve notice that he would ignore any early call of Congress and stay home. This notice was served on the President through Senate Secretary Les Biffle, who talked to Barkley at his home in Paducah, Ky., then to Truman on the presidential yacht Williamsburg.

Other Senate leaders—Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois and Republican Leader Ken Wherry of Nebraska — also passed word through Biffle that they were dead set against an early session. This could be the beginning of a serious feud between the President and Congress.

The President, however, was noncommittal. All he told Biffle was that we wanted to talk the matter over personally with the leaders before making his decision.

The message which Barkley sent was that he needed a vacation and intended to take it, no matter what Truman decided. The vice president complained that he was worn out from his whirlwind campaign tour, which included three to five speeches daily and a phenomental windup of 14 speeches on the day before election.

Wherry, phoning Biffle from his home in Pawnee City, Neb., also reported that he expected to take a vacation. Another anxious call came from Sen. Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, who said he was planning a trip through Central America to inspect the Pan-American highway and didn't want Congress called back early.

Supreme Court Resignation??

President Truman and Chief Justice Fred Vinson talked like Dutch uncles to restless Justice William O. Douglas the other day when he told them he wanted to resign from the Supreme Court.

Vinson, who feels keenly about the court's prestige, and also has a high regard for the sharp and original mind of Douglas, said severely, "I think it would be improper for you to resign and go into law for at least two years."

Then, in a kindlier vein, the owl-eyed Kentuckian added: "Besides, Bill, the court really needs your point of view. The whole country would suffer if you resigned."

When Justice Douglas went to the White House, Mr. Truman was tipped off in advance by the chief justice that Douglas wanted to resign. So the President was ready for him.

"The biggest problem I have is to get good people to come into Washington," he told Douglas. "It's pretty discouraging. If you resigned, my job would be a lot harder. We need you on the court."

Note—Columbia University has sounded out Douglas about becoming General Eisenhower's successor after January 1. Douglas has also toyed with the idea of going into private law practice on his own.

Russian Jets

Russian MIG-15 jets are playing a deadly game of cat-and-mouse across the Manchurian border.

Knowing that Manchuria is out-of-bounds for Americans, Red pilots climb to dizzy altitudes, carefully staying inside Chinese territory—then pounce upon unsuspecting American patrols just across the border. In the same dive, the Russian jets swoop back to the safety of Manchuria before American pilots can give chase.

Under strict orders not to cross the Manchurian boundary, the Americans try to lure the marauding jets into their gunsights, but seldom get more than a few second crack at them.

Until recently, American pilots were ordered not to fly within 30 miles of Manchuria. This was reduced to three miles, as the United Nations forces thrust northward. However, the order was rescinded entirely last week, and our pilots are permitted to chase enemy jets right up to the border—though not one inch across it.

Millionaire Senator

A stooped, gray-haired man was slowly pushing his tray along the counter of the Senate cafeteria. Carefully he stopped, looked over all the dishes, then selected one.

Behind him, a young, blonde stenographer grew impatient, purposely banged her tray against his tray.

"Don't do that," a clerk whispered loudly. "He's a senator."

The girl looked over the mild little man and replied skeptically: "He doesn't look like one."

Navy-Air Feud Cools

Just as another full-scale navy-air force feud was about to pop off, top admirals and generals got together secretly the other day and swore not to knife each other any more.

The secret conference was held between wise Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, and astute Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, though afterward their press chiefs, Rear Adm. Robert Hickey and Brig. Gen. Sory Smith, also shook on it.

Specifically they agreed not to criticize each other's weapons nor to leak news stories undermining each other.

To enforce this and keep rebellious admirals in line, Admiral Sherman sent a strong directive to all naval commands, reminding them bluntly that navy policy is to cooperate with its sister services. The air force also passed the word through its press branch to underlings down the line.

However, the most encouraging step was taken by Secretary of the Navy Matthews and Admiral Sherman, who also laid down the law to Frank Hecht, president of the Navy League. This is the civilian propaganda arm of the navy, which has been secretly plotting a campaign against the air force with a view to stripping the air force of tactful aviation and returning it to the army. The Navy League also was mapping a campaign in Congress and the press to place the marine corps commandant on the joint chiefs of staff, thus giving the navy an extra vote.

Hecht had already outlined this plan of action to navy partisans at closed-door meetings across the country. However, at a private dinner with Matthews and Sherman at the Carlton Hotel last week, Hecht pledged to work for unification and goodwill instead.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I may seem to be laboring the case of the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League and the Society for the Prevention of World War 3, but I should like to explain that these twin organizations together constitute a force of the most sinister potentialities.

The one operates a gum-shoe detective service whose secret agents plant themselves in confidential jobs and resort to black treachery against trusting employers whom they are out to "get" for any reason sufficient to the league. The other group, the Society for th Prevention of World War 3, abuses individuals who disagree with the Morgenthau Plan to turn over to the military forces of Soviet Russia all Germany, and eventually all Europe.

Under the Morgenthau Plan, the Armed Forces of the United States and Great Britain would have been taken out of Germany long ago, leaving the military occupation to Germany's "continental neighbors." The late Harry Dexter White is believed by some persons to have written the Morgenthau Plan. He was named in testimony as one of the Communist traitors who were planted in the government. This plan would have been consistent with the duties of a man in that role. However, if Morgenthau has changed his mind about the wisdom of turning all Europe over to Russia without resistance, as some other members of the society for the prevention have, he has said nothing about it.

Because the membership of the society is secret, one is unable to poll the members to learn who has quit. However, I have been in touch with a few individuals and observe with interest that all but one of them have quit the society.

Norman Littell, a New Deal Washington lawyer, was attorney for Isidore Lipschutz, the financial backer of both groups, and testified for him as a character witness in his naturalization process. Littell resigned two years ago. He couldn't keep up with its activities so he could not conscientiously continue to lend his name. He said it was news to him that Lipschutz's anti-Nazi league employed professional sneaks to spy on individuals and organizations. He had never heard of Dorothy Waring, Richard Rollins, Joseph Brandt or Mario Buzzi, who were employed for such work by the league. When I inquired whether knowledge of these facts would change his opinion of Lipschutz he said he would not approve of anything wrong. He did not meet the question head-on.

"It has always been my impression that Lipschutz was the principal financial backer of the Society for the Prevention of World War 3," he said. When he was told that Mark Van Doren, a Columbia professor listed as chairman of the board of the society, professed not to know whether it had a constitution, how it raised its money or whether there was a physical list of members, Mr. Littell said: "I am astonished. I think he may have been trying to evade the inquiry."

He volunteered no possible reason why a pretentious intellectual teaching in Columbia University, or any reasonably honest man, should not tell the truth about the society. Van Doren is listed in connection with many organizations of the kind which drew the official attention of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

He thought Lipschutz was a very brave man. As to the source of his wealth, he said Lipschutz was the head of the "diamond syndicate" in Europe and had been cited by King Leopold of Belguim.

"My opinion of the rearming of Germany is changing," he said. "We have got a new menace on the east."

The league savagely opposes proposals to rearm Germany and reacts angrily even to proposals to treat the German people humanely.

Herbert Bayard Swope, of New York, said he had resigned. He was sympathetic wit' the efforts of High Commissioner Jahn J. McCloy in Germany and he believed the society held that all who disagreed with it were "evil." He now believed that Germany should be rearmed to meet the new situation. He said he had always been skeptical concerning Mr. Lipschutz.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, of Washington, said she resigned in the spring of this year "because they got out something I didn't like.

"I didn't go along with them latterly," she said. "I think they went too far." She said she had never heard of any espionage activities by the Anti-Nazi League such as are revealed in past congressional hearings and in writings by the league's detectives.

Edgar Ansel Mowrer, of Washington, a journalist of long foreign experience, said he resigned because "in view of the developing situation it no longer had a useful purpose."

Although he is an "observer" of affairs, he had never heard or read of espionage by the nonsectarian league, which has been publicized, however, for years.

Louis Bromfield, who is listed on the society's "advisory council" this year, wrote:

"I have no records of having given my name but it is not impossible. A great many of these people send a letter saying that if I do not hear from you I will assume it is agreeable. I do not know where you could get a statement of the financial affairs of the society. I have just about come to the conclusion that it is impossible to give one's name, even to an organization which believes the sun will rise tomorrow."

Van Doren had said that his interest was attracted to the society by Rex Stout, of the Friends of Democracy, a similar, and to some extent overlapping, propaganda front. Stout, however, said he had recently resigned from the official roster of the society but had not resigned his membership. He had never heard of espionage by the anti-Nazi league. He asked for documentary references, which were given, and indicated that he would strongly repudiate such practices. However, against that declaration lies the fact that his own friends of democracy employed a phony detective and notorious professional liar known by the alias of John Roy Carlson. United States Judge John P. Barnes, of Chicago, condemned Carlson as "a wholly irresponsible person who was willing to say anything for money."

"I wouldn't believe him on oath," Judge Barnes added, "now or at any time hereafter."

MODERATES IN THE SADDLE

Looking ahead to the likely effects of the Republicans' triumph at the polls, you can conclude that it was a victory of marked importance.

To be sure, it was landslide. The GOP gains of five U. S. Senate seats, close to thirty House seats and seven governorships ran fairly near the expected off-year trend for the minority.

It was nevertheless highly significant for these reasons:

1. Republicans mowed down President Truman's top Senate command. Stalwarts who fell included Lucas of Illinois, majority leader; Myers of Pennsylvania, majority whip; Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the vital Armed Services Committee, and Thomas of Utah, chairman of the Labor Committee and sponsor of Taft-Hartley repeal and the Truman health program.

This means that from now to 1952 the President will have to entrust his legislative proposals to new and largely untried leadership. And it's possible the battle for the top posts may leave some scars on the contestants.

2. By cutting Democratic margins from twelve to two in the Senate, the GOP virtually destroyed effective working control in that body. In the past, coalitions of southern Democrats and northern Republicans have often ganged up on Mr. Truman. Now he'll be lucky to get anything through except must appropriations, military measures and limited foreign aid. He's virtually stymied from here on.

3. Wherever the campaign tapped strong fears of communism, either in government or elsewhere, the Republicans generally triumphed. On this issue Tydings went down to defeat in Maryland, Representative Helen Douglas in California, and to some extent the Democratic nominees for the Senate in Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Utah.

4. The election results were a stiff blow to labor as a political campaigner. Labor's all-out drive to smash Senator Taft in Ohio collapsed completely as the GOP leader swept to victory by more than 430,000 votes, his best showing of all time. Elsewhere, labor's efforts produced mixed and inconclusive results.

5. Surprisingly, top Republican candidates across the nation ran well in the big cities, normally rated heavily Democratic. Governor Dewey in New York City, Illinois' Senator-elect Dirksen in Chicago, the California nominees in Los Angeles and Taft in Cleveland, Cincinnati and other Ohio cities all demonstrated great strength.

Plainly, some major housecleaning is in order in these communities if regular Democratic organizations are to regain their former power and efficiency.

In Taft's case, his heavy city vote can mean only that he captured a sizable block of labor votes despite all organized labor could do to deliver the vote to his opponent. The Taft election is a story in itself, deserving of detailed study later.

6. The heavy rural turn-out indicates Republicans were successful in stimulating farmer interest in the election, in spite of outward signs of apathy. But it isn't clear yet just how much the GOP benefitted from this effort generally.

All in all, the election did not give the Republicans a mandate to do anything for themselves. It did little to encourage their more extremely conservative elements, except perhaps in the field of Red-chasing. But it did give them the strength to resist stoutly the other extremes as well. As it translates into power in Congress, this was a victory for moderates on both sides of the fence.

CLOTHING FROM CORN

The progress America has made in the production of food is suggested by the fact that a process has been patented for making a strong fibre, from corn, suitable for weaving into cloth comparable with wool in quality.

In the early days of American settlement, corn was one of the chief staples of food, and was highly valued. A relatively large amount of useful, readily preserved food could be produced on a given plot, and corn could be grown with comparative ease and certainty since it was native to the land.

In those days food was often scarce. Starvation was no stranger in the first winters of a colony. Now food is so plentiful that we search for ways to make clothing, and countless other things, from it. This is quite a change.

'These Days'

THE EXPERTNESS OF NONSENSE

Now that Soviet China is making war on us, it might be profitable to consider some of the extraordinarily curious notions that have, over the years, beffuddled our relations with the countries of east Asia, where our boys are fighting and dying.

One of the most catastrophic concepts, propounded by State Department experts, has been the need for "reform." This idea is an emanation of the World War 2 policy that there are good dictators and bad dictators, good countries and bad countries, and that somehow we must make the bad ones over in our image. That concept was given the all-embracing term, democracy.

By "reform," we had come to mean that each land, no matter what its traditions, must hold an election resembling perhaps the fracas in New York city this year, and must install a bookkeeping system based on I.B.M. machines. Many countries in the world have no predisposition for such reforms and grow antagonistic to the United States when the subject is stressed. The recent outburst in the Philippines thereanent was characteristic of the East Asian attitude toward "reform."

If our objective is to use those countries as bases for the defense of our land, to contain our enemy and to lessen his effectivenes, then we have to take what we get there and do the best with the material available. That, it seems to me, is common sense.

Professor John K. Fairbank, of Harvard, who is one of the Institute of Pacific relations experts on Asia, had this to say:

"My own conclusion is that the effort to ally ourselves with 'nationalism' in Asia and to use it as a bulwark against comunism is a will-o'-the wisp unles we combine 'nationalism' with 'reform' in a very specific and sophisticated manner. In the final analysis 'reform' is the more fundamental force. The effort to comprehend the nature of the revolutionary process in Asia is the most pressing necessity in our current mobilization."

This paragraph begs the question of our present task, which is to prevent Soviet Russia from creating so preponderant a power that resistance to her will become impossible. Already, Soviet Russia holds the initiative in war by geographical advantage and by superior numbers, speedily mobilized. Our advantage is manufacturing facilities which Soviet Russia could, in time, equal. Her problem is time; our problem is to find allies for increased manpower and closer bases.

If we make it too difficult for our allies by preconceptions as to their purity of heart, we shall have no allies in the end. Once Russia equals our productivity, our advantage is gone and our defensive capacity will be imperiled.

This is our problem and we need to face it realistically. China has been in a state of reform since Confucius; it has practically been at war since then. In the past 100 years, many reform movements appeared in China: the Taiping rebellion; the Boxer rebellion; the Tungmenhui; the Kuomintang; the reform movement of Kang Yu-wei and Liang Chi-chao—and many movements. All countries nearly always require reform.

However, it is impossible to achieve great reforms, even within the traditions of a people, and at the same time, hold off foreign colonialism, foreign wars and indigenous civil wars. When the wealth of a people is being expended on war, it cannot be expended on much else. This we have been witnessing even in the "rich" United States.

So the reforms did not amount to much at any time; in fact, the impact of the west upon China since the 1830's produced a degenerative tendency in that country: the old ways withering: the new ways not fructifying.

Profesor Fairbank also had this to say:

". . . The use of our China policy as a political football in the contest between the Republican and Democratic parties has ben regretable, if not indeed disastrous; but it could hardly have occurred if the American public had been united in its understanding of the revolutionary process in China."

But that is altogether untrue. In fact, exactly the opposite is true, namely, that the widespread discussion of our East Asian policy in Congress and in the press has made the American people aware that serious blunders had been made and gave ample warning that the policy of error, conceived by Alger Hiss and his associates, had to be reversed. It was too late, however, to save us from bloodshed.

That Body of Yours

FLOW OF DIGESTIVE JUICES

I write often about the great value to health of eating a good breakfast, a breakfast which, in addition to cereal, toast, fruit and a beverage, should include some animal protein food—meat, egg, fish or milk. The addition of the protein food enables the individual to continue his work right through to the noon hour, whereas a breakfast without some protein usually means a tired feeling about 11 a. m.

One of the reasons why we should eat breakfast before going to work is that food in the stomach stimulates movement of the stomach walls which, in turn, stimulate the small intestine into which the stomach empties. The small intestine, in turn, stimulates action of the large intestine which means that wastes from food, which have gathered in the large intestine, get moved downwards and out of the body before the individual goes to work. This is the ideal time for bowel movement. In addition to stimulating movement of the stomach walls, food stimulates the flow of stomach juices by creating a chemical substance called gastrin, according to Dr. Lester R. Dragstedt and his associates, University of Chicago, in Proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine. This lends support to the theory proposed by the English scientist J. S. Edkins. The gastrin is thought to arise in the antrum, the bottom part of the stomach. Just how the lower part of the stomach causes the abundant flow of gastric juice is not known. The gastrin is thought to arise in the antrum and be taken into the blood stream. Through the blood it stimulates the glands in the other part of the stomach and causes the increased flow of stomach digestive juice.

While there is such a thing as the stomach manufacturing too much gastric (stomach) juice and thus causing ulcers, nevertheless, for the average healthy individual a good flow of stomach digestive juices, to digest food in the stomach to the point where the digestive juices of the small intestine prepare it for absorption into the blood, means good health.

This new knowledge, that the lower part of the stomach is the part that stimulates the flow of stomach digestive juices, may prove of great value to mankind.

You Never Can Tell When Someone'll Pick 'Em Up

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Despite the slim Democratic margin in the new Congress, a little personal friction cropped up between the President and his congressional leaders one day after election over the question of calling Congress back before Thanksgiving.

Vice President Barkley even went so far as to serve notice that he would ignore any early call of Congress and stay home. This notice was served on the President through Senate Secretary Les Biffle, who talked to Barkley at his home in Paducah, Ky., then to Truman on the presidential yacht Williamsburg.

Other Senate leaders—Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois and Republican Leader Ken Wherry of Nebraska — also passed word through Biffle that they were dead set against an early session. This could be the beginning of a serious feud between the President and Congress.

The President, however, was noncommittal. All he told Biffle was that we wanted to talk the matter over personally with the leaders before making his decision.

The message which Barkley sent was that he needed a vacation and intended to take it, no matter what Truman decided. The vice president complained that he was worn out from his whirlwind campaign tour, which included three to five speeches daily and a phenomental windup of 14 speeches on the day before election.

Wherry, phoning Biffle from his home in Pawnee City, Neb., also reported that he expected to take a vacation. Another anxious call came from Sen. Dennis Chavez, New Mexico Democrat, who said he was planning a trip through Central America to inspect the Pan-American highway and didn't want Congress called back early.

Supreme Court Resignation??

President Truman and Chief Justice Fred Vinson talked like Dutch uncles to restless Justice William O. Douglas the other day when he told them he wanted to resign from the Supreme Court.

Vinson, who feels keenly about the court's prestige, and also has a high regard for the sharp and original mind of Douglas, said severely, "I think it would be improper for you to resign and go into law for at least two years."

Then, in a kindlier vein, the owl-eyed Kentuckian added: "Besides, Bill, the court really needs your point of view. The whole country would suffer if you resigned."

When Justice Douglas went to the White House, Mr. Truman was tipped off in advance by the chief justice that Douglas wanted to resign. So the President was ready for him.

"The biggest problem I have is to get good people to come into Washington," he told Douglas. "It's pretty discouraging. If you resigned, my job would be a lot harder. We need you on the court."

Note—Columbia University has sounded out Douglas about becoming General Eisenhower's successor after January 1. Douglas has also toyed with the idea of going into private law practice on his own.

Russian Jets

Russian MIG-15 jets are playing a deadly game of cat-and-mouse across the Manchurian border.

Knowing that Manchuria is out-of-bounds for Americans, Red pilots climb to dizzy altitudes, carefully staying inside Chinese territory—then pounce upon unsuspecting American patrols just across the border. In the same dive, the Russian jets swoop back to the safety of Manchuria before American pilots can give chase.

Under strict orders not to cross the Manchurian boundary, the Americans try to lure the marauding jets into their gunsights, but seldom get more than a few second crack at them.

Until recently, American pilots were ordered not to fly within 30 miles of Manchuria. This was reduced to three miles, as the United Nations forces thrust northward. However, the order was rescinded entirely last week, and our pilots are permitted to chase enemy jets right up to the border—though not one inch across it.

Millionaire Senator

A stooped, gray-haired man was slowly pushing his tray along the counter of the Senate cafeteria. Carefully he stopped, looked over all the dishes, then selected one.

Behind him, a young, blonde stenographer grew impatient, purposely banged her tray against his tray.

"Don't do that," a clerk whispered loudly. "He's a senator."

The girl looked over the mild little man and replied skeptically: "He doesn't look like one."

Navy-Air Feud Cools

Just as another full-scale navy-air force feud was about to pop off, top admirals and generals got together secretly the other day and swore not to knife each other any more.

The secret conference was held between wise Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, and astute Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, though afterward their press chiefs, Rear Adm. Robert Hickey and Brig. Gen. Sory Smith, also shook on it.

Specifically they agreed not to criticize each other's weapons nor to leak news stories undermining each other.

To enforce this and keep rebellious admirals in line, Admiral Sherman sent a strong directive to all naval commands, reminding them bluntly that navy policy is to cooperate with its sister services. The air force also passed the word through its press branch to underlings down the line.

However, the most encouraging step was taken by Secretary of the Navy Matthews and Admiral Sherman, who also laid down the law to Frank Hecht, president of the Navy League. This is the civilian propaganda arm of the navy, which has been secretly plotting a campaign against the air force with a view to stripping the air force of tactful aviation and returning it to the army. The Navy League also was mapping a campaign in Congress and the press to place the marine corps commandant on the joint chiefs of staff, thus giving the navy an extra vote.

Hecht had already outlined this plan of action to navy partisans at closed-door meetings across the country. However, at a private dinner with Matthews and Sherman at the Carlton Hotel last week, Hecht pledged to work for unification and goodwill instead.

The late Harry Dexter White is believed by some persons to have written the Morgenthau Plan. He was named in testimony as one of the Communist traitors who were planted in the government. This plan would have been consistent with the duties of a man in that role. However, if Morgenthau has changed his mind about the wisdom of turning all Europe over to Russia without resistance, as some other members of the society for the prevention have, he has said nothing about it.

Because the membership of the society is secret, one is unable to poll the members to learn who has quit. However, I have been in touch with a few individuals and observe with interest that all but one of them have quit the society.

Norman Littell, a New Deal Washington lawyer, was attorney for Isidore Lipschutz, the financial backer of both groups, and testified for him as a character witness in his naturalization process. Littell resigned two years ago. He couldn't keep up with its activities so he could not conscientiously continue to lend his name. He said it was news to him that Lipschutz's anti-Nazi league employed professional sneaks to spy on individuals and organizations. He had never heard of Dorothy Waring, Richard Rollins, Joseph Brandt or Mario Buzzi, who were employed for such work by the league. When I inquired whether knowledge of these facts would change his opinion of Lipschutz he said he would not approve of anything wrong. He did not meet the question head-on.

"It has always been my impression that Lipschutz was the principal financial backer of the Society for the Prevention of World War 3," he said. When he was told that Mark Van Doren, a Columbia professor listed as chairman of the board of the society, professed not to know whether it had a constitution, how it raised its money or whether there was a physical list of members, Mr. Littell said: "I am astonished. I think he may have been trying to evade the inquiry."

He volunteered no possible reason why a pretentious intellectual teaching in Columbia University, or any reasonably honest man, should not tell the truth about the society. Van Doren is listed in connection with many organizations of the kind which drew the official attention of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

He thought Lipschutz was a very brave man. As to the source of his wealth, he said Lipschutz was the head of the "diamond syndicate" in Europe and had been cited by King Leopold of Belguim.

"My opinion of the rearming of Germany is changing," he said. "We have got a new menace on the east."

The league savagely opposes proposals to rearm Germany and reacts angrily even to proposals to treat the German people humanely.

Herbert Bayard Swope, of New York, said he had resigned. He was sympathetic wit' the efforts of High Commissioner Jahn J. McCloy in Germany and he believed the society held that all who disagreed with it were "evil." He now believed that Germany should be rearmed to meet the new situation. He said he had always been skeptical concerning Mr. Lipschutz.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, of Washington, said she resigned in the spring of this year "because they got out something I didn't like.

"I didn't go along with them latterly," she said. "I think they went too far." She said she had never heard of any espionage activities by the Anti-Nazi League such as are revealed in past congressional hearings and in writings by the league's detectives.

Edgar Ansel Mowrer, of Washington, a journalist of long foreign experience, said he resigned because "in view of the developing situation it no longer had a useful purpose."

Although he is an "observer" of affairs, he had never heard or read of espionage by the nonsectarian league, which has been publicized, however, for years.

Louis Bromfield, who is listed on the society's "advisory council" this year, wrote:

"I have no records of having given my name but it is not impossible. A great many of these people send a letter saying that if I do not hear from you I will assume it is agreeable. I do not know where you could get a statement of the financial affairs of the society. I have just about come to the conclusion that it is impossible to give one's name, even to an organization which believes the sun will rise tomorrow."

Van Doren had said that his interest was attracted to the society by Rex Stout, of the Friends of Democracy, a similar, and to some extent overlapping, propaganda front. Stout, however, said he had recently resigned from the official roster of the society but had not resigned his membership. He had never heard of espionage by the anti-Nazi league. He asked for documentary references, which were given, and indicated that he would strongly repudiate such practices. However, against that declaration lies the fact that his own friends of democracy employed a phony detective and notorious professional liar known by the alias of John Roy Carlson. United States Judge John P. Barnes, of Chicago, condemned Carlson as "a wholly irresponsible person who was willing to say anything for money."

"I wouldn't believe him on oath," Judge Barnes added, "now or at any time hereafter."

THE HEIR CONDITIONER

Whenever an out-of-towner says, "What have you got in New York that we haven't got in Punxsutawney," I throw a copy of the Manhattan Classified Phone Directory at him. On page 1067, listed under "Missing Heirs," is a man named Theodore W. Roth whose business it is to find money.

I first heard of this gent on a radio program and this morning, in a mood to muse and meander, I stopped in to see him at his office on West 42nd street.

"Glad to see you," said Mr. Roth. "You don't happen to be related to a Sam Bramson of Paterson, do you?"

"Not that I know of," I said.

"To bad," said Mr. Roth. "Bramson left a hundred thousand dollars and I'm trying to find a relative I can give it to."

"Is there much unclaimed money lying around?"

"About eight billion dollars," said Mr. Roth, "mostly in forgotten bank accounts, stock held in escrow, uncollected insurance policies and inheritances nobody has claimed."

"What's the biggest case you ever worked on?" I asked.

"The Garrett case in Philadelphia," said Mr. Roth. "Back in 1930 a lady named Henrietta Edwina Garrity died and left property worth forty million dollars. So far over six thousand people have claimed it, six of them have been thrown into jail, a couple have committed suicide, and several lawyers have been disbarred for phonying up evidennce. One of the applicants was Adoplh Hitler who argued that the next of kin was a German citizen and that the monney should be sent to the Fatherland. I'm happy to report he didn't get a dime."

"You must meet a lot of screwballs in your profession," I said.

Mr. Roth dug into his desk and brought out a letter. It was from a woman in Massachusetts who claimed that one of her ancestors had deeded a cranberry bog to an Indian squaw, but that the deed was faulty and she wanted the property back. The bog, she explained, is now known as Manhattan Island.

"Last year," Mr. Roth went on, "I got one that was even wackier. A girl in Texas wrote in to say that only a second cousin stood between her and a chunk of oil land worth a million dollars. She was planning to murder her kinsman, but before going to all that trouble she wanted me to check and make sure her claim to the estate would be clear and undisputed. I, of course, turned the letter over to the police."

"Do you have any trouble collecting your fees?" I asked.

"As a rule," said the climber of family trees, "the heirs I turn up are pretty grateful. There have been cases, of course, where the only thanks I got was a dirty look."

"As for instance?"

"Well," said Mr. Roth, "there was the time a widow refused to believe me when I told her I had located a twelve-thousand-dollar bank account left by her husband. I finally convinced her to sign the necessary papers, but when I handed her the twelve thousand, she said, 'I curse the day I ever met you and I curse this money too.'

"It turned out she had always loved her husband and was devoted to his memory, despite the fact that their life together had been a hard one. He had always pleaded poverty when she needed a dress or a new pair of stockings, and she had believed him. Now that she saw him for what he was, she was understandably bitter.

"Sure, twelve thousand dollars was a lot of money, but it had destroyed the faith of a lifetime."

St. Louis, Nov. 13 (AP)—Stanley B. Gallat, 25, failed to pay a 60-cent restaurant check yesterday. Police followed him in a 15-mile chase through five suburbs, leaving a trail of battered cars. The fugitive's car was punctured with 23 police bullets. Before Gallat was subdued in his home, a police car was wrecked, five autos sideswiped, six policemen hurt. St. Louis County Hospital treated three broken noses, black eyes, bruises, cuts and abrasions from the tussle. Gallat was charged with resisting arrest, assault, destruction of property—and traffic violations. "He's a very nice guy, quiet, always well behaved," said Gallat's landlady.

Sees No Gas Shortage

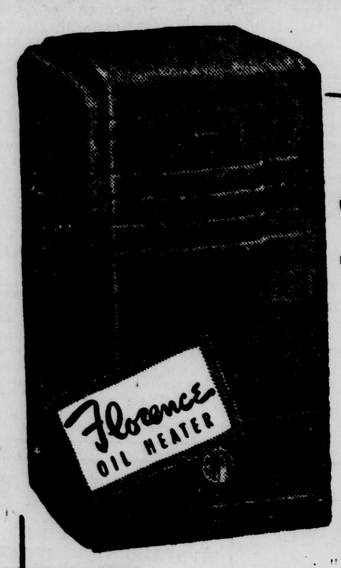

Los Angeles, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gasoline rationing is unlikely in the foreseeable future, says an oil executive here for the 30th annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute, opening today. Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of Standard Oil Company of Indiana, made one qualification; he said he was excluding all-out war. Stocks at the present are in very good shape," he said. "The industry as a whole is in just the right balance. Production can be stepped up 10 per cent at any time to meet emergency or military needs."

Asks Firmer Stand

Baltimore, Nov. 13 (AP)—Sen. O'Conor (D.-Md.) called on the State Department to take a firmer stand today and use the veto power in the Security Council to oppose the admission of Communist China to the United Nations. He said he "cannot agree with the announced attitude" of the department in saying the United States has no right of veto in the matter. The State Department has said it will take all reasonable steps short of the veto in trying to block entry of the rebel government.

Y-Teens Plan Festive Week

Two big meetings claim prime importance in the Y-Teen department this week; the Tri-Hi meeting tonight, and the Live Y'ers and So-Hi Clubs Tuesday night.

The new Tri-Hi program committee has appointed Leona Olen and Carol Kelly to plan tonight's meeting, and a particularly imaginative scavenger hunt is promised.

Tri-Hi officers elected last week are: President, Eleanor Lawrence; vice-president, Sheila Law; corresponding secretary, Barbara Stagg; recording secretary, Eleanor Zelickman; and treasurer, Donna Bigando. Representatives to the inter-club council are Nancy Bryant and Joan Resso.

Live Y'ers will hold their first joint meeting with the So-Hi group at the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday night. Plans are afoot to join the clubs, invent a new name, with each boasting twice as many members as before. Those in the 9th and 10th grades who are interested are invited to attend the meeting.

The M.J.M. "at school" club, with Mrs. Henry Eighmey as advisor, met for the first time last Tuesday. The other M.J.M. group will meet Monday afternoon at 4 at the Y.

Those girls who would like to join a Y-Teen group, but cannot due to conflicts, will now be able to join yet another club. No hour or day has been reserved. The decision will rest with the members themselves. To join merely visit the Y.W.C.A., or contact Miss Austin, teen-age director.

Drum Corps Plans 4th Minstrel Show

Port Ewen, Nov. 13—The Port Ewen Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps will hold its fourth annual minstrel show Wednesday and Thursday at the Town of Esopus Auditorium, Port Ewen, with curtain time set for 8.

Two featured acts of the black face production, once again under direction of Bill Smith, will be those well known local comedians and musicians, the Cedar Rest Boys, and accordionist Johnny Cecelia. Wilson Tinney and Chet Fox have been named premier men, while end men will be Bud Munson, Whitey Myers, Jack Jordon and Bill Rutledge, and John Bach has been named interlocuter.

This year's chorus members include Don Decker, Ron Costello, John Benton, Harold Burger, Joe Fay, Ed Doyle, Bill Webster, Fred Schabot, Francis O'Reilly, Jim Kellerhouse, Don Simmons, Pete Murdock, Charles Boyce, Frank Terwilliger, Frank McMahon, Walter Baschnagel, Duane Wescott, Charles Shaver, and James Sass.

Proceeds of the show are fed into the corps' coffers to enable the self - supporting, non - profit musical organization to continue one of the finest units in the area, paying for its own instruments and uniforms.

Catholic Daughters Elect New Trustee

At the regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Santa Maria 164, Mrs. Margaret Smith of St. Remy was elected trustee to finish out the term of Mrs. Julia Kane.

It was announced at the meeting that Masses will be held for a just and lasting peace, November 15 at 8 a. m. in the Holy Name Church, Wilbur, and at St. Joseph's at 9 a. m., December 4.

On December 14 the group will hold a Christmas party. Members are reminded to bring a box for their "secret pal," or, if they do not have one, to bring a gift for exchange.

Following the largely attended meeting, refreshments were served.

Elizabeth Fowler Is Married Friday To Philip L. Azoy

New York, Nov. 13—Miss Elizabeth Millspaugh Fowler, daughter of Mrs. Anson J. Fowler, formerly of Kingston, and now of Buffalo, and the late Mr. Fowler, was married Friday evening in St. Bartholemew's Church, Park avenue and 50th street, to Philip Livingston Azoy, son of Col. and Mrs. A. C. M. Azoy of Ardsley-on-Hudson.

Miss Fowler is a niece of Rodney B. Osterhoudt, 191 Fair street, and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Julius Osterhoudt, also of Kingston.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with lace, and a white satin cloche. Her bridal bouquet was of white flowers.

Mrs. William F. Peck of Buffalo, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Other attendants included Miss Esther H. Forbes, Miss Rosemary Lamb, Mrs. William W. Horine, Miss Muriel Anchester, Mrs. Margaret H. Blodgett, and Miss Alma de Coen.

Col. Azoy was best man for his son. Ushers were Lewis J. Kirby, William F. Peck, Jr., William F. Peck, Peter Peyser, Albert Shaw III, and John F. McAndrew.

Following their wedding trip to the Hotel Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the couple will make their home at 405 East 54th street, New York.

Mrs. Azoy is an alumna of St. Agatha School, and Smith College, and is a member of the New York Junior League. She is a financial writer with Merrill Lynch, Pierece, Fenner and Beane, New York.

Mr. Azoy was graduated from Princeton University, where he was a member of the Terrace Club. He served with the U. S. Army in Germany, and is now an officer in the 107th Infantry, New York National Guard. He is a member of the Princeton Club of New York, and the Ardsley Country Club. He is associated with the National City Bank of New York.

A WEDDING EXPENSE

It is curious that the following item of wedding expense is asked about rarely: "If it is necessary for the ushers to stay at the hotel, during the time of the wedding (1) who is responsible for taking care of this expense, and (2) what about the wives of the married ones who are coming too?"

The hotel rooms for his ushers are the bridegroom's expense unless either family can see that they are put up in the houses of relatives or friends. (2) This obligation would also include the wives of any who may be married.

Curious Practices

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm a little confused about receiving the following two messages from friends. Please advise. The first was a wedding invitation which required folding in half to fit in the envelope. The engraved side was folded outside. (1) Wasn't this incorrect? The next was an "informal" (folded card) with the names of a couple printed on the front side and an invitation with handwriting inside. The printed name was "Mary and John Doe." (2) Wasn't this also incorrect?

Answer: (1) Yes, engraving should have been folded inside. (2) The names should have been printed Mr. and Mrs. John Doe. Printed, as well as engraved names on "informals," as well as visiting cards, must always be prefixed with a title.

The Family Doctor

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissible to make a couple of handkerchiefs for our doctor? He has often admired my handwork and I'd like to give him this gift in appreciation for his many extra kindnesses to the family. Could his wife take exception?

Answer: His wife could hardly take exception to a single gift such as this.

Cutting Wedding Cake

Dear Mrs. Post: After the bride and groom cut their first slice of cake, who finishes cutting cake for the rest of the guests?

Answer: A caterer's man, or else kind friends take turns.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, if your problem concerns weddings, her booklet No. 501 "Weddings," includes details on announcements, invitations, ceremony, reception, refreshments, the wedding cake, and bride's bouquet. University Women Will Hear Forum On Modern Schools

A panel forum dealing with education and based on the question "What improvements have taken place in schools in the last thirty years?" will be presented to the Kingston branch of the American Association of University Women, when they meet Tuesday evening at 8 in the living center of the new vocational building.

John H. Martin, principal of Kingston High School is chairman, while panel members include: Arthur J. Laidlaw, Kingston Superintendent of Schools; Miss Ruth C. Grant, Kingston Reading Consultant; Melvin Rizzie, director of audio-visual aids at State College, New Paltz; and Miss Josephine Palmer, assistant professor of early education at State College, New Paltz.

Mr. Laidlaw was graduated from St. Lawrence University, where he received both his B. A. and M. A. degrees. He also completed graduate work at Cornell Univeristy, Teachers College, Columbia University and St. Lawrence University.

Mr. Laidlaw has led a widely varied teaching career. After instructing in the physics department at St. Lawrence for three years, he moved to the science department at Ogdensburg, N. Y. where he was also vice-president of the High School, and coached all the athletic teams.

Three years later, after teaching for a few months in Bernardsville, he became Superintendent of Schools in the village of Whitehall. The position demanded almost superhuman versitality, and he found himself simultaneously instructing the first grade, teaching high school subjects, and coaching athletics. Six years later he was invited to the city of Ogdensburg, where he was Superintendent of Schools until he came to Kingston in 1939.

Miss Grant, who now holds a position as reading consultant for the Kingston Department of Education, also served in public schools in the Philadelphia area, while last year she was assistant supervisor of the "reading Clinic Labratory School" of Temple University.

Miss Grant was graduated with an A. B. degree from Beaver College, and received her M. A. degree from Temple University in "The Psychology of Reading."

Mr. Rizzie received his A. B. and M. A. degrees from Syracuse University, while he completed his doctorate in education at New York University. After serving as an assistant in the audio-visual department at Syracuse he became director of audio-visual education at New Paltz.

He is a member of the New York State Audio-Visual Council, and co-chairman of the in-service and pre-service Teacher Training Committee in audio-visual education. Mr. Rizzie and his committee have just completed a state survey on audio-visual education in the elementary, junior, and senior schools of the state, as well as at the State Teachers College.

Mrs. Glassman Is Given Party

Mrs. Julius Glassman was honored at a birthday party Tuesday evening at her home, with decorations based on a red, green, and yellow theme.

Present were the Mmes. Rose Madden, Rose Naccarato, Carolyn Snyder, Theresa Naccarato, Dolores Saccoman, Dolores Witkowski, Theresa Landi, Elvina Fabiano, Emma Argulewicz, Molly Tiano, Louise Provenzano, Mary Cozza, and the Misses Marie Mazzuca, Mary Perry, Josephine Bujak, and Rose Berardi.

A buffet luncheon was served, and games were played.

Home Bureau Sees Family Life Skit

Fifty members of the Kingston Day Unit, Home Bureau, saw a skit entitled "High Pressure Area," when the group met Thursday at the Home Bureau rooms, with Mrs. Ernest Steuding presiding in the absence of Mrs. Charles Reis, chairman.

The skit, presented by Mrs. Clifford DuMond, and the last in a series of family life, dealt with the problems which teen-agers and their parents must face today. Taking part in the presentation were the Mmes. Vernon Kelly, George Hudler, Michael Martin, and Clifford C. DuMond.

Following the meeting there was a social hour. Co-hostesses were the Mmes. Harry Yale, Edwin Smedes, August Berwin, Ernest Magnusson, John Barton, Vernon Miller, and Robert Campbell. Mrs. Joseph A. Brooks, and Mrs. Clifford Donahue poured.

Y-Teens Plan Festive Week

Two big meetings claim prime importance in the Y-Teen department this week; the Tri-Hi meeting tonight, and the Live Y'ers and So-Hi Clubs Tuesday night.

The new Tri-Hi program committee has appointed Leona Olen and Carol Kelly to plan tonight's meeting, and a particularly imaginative scavenger hunt is promised.

Tri-Hi officers elected last week are: President, Eleanor Lawrence; vice-president, Sheila Law; corresponding secretary, Barbara Stagg; recording secretary, Eleanor Zelickman; and treasurer, Donna Bigando. Representatives to the inter-club council are Nancy Bryant and Joan Resso.

Live Y'ers will hold their first joint meeting with the So-Hi group at the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday night. Plans are afoot to join the clubs, invent a new name, with each boasting twice as many members as before. Those in the 9th and 10th grades who are interested are invited to attend the meeting.

The M.J.M. "at school" club, with Mrs. Henry Eighmey as advisor, met for the first time last Tuesday. The other M.J.M. group will meet Monday afternoon at 4 at the Y.

Those girls who would like to join a Y-Teen group, but cannot due to conflicts, will now be able to join yet another club. No hour or day has been reserved. The decision will rest with the members themselves. To join merely visit the Y.W.C.A., or contact Miss Austin, teen-age director.

Drum Corps Plans 4th Minstrel Show

Port Ewen, Nov. 13—The Port Ewen Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps will hold its fourth annual minstrel show Wednesday and Thursday at the Town of Esopus Auditorium, Port Ewen, with curtain time set for 8.

Two featured acts of the black face production, once again under direction of Bill Smith, will be those well known local comedians and musicians, the Cedar Rest Boys, and accordionist Johnny Cecelia. Wilson Tinney and Chet Fox have been named premier men, while end men will be Bud Munson, Whitey Myers, Jack Jordon and Bill Rutledge, and John Bach has been named interlocuter.

This year's chorus members include Don Decker, Ron Costello, John Benton, Harold Burger, Joe Fay, Ed Doyle, Bill Webster, Fred Schabot, Francis O'Reilly, Jim Kellerhouse, Don Simmons, Pete Murdock, Charles Boyce, Frank Terwilliger, Frank McMahon, Walter Baschnagel, Duane Wescott, Charles Shaver, and James Sass.

Proceeds of the show are fed into the corps' coffers to enable the self - supporting, non - profit musical organization to continue one of the finest units in the area, paying for its own instruments and uniforms.

Catholic Daughters Elect New Trustee

At the regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Santa Maria 164, Mrs. Margaret Smith of St. Remy was elected trustee to finish out the term of Mrs. Julia Kane.

It was announced at the meeting that Masses will be held for a just and lasting peace, November 15 at 8 a. m. in the Holy Name Church, Wilbur, and at St. Joseph's at 9 a. m., December 4.

On December 14 the group will hold a Christmas party. Members are reminded to bring a box for their "secret pal," or, if they do not have one, to bring a gift for exchange.

Following the largely attended meeting, refreshments were served.

Elizabeth Fowler Is Married Friday To Philip L. Azoy

New York, Nov. 13—Miss Elizabeth Millspaugh Fowler, daughter of Mrs. Anson J. Fowler, formerly of Kingston, and now of Buffalo, and the late Mr. Fowler, was married Friday evening in St. Bartholemew's Church, Park avenue and 50th street, to Philip Livingston Azoy, son of Col. and Mrs. A. C. M. Azoy of Ardsley-on-Hudson.

Miss Fowler is a niece of Rodney B. Osterhoudt, 191 Fair street, and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Julius Osterhoudt, also of Kingston.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with lace, and a white satin cloche. Her bridal bouquet was of white flowers.

Mrs. William F. Peck of Buffalo, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Other attendants included Miss Esther H. Forbes, Miss Rosemary Lamb, Mrs. William W. Horine, Miss Muriel Anchester, Mrs. Margaret H. Blodgett, and Miss Alma de Coen.

Col. Azoy was best man for his son. Ushers were Lewis J. Kirby, William F. Peck, Jr., William F. Peck, Peter Peyser, Albert Shaw III, and John F. McAndrew.

Following their wedding trip to the Hotel Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the couple will make their home at 405 East 54th street, New York.

Mrs. Azoy is an alumna of St. Agatha School, and Smith College, and is a member of the New York Junior League. She is a financial writer with Merrill Lynch, Pierece, Fenner and Beane, New York.

Mr. Azoy was graduated from Princeton University, where he was a member of the Terrace Club. He served with the U. S. Army in Germany, and is now an officer in the 107th Infantry, New York National Guard. He is a member of the Princeton Club of New York, and the Ardsley Country Club. He is associated with the National City Bank of New York.

A WEDDING EXPENSE

It is curious that the following item of wedding expense is asked about rarely: "If it is necessary for the ushers to stay at the hotel, during the time of the wedding (1) who is responsible for taking care of this expense, and (2) what about the wives of the married ones who are coming too?"

The hotel rooms for his ushers are the bridegroom's expense unless either family can see that they are put up in the houses of relatives or friends. (2) This obligation would also include the wives of any who may be married.

Curious Practices

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm a little confused about receiving the following two messages from friends. Please advise. The first was a wedding invitation which required folding in half to fit in the envelope. The engraved side was folded outside. (1) Wasn't this incorrect? The next was an "informal" (folded card) with the names of a couple printed on the front side and an invitation with handwriting inside. The printed name was "Mary and John Doe." (2) Wasn't this also incorrect?

Answer: (1) Yes, engraving should have been folded inside. (2) The names should have been printed Mr. and Mrs. John Doe. Printed, as well as engraved names on "informals," as well as visiting cards, must always be prefixed with a title.

The Family Doctor

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be permissible to make a couple of handkerchiefs for our doctor? He has often admired my handwork and I'd like to give him this gift in appreciation for his many extra kindnesses to the family. Could his wife take exception?

Answer: His wife could hardly take exception to a single gift such as this.

Cutting Wedding Cake

Dear Mrs. Post: After the bride and groom cut their first slice of cake, who finishes cutting cake for the rest of the guests?

Answer: A caterer's man, or else kind friends take turns.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. University Women Will Hear Forum On Modern Schools

A panel forum dealing with education and based on the question "What improvements have taken place in schools in the last thirty years?" will be presented to the Kingston branch of the American Association of University Women, when they meet Tuesday evening at 8 in the living center of the new vocational building.

John H. Martin, principal of Kingston High School is chairman, while panel members include: Arthur J. Laidlaw, Kingston Superintendent of Schools; Miss Ruth C. Grant, Kingston Reading Consultant; Melvin Rizzie, director of audio-visual aids at State College, New Paltz; and Miss Josephine Palmer, assistant professor of early education at State College, New Paltz.

Mr. Laidlaw was graduated from St. Lawrence University, where he received both his B. A. and M. A. degrees. He also completed graduate work at Cornell Univeristy, Teachers College, Columbia University and St. Lawrence University.

Mr. Laidlaw has led a widely varied teaching career. After instructing in the physics department at St. Lawrence for three years, he moved to the science department at Ogdensburg, N. Y. where he was also vice-president of the High School, and coached all the athletic teams.

Three years later, after teaching for a few months in Bernardsville, he became Superintendent of Schools in the village of Whitehall. The position demanded almost superhuman versitality, and he found himself simultaneously instructing the first grade, teaching high school subjects, and coaching athletics. Six years later he was invited to the city of Ogdensburg, where he was Superintendent of Schools until he came to Kingston in 1939.

Miss Grant, who now holds a position as reading consultant for the Kingston Department of Education, also served in public schools in the Philadelphia area, while last year she was assistant supervisor of the "reading Clinic Labratory School" of Temple University.

Miss Grant was graduated with an A. B. degree from Beaver College, and received her M. A. degree from Temple University in "The Psychology of Reading."

Mr. Rizzie received his A. B. and M. A. degrees from Syracuse University, while he completed his doctorate in education at New York University. After serving as an assistant in the audio-visual department at Syracuse he became director of audio-visual education at New Paltz.

He is a member of the New York State Audio-Visual Council, and co-chairman of the in-service and pre-service Teacher Training Committee in audio-visual education. Mr. Rizzie and his committee have just completed a state survey on audio-visual education in the elementary, junior, and senior schools of the state, as well as at the State Teachers College.

Mrs. Glassman Is Given Party

Mrs. Julius Glassman was honored at a birthday party Tuesday evening at her home, with decorations based on a red, green, and yellow theme.

Present were the Mmes. Rose Madden, Rose Naccarato, Carolyn Snyder, Theresa Naccarato, Dolores Saccoman, Dolores Witkowski, Theresa Landi, Elvina Fabiano, Emma Argulewicz, Molly Tiano, Louise Provenzano, Mary Cozza, and the Misses Marie Mazzuca, Mary Perry, Josephine Bujak, and Rose Berardi.

A buffet luncheon was served, and games were played.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

No Glory for Defense Here

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"In the Metropolitan Championships, held in New York city in October, a very unusual hand was the subject of a dispute between two partners," comments a New York correspondent. "As usual, in such arguments, each of them was at fault; but each insists that the other was the chief culprit.

"The bidding was enterprising enough to satisfy the most jaded taste, but it didn't have much effect on the real argument, which concerned the play. West opened the queen of hearts, East carefully played the three, and South played the six.

"South could not, of course, afford to win the first trick. If he did, East would win the first round of diamonds (whenever that suit was led) and clear the hearts. Then West would have the ace of diamonds as entry for the rest of the hearts.

"West studied the first trick carefully and led the jack of hearts. This brings up the first question: Should West have shifted to spades at the second trick?

"South won with the ace of hearts and led the ten of diamonds. West played low, and East won with the king. Second question: Should West have hopped up with the ace of diamonds in order to lead spades?

"East now laid down the ace of spades. Declarer rose to the occasion by discarding dummy's king. He was able to win the spade continuation in his own hand and force out the ace of diamonds. Now, of course, West had to lead to South, and declarer easily won the rest of the tricks, making his redubled contract.

"This brings us to the third question. Should East have led a low spade or even any club but the six instead of laying down the ace of spades? If he had done so, the contract would have been defeated.

"For example, if East leads a low spade, South's best play is to win with the ten in his own hand and lead another diamond, discarding the king of spades from dummy! West takes the ace of diamonds and leads a spade to East's ace.

"East then leads a high club to dummy (which has only clubs left) and must eventually get the fifth defensive trick in the shape of a club. No matter how South plays, he must get locked in the dummy or permit the enemy to set up a long spade.

"And now our fourth question is this: Assuming that each player was guilty of a crime at the point described, who was more guilty?"

The first three questions are easy. West should have led a spade at the second trick. It was clear that the hearts could not be brought in. Perhaps the spades could be developed.

Having failed to lead spades at the second trick, West should have taken the first diamond in order to lead spades. This was very unlikely to cost a diamond trick whereas failure to do so might cost a spade trick.

When West failed to lead spades at either of his opportunities, East should have led a low spade instead of the ace. At that point he could practically predict what was going to happen.

Now for the fourth question—as to who was more guilty. I pass. There's no glory in this hand for anybody but South. Each defender was so much to blame that he should be far too crestfallen to argue with his partner.

DO YOU HATE
GOING THROUGH
'CHANGE of LIFE'?

So many women between the ages of 38 and 52 have good reason to hate 'change of life' — the time when fertility ebbs away — when embarrassing symptoms of this nature may betray your age!

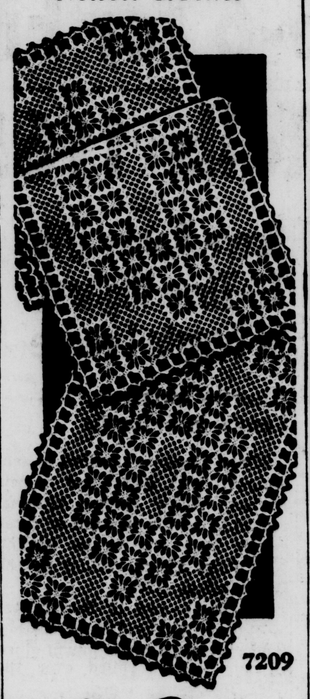

If this functional period makes you suffer from hot flushes or makes you feel so weak, nervous, restless, hard to live and work with — try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Women by the thousands have reported remarkable benefits. No other medicine of this type for women has such a long record of success.

Bandits Loot Hotel

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Armed bandits invaded the Atom Cafe in the Hotel Madison Square and escaped with about $150 early today. Three men, described by their victims as "nervous," entered the cafe about 2 a. m. and ordered the bartender, Walter Garrick, of 916 East 179th street, the Bronx, to put his hands up. While one robber kept Garrick covered with a pistol, a second scooped from $90 to $100 from the cash register, and a third stood guard at the door. Before entering a waiting tax for a getaway they took $59 from a patron, Thomas Zinella, of 208 East 28th street. Three other patrons were not molested.

Eisenhower Refuses To Discuss Future

Oklahoma City, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, who daily has to deny he has been named to head an Atlantic defense army, insists this is no time to discuss the matter.

"There is no Atlantic pact army at present to lead."

He explained to a news conference here yesterday that "there must be certain basic political agreements reached before there is any North Atlantic pact defense zone."

At Fort Worth, Tex., last week the Columbia University president was quoted as saying he soon will have a military assignment in Europe. But he said there was a misunderstanding about those remarks.

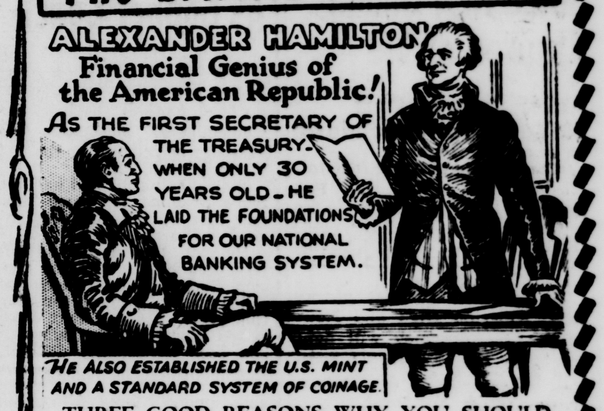

The war-time European allied commander-in-chief laughingly shrugged off a question as to whether he would be a Republican presidential candidate in 1952. As for the Republican gains in last Tuesday's general elections, he remarked:

"As a soldier, I am not called on to interpret the election results."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

No Glory for Defense Here

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"In the Metropolitan Championships, held in New York city in October, a very unusual hand was the subject of a dispute between two partners," comments a New York correspondent. "As usual, in such arguments, each of them was at fault; but each insists that the other was the chief culprit.

"The bidding was enterprising enough to satisfy the most jaded taste, but it didn't have much effect on the real argument, which concerned the play. West opened the queen of hearts, East carefully played the three, and South played the six.

"South could not, of course, afford to win the first trick. If he did, East would win the first round of diamonds (whenever that suit was led) and clear the hearts. Then West would have the ace of diamonds as entry for the rest of the hearts.

"West studied the first trick carefully and led the jack of hearts. This brings up the first question: Should West have shifted to spades at the second trick?

"South won with the ace of hearts and led the ten of diamonds. West played low, and East won with the king. Second question: Should West have hopped up with the ace of diamonds in order to lead spades?

"East now laid down the ace of spades. Declarer rose to the occasion by discarding dummy's king. He was able to win the spade continuation in his own hand and force out the ace of diamonds. Now, of course, West had to lead to South, and declarer easily won the rest of the tricks, making his redubled contract.

"This brings us to the third question. Should East have led a low spade or even any club but the six instead of laying down the ace of spades? If he had done so, the contract would have been defeated.

"For example, if East leads a low spade, South's best play is to win with the ten in his own hand and lead another diamond, discarding the king of spades from dummy! West takes the ace of diamonds and leads a spade to East's ace.

"East then leads a high club to dummy (which has only clubs left) and must eventually get the fifth defensive trick in the shape of a club. No matter how South plays, he must get locked in the dummy or permit the enemy to set up a long spade.

"And now our fourth question is this: Assuming that each player was guilty of a crime at the point described, who was more guilty?"

The first three questions are easy. West should have led a spade at the second trick. It was clear that the hearts could not be brought in. Perhaps the spades could be developed.

Having failed to lead spades at the second trick, West should have taken the first diamond in order to lead spades. This was very unlikely to cost a diamond trick whereas failure to do so might cost a spade trick.

When West failed to lead spades at either of his opportunities, East should have led a low spade instead of the ace. At that point he could practically predict what was going to happen.

Now for the fourth question—as to who was more guilty. I pass. There's no glory in this hand for anybody but South. Each defender was so much to blame that he should be far too crestfallen to argue with his partner.

High School Beats Middletown, 26-6 for Fifth Straight DUSO Victory

Yields First TD Since NFA Game; Assured of Tie

DUSO LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Kingston	5	0	1.000
Newburgh	4	1	.800
Middletown	1	4	.200
Port Jervis	0	5	.000

To the utter surprise of nobody, Kingston High and Newburgh Free Academy will fight it out for the 1950 DUSO Football League crown on Thanksgiving Day in Newburgh.

The two DUSO titans insured the climatic clash, with impressive victories in Saturday's semi-final outings.

Although sluggish at times, Kingston High trounced Middletown High, 26-6 for its fifth straight conference record, while the Goldbacks romped over hapless Port Jervis, 20-0.

Kingston assured itself of no worse than a tie for the 1950 diadem, while N.F.A. must win.

The Burkemen moved when they had to, before a sparse gathering at Wilson Field and then yielded something of a moral victory to the Middies, who scored the first touchdown against the locals since the Newburgh game. It was an 83-yard march, the last 35 against Coach Burke's "regulars."

Acker Big Star

Led by the flying cleats of Harold Acker, the East Kingston Flash, the Maroon scored a second period touchdown to lead 6-0 at the half. They added a pair in the third quarter and wrapped up their final marker in the last period. Middletown averted a shutout in the last four minutes of play.

Highlight of the game was a thrilling 70-yard return of a punt by Acker for Kingston's second TD. Acker made an even more spectacular return earlier in the game, traveling about 75 yards to the Middletown 3 but a midfield penalty against Kingston nullified the sensational run.

Carl Stroble, who shattered the Middletown tackles all day, bucked over from the 2½ yard stripe for the first TD to cimax a 33-yard Maroon march set up by John Kozlowski's pass interception.

Acker's 70-yard sprint accounted for the second score and then he completed a tricky 11-yard pass to Jay Rider in the end zone for another TD. Charlie Tiano's pass interception and a 40-yard runback to the Middletown 21 set up the final scoring drive for Kingston. A roughing-the-passer penalty set the Middies back to their own two and Kozlowski bucked over on a quarterback sneak.

Operating against second and third stringers, the Middies caught fire in the last five minutes and moved 87-yards for the score. When the Middies advanced to first down on the Kingston 35, Burke sent his regulars back into the skirmish but the fired-up Middies were not to be denied.

A pass from Dineen to Al Currier clicked for a first down on the Kingston 6 with 1:05 remaining. Kozlowski and Bob Engel made Dineen eat the ball on the Kingston 12 but on the next play, Dineen hit J. Volpe in the end zone, the Middie sub back making a spectacular catch while surrounded by three Kingston defenders.

Thwarted on the Middletown three yard-line the first time they handled the ball, after a 44-yard drive, the Maroons lost a Carpino touchdown on a holding penalty inside the five. After the next exchange, Acker circled end to the Middletown 10 but an offside penalty set the Maroon back to the 33 where Acker picked up 10 more yards before the Maroon yielded the ball on downs.

John Kozlowski recovered a Middie fumble on the Middletown 33 and eight plays later, Strobel piunged over after doing heavy duty against the tackle and center.

Acker's 70-yard return of a Midde punt in the third period was a thing of beauty. Almost surrounded by tacklers, Acker feinted to his left, then reversed the field to prance 70-yards down the sideline, right past his cheering mates. The Maroon blocking was terrific on the play.

Hansen Recovers Fumble

A fumble recovery by Walt Hansen on the Middletown 11 set up the third touchdown. The Middies stiffened to check three Kingston thrusts but on fourth down, quarterback Kozlowski called for the tricky reverse-forward play that almost clicked against Poughkeepsie. It started as a feverse with Acker on the carrying end but the Maroon halfback suddenly cut loose a pass to Jay Rider who was all by his lonesome in the end zone.

Another pass interception, this time by Charlie Tiano who made a beautiful return down the Kingston side of the field to the Middletown 21 set in motion the fourth score. A couple of passes went haywire but the Middies were charged with roughing Strobel on fourth down and were penalized to the 2-yard line. Kozlowski quickly rammed over for a 25-0 score and Lee Jackson added his second placement kick of the game for the 26th point.

Coach Burke cleared the bench after this score and the subs were giving a good account of themselves when they missed fist down by inches on the Middletown 17. The Middies suddenly caught fire and they refused to stop until Dineen hit J. Volpe with a touchdown pass in the end zone in the final minute.

Bierman Resigns As Gopher Coach

Minneapolis, Nov. 13 (AP)—Bernie Bierman today resigned as head football coach at the University of Minnesota. He asked to be relieved at the end of the present year.

Bierman said he had had the move in mind for some time and that he felt this was "as good a time as any."

He said the move was not prompted by the fact the current Gopher football team has failed to win a game thus far this year. He said that since World War II the coaching job had been particularly difficult.

• Bagatelles:

Bill Van Aken moves into select company tonight, when he is crowned as the only two-time city golf champion in the five year history of the tournament. The other champions are Roy Vogt, Maurice Davenport and Alvin Boice. This gives Wiltwyck a 4-1 ratio of superiority over Twaalfskill. . . . Don't forget the police benefit boxing show for the Kingston Boys Club Thursday night at the auditorium. A good card is promised and this is for a worthy cause. "Pop" Fuhrman and his group of youngsters deserve support and you can lend a helping hand by purchasing your tickets now. Call 1671.

Branch Rickey is officially a Pirate, but a lot of folks are saying that he's been a baseball pirate all along. He should fit in well with the Bucs, although the kind of bucks he usually prefers are the kind that fold.

Football players are helping to build a new stadium at Wilmington College of Ohio. That's carrying de emphasis too far. The next thing you know, a high school player who wants a football scholarship will have to be able to run, kick and pour concrete.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Kingston High's real opposition in the DUSO Basketball League will come from Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and the mountain section. Doesn't that cover everybody? Liberty High figures to be a power for the first time since Allie Hasbrouck transferred his talents to Long Island University. Kingston and Newburgh varsity players got plenty of pre-season competition in local leagues. At least ten of the Maroon varsity squad stars gained valuable experience and early-season conditioning in Lou Schafer's Y Autumn League. There is a man who truly deserves the accolade as "Mr. Basketball." Does a nice job year after year.

• Don't Answer These . . . Unless you Can:

Whatever happened to plans for the Lou Schafer testimonial award. Or has it happened and we don't know about it? If the bowling alley proprietors are really interested in the development of youth bowling, how come the Kingston Youth League has deteriorated so rapidly? Did the Section 9 cross country meet officials "lose" a Kingston High School runner in the first 12 places last Friday? Did Coach G. Warren Kias refrain from turning on the stadium mazdas in the near-darkness that enveloped the K.H.S.-Poughkeepsie game, because he feared Sam Kalloch might claim a forfeit. Sam, being allergic to "night" football, you know. If you haven't purchased your Kingston Athletic Association membership, why not? Will Colonial City Baseball, Inc. follow Bill Whalen's lead and revive the semi-pros next summer?

• Old Timers' Corner:

Nice to see Ken Williams, a pre-1940 star, still among the headliners and reassure the "old guys" of local big league bowling that once in a while they can recover the prestine touch. If we didn't mention the Joyce brothers, Paul and Tom, Joe Messinger and George Cragan in connection with the recent Old Timers baseball testimonial to Bud Culloton, we should have. And we're sorry, because all four were definitely part of the golden era of county semi-professional baseball in the pre-1940 period. Few players ever gave us more encouragement than Paul Joyce early in our career. Cragan, an honest, reliable umpire once inspired us to a scathing denouncement following a rhubarb in a game between the Kingston All Stars and John T. Hoffman's Red Hook tossers. We were young and impetuous and the day following the incident, the article we wrote for the former Kingston Daily Leader, reeked with venom. Loooming back, it really couldn't have been as serious as we thought at the moment.

Steve Keating, of Kingston, is a promising left halfback with the undefeated St. Lawrence Larries. Mike Rienzo seeing plenty of action as a reserve fullback. Hartwick College's decision to drop football at the end of the current season a big blow to Lou Fuoco and Bud Scheffel.

If a guy is nuts about baseball, would you say he has bats in the belfry?

Score Ranks With All-Time Highest In Tenpin League

Charlie Manfro's 265 Leads Individuals

Miron Lumber smashed a sensational 1165 single for a new Hudson Valley League seasonal record in taking two out of three games from the league leading New Paltz Alleys, Sunday on the Bowlatorium drives.

The game—one of the highest in Hudson Valley League history—was a perfect achievement since all five keglers rolled over the "200" mark.

Charlie Manfro, who emerged as individual high triple scorer with 652, lead the first game strike spree with a 265 solo. Ken Joseph shot 232, Frank Spada furnished 202, while Charlie Grunenwald and Larry Weishaupt had 233 apiece.

The Lumberjacks dipped somewhat after the fast opener and added games of 943 and 869 for a 2977 overall.

Manfro shot 265-184-203 for his 652, while Charlie Grunenwald posted 233-231—610. High man for New Paltz was Jim Altopedi with 200—562. The Paltzers salvaged the third set by seven pins, 876-869.

Trailways Win Three

Led by Fred Rice's 651, with 237-160-254, Adirondack Trailways assured themselves of a possible first place tie with New Paltz and Newburgh Johnnys by sweeping three games from the Ruzzo Bowlatorium. The Trailways pounded 1029—2921.

The veteran Rice missed a huge series when he slumped to 160 in the middle game. Johnny Ferraro had 202-209—590 and Angie Ferraro 204-202 for the Trailways. Steve Leone anchored the Bowlatorium squad with 192-208-225—625.

Bennett Roofers of Middletown drubbed Elston Sports Shop in three straight on the Middie drives, the locals dipping to one of the lowest totals in recent years—2355. Skippy Congolosi's 211—576 was high series for the match. None of the Elston keglers was able to reach "500."

Bowling

Tony LaRocco set a new individual single record with 267 and was on his way to a "700" series in last night's session of the Bowlodrome Mixed League. His second game of 222 gave him a 489 double, leaving him 211 short of the coveted mark. He slumped to 172, however, and wound up 661, best triple in the league by far. Vogel's Dairy got into the high scoring act by posting 2484 for new team high triple.

Other top scorers included Fred Rice with 231-595; Frank Leskie 209-579; Rose Schatzel 202-552; Barney Rosinski 547; Pete Nagy and Bill Lawrence 528; John Ferraro 523.

Jesse's Tavern set two new seasonal records in the Bowlatorium Mixed League, with 962 and 2630, while Bill Smith's 564, with 216-180-168, was the best individual series of the night.

Runnerup was Bill Johnson with 201-574; Joe Enright posted 542, Bill Schabot 210-533; Harry Kaprelian 529; Evelyn Gross 520, F. Davis 510 and F. Jankowski 505.

Frank Bruno and Kay Roosa were Mr. and Mrs. Bowling for the Central Recreation Mixer last night, the former shooting 191-239-193-623, while Mrs. Roosa had 199-199-143-541 for the top performance of her career. Runnerup in the male department were Jim Daniels 547; Red Sangi 538; J. Houghtaling 203-529; Fred Buchanan 529; Frank Grimaldi 518; and Joe Sangi 203-507. Other top women scorers were Edna Peterson 463; M. Daniels 460 and E. Barkley 455.

Larry Jordan romped home first in the Y Mercantile American loop with a 537 series on games of 176-183-178. Herb Williams moved into the No. 2 slot with 220-525; Bob Weiner had 518, Ferris Williams 513; John Grube 505 and Hank Grube 202-501.

Rudy Hohenberger is still the champ in the Kingston Youth League. His 181-174-355 double Saturday at the Bowlatorium was one of the highest in the two-year history of the juvenile competition.

Other "200" doubles included: Richard Peck 162-121-283; L. Halpern 136-125-261; E. Schaffer 145-108-253; J. Lowe 128-122-250; K. Jagger 124-119-233; J. Houghtaling 114-114-228; R. Ashdown 116-109-225; A. Ambrose 149-70-219; C. Short 113-103-216; R. Paulus 126-84-210; J. Sills 130-78-208.

Two Rose Bowl Losses Mar 3-Year Record

By WILL GRIMSLEY

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—California really loaded this year?

They insist "yes" out on the Pacific Coast where the Golden Bears battered UCLA Saturday, 35-0, for their 32nd regular season victory in a row.

UCLA's Coach Red Sanders declared: "I think California has the best team in the country."

Lose Only In Bowl

In the last two campaigns, just as this season, Coach Pappy Waldorf nursed his Behemoths through tough schedules unbeaten and untied only to see them stub their toes at Pasadena.

Northwestern beat the Bears in the Rose Bowl two years ago, 20-14, and Ohio State won, 17-14, last Jan. 1.

In whipping UCLA, the Golden Bears, who lost 21 lettermen by graduation, hurdled the biggest remaining obstacle between them and a third Conference championship.

Pacific Coast grid followers now are hoping that the Big Ten will send out something besides a secondary representative for the Pasadena game, so the Bears can recapture lost prestige. Right now this looks doubtful.

Won't Get Buckeyes

Ohio State, second ranked nationally, is regarded as the best team in the Western Conference and is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl under present rules.

The Buckeyes meet once-beaten Illinois Saturday at Champaign in the headline game of the weekend. If they prevail, as expected, twice - licked Wisconsin would stand to inherit the Bowl assignment. Otherwise, it looks like Illinois.

Ohio State trounced Wisconsin Saturday, 19-14, while Illinois beat Iowa, 21-7.

California will play San Francisco Saturday before closing out the season with twice-beaten and once-tied Stanford.

The Golden Bears' triumphed over the Uclans was the most impressive development of the week-end, which also saw these results:

1. Southern Methodist, the Nation's top-ranking team ten days ago, lost its second in a row—upset by Texas A. and M., 25-20.

2. Miami (Fla.) was tied Friday night by Louisville leaving these seven major teams with perfect records: Army, Oklahoma, California, Princeton, Kentucky, Wyoming and Loyola of Los Angeles.

3. Army and Oklahoma extended their long success streaks. The cadets toyed with New Mexico, 51-0, for their 27th game in a row without a setback. Oklahoma beat Kansas, 33-13, for its 28th straight conquest.

4. SMU and Miami were the only casualties in the Associated Press' first ten.

Goggin's 280 Wins Savannah Open

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 13 (AP)—Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y., breezed in with a final three-under-par 69 to win the $10,000 Savannah Open golf tournament.

The New Yorker jumped from fourth place yesterday to take the $2,000 top prize money with a 280 total.

Tommy Bolt of Durham, N. C., came in second with 282 to win $1,400 and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco was third with 283, which was worth $1,000. Each had a final round 73.

All night rains and stiff winds tended to raise all scores of the long 6,762-yard General Oglethorpe course.

Milon Marusic of Albany, N. Y., who led in the first three rounds, carded a 76 and a four-round total of 285 to take home $800.

Bill Meyer Seems Out; Boudreau Next Choice

Managerial Changes Due in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 13 (AP)—Bill Meyer, genial manager who led the Pittsburgh Pirates in their flop into the National League cellar the past season, learns his baseball fate today. The 57-year-old Tennesseean has been summoned to a Forbes Field meeting with Branch Rickey, new front office boss of the Bucs.

Rickey has given no hint as to what he plans to tell Meyer.

But recent managerial changes in the big leagues has led to strong speculation that easy-going Billy is out as the Pittsburgh pilot.

There is irony in Meyer's situation.

In 1948 Bill made his first appearance in the big show as a manager. He was hired by the reorganized Pirates to take over from Billy Herman, whose 1947 combination landed at the bottom of the National League heap.

Herman had a year to go on his contract, but the eager Pittsburgh owners bought-it-up.

Meyer led the 1948 Pirates to a surprising fourth place finish. Billy was named manager of the year and given a new three year contract. It runs through 1951. Today he finds himself in virtually the same situation as that faced by his predecessor three years ago.

Boudreau Is Freed

It will be comparatively easy for Rickey to give Meyer the gate—providing he is willing to hand out $40,000 for nothing but a torn contract.

Dopesters around Forbes Field have the situation sized up like this: Lou Boudreau, who was fired as manager of the Cleveland Indians last week, will replace Meyer.

Billy will go to Indianapolis of the American Association to replace Al Lopez who got Boudreau's job.

Pittsburgh has a working agreement with the Indians, now headed by Frank McKinney who quit as the Pirates' president during the summer.

The handwriting for Meyer has been on the Forbes Field wall since late in the last season. Before he departed for his Knoxville home after the world series Meyer said to a reporter:

Maybe I'll see you around here next year—but I doubt it."

Fifty Million Take At Yonkers Raceway

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—The 1950 harness racing season ends at Yonkers Raceway tonight with officials confidently expecting a play that will boost the season total for 73 nights to more than $50,000,000.

Last night a crowd of 18,434 bet $1,027,799 on the eight races. This raised the mutuel play for 72 nights to $49,279,670, an amount exceeding the hopes of officials in the spring when the track was opened on the site of the old Empire City track.

Full Bloom, a 3 to 1 shot, won last night's featured Forget Me Not trot. Driven by Jimmy Cruise the 10-year-old mare covered the mile in 2:06 3/5 beating Spud Hart and Cooperage in a tight stretch duel. Full Bloom paid $8, $4.60 and $3.50.

NFA Trips Port, 20-0

Newburgh Free Academy used its powerful aerial arm to set up three touchdowns in a 20-0 romp over Port Jervis, Saturday in Port Jervis.

Mike Orts scored on a two-yard plunge after a 29-yard trek for the first TD. Dan Torelli bucked over from the five, after three NFA aerials set up the play in the course of a 52-yard advance.

A Leghorn to Jackson pass from the six-yard line climaxed a 35-yard march in the fourth period.

The victory was Newburgh's fourth in five DUSO starts and leaves them a game behind the league leading Maroons of Kingston. The Academy can tie for first place by beating Kingston on Thanksgiving Day.

High School Beats Middletown, 26-6 for Fifth Straight DUSO Victory

DUSO LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Kingston	5	0	1.000
Newburgh	4	1	.800
Middletown	1	4	.200
Port Jervis	0	5	.000

To the utter surprise of nobody, Kingston High and Newburgh Free Academy will fight it out for the 1950 DUSO Football League crown on Thanksgiving Day in Newburgh.

The two DUSO titans insured the climatic clash, with impressive victories in Saturday's semi-final outings.

Although sluggish at times, Kingston High trounced Middletown High, 26-6 for its fifth straight conference record, while the Goldbacks romped over hapless Port Jervis, 20-0.

Kingston assured itself of no worse than a tie for the 1950 diadem, while N.F.A. must win.

The Burkemen moved when they had to, before a sparse gathering at Wilson Field and then yielded something of a moral victory to the Middies, who scored the first touchdown against the locals since the Newburgh game. It was an 83-yard march, the last 35 against Coach Burke's "regulars."

Acker Big Star

Led by the flying cleats of Harold Acker, the East Kingston Flash, the Maroon scored a second period touchdown to lead 6-0 at the half. They added a pair in the third quarter and wrapped up their final marker in the last period. Middletown averted a shutout in the last four minutes of play.

Highlight of the game was a thrilling 70-yard return of a punt by Acker for Kingston's second TD. Acker made an even more spectacular return earlier in the game, traveling about 75 yards to the Middletown 3 but a midfield penalty against Kingston nullified the sensational run.

Carl Stroble, who shattered the Middletown tackles all day, bucked over from the 2½ yard stripe for the first TD to cimax a 33-yard Maroon march set up by John Kozlowski's pass interception.

Acker's 70-yard sprint accounted for the second score and then he completed a tricky 11-yard pass to Jay Rider in the end zone for another TD. Charlie Tiano's pass interception and a 40-yard runback to the Middletown 21 set up the final scoring drive for Kingston. A roughing-the-passer penalty set the Middies back to their own two and Kozlowski bucked over on a quarterback sneak.

Operating against second and third stringers, the Middies caught fire in the last five minutes and moved 87-yards for the score. When the Middies advanced to first down on the Kingston 35, Burke sent his regulars back into the skirmish but the fired-up Middies were not to be denied.

A pass from Dineen to Al Currier clicked for a first down on the Kingston 6 with 1:05 remaining. Kozlowski and Bob Engel made Dineen eat the ball on the Kingston 12 but on the next play, Dineen hit J. Volpe in the end zone, the Middie sub back making a spectacular catch while surrounded by three Kingston defenders.

Thwarted on the Middletown three yard-line the first time they handled the ball, after a 44-yard drive, the Maroons lost a Carpino touchdown on a holding penalty inside the five. After the next exchange, Acker circled end to the Middletown 10 but an offside penalty set the Maroon back to the 33 where Acker picked up 10 more yards before the Maroon yielded the ball on downs.

John Kozlowski recovered a Middie fumble on the Middletown 33 and eight plays later, Strobel piunged over after doing heavy duty against the tackle and center.

Acker's 70-yard return of a Midde punt in the third period was a thing of beauty. Almost surrounded by tacklers, Acker feinted to his left, then reversed the field to prance 70-yards down the sideline, right past his cheering mates. The Maroon blocking was terrific on the play.

Hansen Recovers Fumble

A fumble recovery by Walt Hansen on the Middletown 11 set up the third touchdown. The Middies stiffened to check three Kingston thrusts but on fourth down, quarterback Kozlowski called for the tricky reverse-forward play that almost clicked against Poughkeepsie. It started as a reverse with Acker on the carrying end but the Maroon halfback suddenly cut loose a pass to Jay Rider who was all by his lonesome in the end zone.

Another pass interception, this time by Charlie Tiano who made a beautiful return down the Kingston side of the field to the Middletown 21 set in motion the fourth score. A couple of passes went haywire but the Middies were charged with roughing Strobel on fourth down and were penalized to the 2-yard line. Kozlowski quickly rammed over for a 25-0 score and Lee Jackson added his second placement kick of the game for the 26th point.

Coach Burke cleared the bench after this score and the subs were giving a good account of themselves when they missed fist down by inches on the Middletown 17. The Middies suddenly caught fire and they refused to stop until Dineen hit J. Volpe with a touchdown pass in the end zone in the final minute.

Bierman Resigns As Gopher Coach

Minneapolis, Nov. 13 (AP)—Bernie Bierman today resigned as head football coach at the University of Minnesota. He asked to be relieved at the end of the present year.

Bierman said he had had the move in mind for some time and that he felt this was "as good a time as any."

He said the move was not prompted by the fact the current Gopher football team has failed to win a game thus far this year. He said that since World War II the coaching job had been particularly difficult.

● Bagatelles:

Bill Van Aken moves into select company tonight, when he is crowned as the only two-time city golf champion in the five year history of the tournament. The other champions are Roy Vogt, Maurice Davenport and Alvin Boice. This gives Wiltwyck a 4-1 ratio of superiority over Twaalfskill. . . . Don't forget the police benefit boxing show for the Kingston Boys Club Thursday night at the auditorium. A good card is promised and this is for a worthy cause. "Pop" Fuhrman and his group of youngsters deserve support and you can lend a helping hand by purchasing your tickets now. Call 1671.

Branch Rickey is officially a Pirate, but a lot of folks are saying that he's been a baseball pirate all along. He should fit in well with the Bucs, although the kind of bucks he usually prefers are the kind that fold.

Football players are helping to build a new stadium at Wilmington College of Ohio. That's carrying de emphasis too far. The next thing you know, a high school player who wants a football scholarship will have to be able to run, kick and pour concrete.

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

Kingston High's real opposition in the DUSO Basketball League will come from Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and the mountain section. Doesn't that cover everybody? Liberty High figures to be a power for the first time since Allie Hasbrouck transferred his talents to Long Island University. Kingston and Newburgh varsity players got plenty of pre-season competition in local leagues. At least ten of the Maroon varsity squad stars gained valuable experience and early-season conditioning in Lou Schafer's Y Autumn League. There is a man who truly deserves the accolade as "Mr. Basketball." Does a nice job year after year.

● Don't Answer These . . . Unless you Can:

Whatever happened to plans for the Lou Schafer testimonial award. Or has it happened and we don't know about it? If the bowling alley proprietors are really interested in the development of youth bowling, how come the Kingston Youth League has deteriorated so rapidly? Did the Section 9 cross country meet officials "lose" a Kingston High School runner in the first 12 places last Friday? Did Coach G. Warren Kias refrain from turning on the stadium mazdas in the near-darkness that enveloped the K.H.S.-Poughkeepsie game, because he feared Sam Kalloch might claim a forfeit. Sam, being allergic to "night" football, you know. If you haven't purchased your Kingston Athletic Association membership, why not? Will Colonial City Baseball, Inc. follow Bill Whalen's lead and revive the semi-pros next summer?

● Old Timers' Corner:

Nice to see Ken Williams, a pre-1940 star, still among the headliners and reassure the "old guys" of local big league bowling that once in a while they can recover the prestine touch. If we didn't mention the Joyce brothers, Paul and Tom, Joe Messinger and George Cragan in connection with the recent Old Timers baseball testimonial to Bud Culloton, we should have. And we're sorry, because all four were definitely part of the golden era of county semi-professional baseball in the pre-1940 period. Few players ever gave us more encouragement than Paul Joyce early in our career. Cragan, an honest, reliable umpire once inspired us to a scathing denouncement following a rhubarb in a game between the Kingston All Stars and John T. Hoffman's Red Hook tossers. We were young and impetuous and the day following the incident, the article we wrote for the former Kingston Daily Leader, reeked with venom. Loooming back, it really couldn't have been as serious as we thought at the moment.

Steve Keating, of Kingston, is a promising left halfback with the undefeated St. Lawrence Larries. Mike Rienzo seeing plenty of action as a reserve fullback. Hartwick College's decision to drop football at the end of the current season a big blow to Lou Fuoco and Bud Scheffel.

If a guy is nuts about baseball, would you say he has bats in the belfry?

Bill Meyer Seems Out; Boudreau Next Choice

Managerial Changes Due in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Nov. 13 (AP)—Bill Meyer, genial manager who led the Pittsburgh Pirates in their flop into the National League cellar the past season, learns his baseball fate today. The 57-year-old Tennesseean has been summoned to a Forbes Field meeting with Branch Rickey, new front office boss of the Bucs.

Rickey has given no hint as to what he plans to tell Meyer.

But recent managerial changes in the big leagues has led to strong speculation that easy-going Billy is out as the Pittsburgh pilot.

There is irony in Meyer's situation.

In 1948 Bill made his first appearance in the big show as a manager. He was hired by the reorganized Pirates to take over from Billy Herman, whose 1947 combination landed at the bottom of the National League heap.

Herman had a year to go on his contract, but the eager Pittsburgh owners bought-it-up.

Meyer led the 1948 Pirates to a surprising fourth place finish. Billy was named manager of the year and given a new three year contract. It runs through 1951. Today he finds himself in virtually the same situation as that faced by his predecessor three years ago.

Boudreau Is Freed

It will be comparatively easy for Rickey to give Meyer the gate—providing he is willing to hand out $40,000 for nothing but a torn contract.

Dopesters around Forbes Field have the situation sized up like this: Lou Boudreau, who was fired as manager of the Cleveland Indians last week, will replace Meyer.

Billy will go to Indianapolis of the American Association to replace Al Lopez who got Boudreau's job.

Pittsburgh has a working agreement with the Indians, now headed by Frank McKinney who quit as the Pirates' president during the summer.

The handwriting for Meyer has been on the Forbes Field wall since late in the last season. Before he departed for his Knoxville home after the world series Meyer said to a reporter:

Maybe I'll see you around here next year—but I doubt it."

Score Ranks With All-Time Highest In Tenpin League

Charlie Manfro's 265 Leads Individuals

Miron Lumber smashed a sensational 1165 single for a new Hudson Valley League seasonal record in taking two out of three games from the league leading New Paltz Alleys, Sunday on the Bowlatorium drives.

The game—one of the highest in Hudson Valley League history—was a perfect achievement since all five keglers rolled over the "200" mark.

Charlie Manfro, who emerged as individual high triple scorer with 652, lead the first game strike spree with a 265 solo. Ken Joseph shot 232, Frank Spada furnished 202, while Charlie Grunenwald and Larry Weishaupt had 233 apiece.

The Lumberjacks dipped somewhat after the fast opener and added games of 943 and 869 for a 2977 overall.

Manfro shot 265-184-203 for his 652, while Charlie Grunenwald posted 233-231—610. High man for New Paltz was Jim Altopedi with 200—562. The Paltzers salvaged the third set by seven pins, 876-869.

Trailways Win Three

Led by Fred Rice's 651, with 237-160-254, Adirondack Trailways assured themselves of a possible first place tie with New Paltz and Newburgh Johnnys by sweeping three games from the Ruzzo Bowlatorium. The Trailways pounded 1029—2921.

The veteran Rice missed a huge series when he slumped to 160 in the middle game. Johnny Ferraro had 202-209—590 and Angie Ferraro 204-202 for the Trailways. Steve Leone anchored the Bowlatorium squad with 192-208-225—625.

Bennett Roofers of Middletown drubbed Elston Sports Shop in three straight on the Middie drives, the locals dipping to one of the lowest totals in recent years—2355. Skippy Congolosi's 211—576 was high series for the match. None of the Elston keglers was able to reach "500."

Bowling

Tony LaRocco set a new individual single record with 267 and was on his way to a "700" series in last night's session of the Bowlodrome Mixed League. His second game of 222 gave him a 489 double, leaving him 211 short of the coveted mark. He slumped to 172, however, and wound up 661, best triple in the league by far. Vogel's Dairy got into the high scoring act by posting 2484 for new team high triple.

Other top scorers included Fred Rice with 231-595; Frank Leskie 209-579; Rose Schatzel 202-552; Barney Rosinski 547; Pete Nagy and Bill Lawrence 528; John Ferraro 523.

Jesse's Tavern set two new seasonal records in the Bowlatorium Mixed League, with 962 and 2630, while Bill Smith's 564, with 216-180-168, was the best individual series of the night.

Runnerup was Bill Johnson with 201-574; Joe Enright posted 542, Bill Schabot 210-533; Harry Kaprelian 529; Evelyn Gross 520, F. Davis 510 and F. Jankowski 505.

Frank Bruno and Kay Roosa were Mr. and Mrs. Bowling for the Central Recreation Mixer last night, the former shooting 191-239-193-623, while Mrs. Roosa had 199-199-143-541 for the top performance of her career. Runner-up in the male department were Jim Daniels 547; Red Sangi 538; J. Houghtaling 203-529; Fred Buchanan 529; Frank Grimaldi 518; and Joe Sangi 203-507. Other top women scorers were Edna Peterson 463; M. Daniels 460 and E. Barkley 455.

Larry Jordan romped home first in the Y Mercantile American loop with a 537 series on games of 176-183-178. Herb Williams moved into the No. 2 slot with 220-525; Bob Weiner had 518, Ferris Williams 513; John Grube 505 and Hank Grube 202-501.

Rudy Hohenberger is still the champ in the Kingston Youth League. His 181-174-355 double Saturday at the Bowlatorium was one of the highest in the two-year history of the juvenile competition.

Other "200" doubles included: Richard Peck 162-121-283; L. Halpern 136-125-261; E. Schaffer 145-108-253; J. Lowe 128-122-250; K. Jagger 124-119-233; J. Houghtaling 114-114-228; R. Ashdown 116-109-225; A. Ambrose 149-70-219; C. Short 113-103-216; R. Paulus 126-84-210; J. Sills 130-78-208.

Two Rose Bowl Losses Mar 3-Year Record

By WILL GRIMSLEY

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—California really loaded this year?

They insist "yes" out on the Pacific Coast where the Golden Bears battered UCLA Saturday, 35-0, for their 32nd regular season victory in a row.

UCLA's Coach Red Sanders declared: "I think California has the best team in the country."

Lose Only In Bowl

In the last two campaigns, just as this season, Coach Pappy Waldorf nursed his Behemoths through tough schedules unbeaten and untied only to see them stub their toes at Pasadena.

Northwestern beat the Bears in the Rose Bowl two years ago, 20-14, and Ohio State won, 17-14, last Jan. 1.

In whipping UCLA, the Golden Bears, who lost 21 lettermen by graduation, hurdled the biggest remaining obstacle between them and a third Conference championship.

Pacific Coast grid followers now are hoping that the Big Ten will send out something besides a secondary representative for the Pasadena game, so the Bears can recapture lost prestige. Right now this looks doubtful.

Won't Get Buckeyes

Ohio State, second ranked nationally, is regarded as the best team in the Western Conference and is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl under present rules.

The Buckeyes meet once-beaten Illinois Saturday at Champaign in the headline game of the week-end. If they prevail, as expected, twice - licked Wisconsin would stand to inherit the Bowl assignment. Otherwise, it looks like Illinois.

Ohio State trounced Wisconsin Saturday, 19-14, while Illinois beat Iowa, 21-7.

California will play San Francisco Saturday before closing out the season with twice-beaten and once-tied Stanford.

The Golden Bears' triumphed over the Uclans was the most impressive development of the week-end, which also saw these results:

1. Southern Methodist, the Nation's top-ranking team ten days ago, lost its second in a row—upset by Texas A. and M., 25-20.

2. Miami (Fla.) was tied Friday night by Louisville leaving these seven major teams with perfect records: Army, Oklahoma, California, Princeton, Kentucky, Wyoming and Loyola of Los Angeles.

3. Army and Oklahoma extended their long success streaks. The cadets toyed with New Mexico, 51-0, for their 27th game in a row without a setback. Oklahoma beat Kansas, 33-13, for its 28th straight conquest.

4. SMU and Miami were the only casualties in the Associated Press' first ten.

Goggin's 280 Wins Savannah Open

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 13 (AP)—Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y., breezed in with a final three-under-par 69 to win the $10,000 Savannah Open golf tournament.

The New Yorker jumped from fourth place yesterday to take the $2,000 top prize money with a 280 total.

Tommy Bolt of Durham, N. C., came in second with 282 to win $1,400 and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco was third with 283, which was worth $1,000. Each had a final round 73.

All night rains and stiff winds tended to raise all scores of the long 6,762-yard General Oglethorpe course.

Milon Marusic of Albany, N. Y., who led in the first three rounds, carded a 76 and a four-round total of 285 to take home $800.

Jersey City Set To Give Up Ghost

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Newark dropped out of the International Baseball League a year ago, and today it appeared as if Jersey City would give up the ghost in the Triple-A circuit.

League directors announced at their annual meeting yesterday that the New York Giants would operate a franchise in the International loop in 1951, "but probably not at Jersey City."

Newark and Jersey City, both within the range of three major league parks in New York, have suffered heavy losses at the gate. Television and radio broadcasts of the New York games have been blamed. Springfield, Mass., got Newark's franchise last season.

The league said no city had been decided upon for the Jersey City franchise. That is a matter to be worked out between the New York Giants, owners of Jersey City, and the prospective site. The league must approve the new city.

Frank Shaughnessy was re-elected to a new three-year term as league president.

Americans Lose

Buenos Aires, Nov. 13 (AP)—Venado Tuerto, just about the smoothest riding quartet in South America, today held the Argentine polo championship for the sixth straight year. It beat Bostwick Field of Westbury, N. Y., in the title round yesterday, 14-8. Peter Perkins, Pete Bostwick, George Oliver and Lewis Smith played for Bostwick Field.

Citizens of other countries can enter the United States Military and Naval Academies by special act of Congress.

Boxing Show Planned on Thursday Night

Tickets for Thursday night's boxing show for the benefit of the Kingston Boys Club flooded the city today and it won't be the fault of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association if anybody gets by without a chance to patronize the big sports event.

The card is the first scheduled for the municipal auditorium in several months and features two ace lightweights in the main bout, Vince Salvati of Schenectady and Eddie (Red) Prince of Poughkeepsie.

It is the promise of Ben M. Becker, chairman of boxing in the Adirondack District of the A.A.U. that supporting matches will give plenty of action. The Albany High School principal says he will have a fine collection of ring talent from Amsterdam, Schenectady and the Berkshire Boys School which has produced several amateur champions, including Harry Smith and Jim Hardy.

Committee Active

Police Commissioner Bill Singer, President Guernsey Burger, Jr., president of the police organization and other officers spent Sunday afternoon on planning distribution of tickets and today every patrolman had tickets for sale.

Ringside and reserved seats may be ordered by phoning police headquarters.

Members of the Boys Club will also have tickets, Singer said, because the youngsters feel they must do their part in supporting the project for the benefit of their club.

The club has the well wishes of Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, District Attorney Louis Bruhn, County Judge John M. Cashin and City Judge Raymond J. Mino, who approve of the organization to combat juvenile delinquency.

Good Scrap Predicted

In sanctioning the main go for Thursday's card, Chairman Becker said he thinks it will be one of the best contests ever presented in the auditorium. Both scrappers are real action battlers.

Salvati won the featherweight championship of the Adirondack A.A.U. before moving into the lightweight class and went to the finals in the A.A.U. national tournament at Boston. He has defeated most of the outstanding amateurs in the east.

Prince, who won by a knockout in the first round when he appeared on the last card in Kingston, has left-hooked his way to victory in 11 out of 12 bouts. The one he lost was to Salvati during the summer, and the decision was close.

He's counting on avenging the loss by a knockout Thursday night.

Arclight Trapshoot At Katrine Gun Club

The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club plans something new in the line of trap shooting, with an arclight trapshoot Tuesday night at the club grounds.

Giant floodlights will turn the trap range into artificial daylight for the large number of sharpshooters expected to compete. The shoot is sceduled for 6:30 p. m., weather permitting.

At 8 o'clock, the club will hold its regular monthly meeting. Important business matters are on the agenda (hi, there, UN) and motion pictures will be shown.

Hint to Motorists

When jacking up a car, the jack should be placed as near the end of the axle as possible. The closer it is to the center of the car, the more weight it must bear.

New Draft Is Fountain of Youth For Washed-Up Ex-Big Leaguers

Older 30s and 40s Due Back for 1951 Season

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Remember back in 1944 when such greybeards as 48-year-old Hod Lisenbee and 46-year-old Guy Bush graced the rosters of major league teams?

Well, from all appearances those grandpappy days are likely to return in 1951. With more and more young stars leaving the ranks to don Army and Navy uniforms, big league clubowners now are scanning the minor league rosters for over-age "draft proof" players.

Already such young stars like Art Houtemann, Curt Simmons, Eddie Ford, Preston Ward, Danny O'Connell, Billy Martin and Joe Adcock have either been inducted or are earmarked for induction into the armed services. Others like Erv Palica and Maurice McDermott are awaiting final decisions by the medical boards. More are certain to follow.

Of course, the Lisenbees and Bushes will be considered a mite too old when spring training gets under way next February. However, don't be surprised if such fortyish stalwarts like Cliff Melton, Augie Galan, Bert Haas, Don Padgett, Cookie Lavagetto and Elmer Riddle are pulled out of the moth balls and given another big league life.

Young "Oldies" Return

Such "youngsters" like Bill Voiselle, Johnny Lindell, Ed Sauer, Lou Klein, Bill Salkeld, Steve Souchock, Bob Chipman, Mickey Haefner, Marvin Rackley, Hank Behrman, Dave Ferriss and Dick Wakefield appear to a cinch to return for another fling. All are past 30 and all have been dumped back into the minors after apparently having outlived their usefulness in the big time.

There is not a club in the majors that is draft proof. All are sure to be tapped for at least two or three of its top stars. The New York Giants, for instance, are resigned to losing Alvin Dark, their star shortstop. Dark is an officer in the Air Corps Reserve. Hence the purchase of Artie Wilson, the 30-year-old shortstop from Oakland.

The Yankees expect to lose Bobby Brown. The third baseman, who graduated from Tulane's Medical School last spring, is expected to join the Medical Corps. The Phillies' famed Whiz Kids, listing several unmarried youngsters under 25, probably will be hardest hit.

Others lost to the armed forces include Sam Calderone, Giants; Jim Lemon and Al Aber, Cleveland Indians; Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinals, and Frank House, Detroit Tigers.

(This was overtime game in which Richard Richards scored the only deuce in the overtime).

Cold Wave Lessens

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP)—The solid cold wave which took temperatures far below normal over the week-end has begun to soften. The mercury began a slow climb over most of the middlewest yesterday, but failed to reach autumn levels for the date at most places before beginning another sharp nighttime dip. More sub-freezing was reported early today as far south as Bowling Green, Ky., which had an early low of 27 degrees, and Memphis, which had 28. Other low readings early today included: Duluth, Minn., 19; Minot, N. D., 10; Seattle, 32; Los Angeles, 53; New York 37; Chicago, 24.

Yank-Los Angeles Game Next Sunday To Decide Title

By JOHN CHANDLER

New York, Nov. 13 (AP) — With one month of the season remaining, the National Football League found itself all scrambled up today with no less than six teams in a red hot battle for championship honors.

The won and lost figures in both divisions are exactly the same for the leaders after Sunday's six-game program. Cleveland's Browns still are leading the American Conference, while the Los Angeles Rams displaced the New York Yanks atop the National group.

If the Rams want to stay in the lead, they've got a tough job next Sunday in the league's big game, when they meet New York at Yankee Stadium.

Rout Packers

Los Angeles eased into first place by blasting the Green Bay Packers, 45-14, at Milwaukee while the Bears tamed the New York's Yanks before 50,103 cheering fans packed into Wrigley Field at Chicago, 28-20.

The Cleveland Browns had a rough time for three periods before subduing the San Francisco 49ers, 34-14, at Cleveland. At New York, the Giants pulverized the Chicago Cardinals, 51-21; the Philadelphia Eagles blanked the Redskins at Washington, 33-0; and the Steelers defeated the Baltimore Colts at Pittsburgh, 17-7.

Thus Cleveland and Los Angeles lead their divisions with seven victories and two losses each. The Chicago Bears and New York Yanks are deadlocked for second place back of Los Angeles, with six wins and two defeats. The New York Giants and Philadelphia have the same won and lost mark in their second place tie behind Cleveland.

Next Sunday the Cardinals play at Philadelphia, with Washington at Cleveland, New York Giants at Baltimore, San Francisco at Chicago Bears, Green Bay at Detroit —in addition to the Yanks-Rams.

Foxes appear to be a chief means of transmitting rabies according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Wiltwyck Cagers Rout Chez, 85-61

Wiltwyck Motor basketeers flashd top form in whipping Chez Emile by a 24-point spread, 85-61, in the feature game Saturday night on the Y court.

Overcoming a 13-15 first quarter deficit, the Motormen poured in baskets for quarter totals of 25-22-25. They led 38-30 at halftime.

In the companion piece, the Flying Saucers trounced Schuler's Inn, 66-41, in a game in which they grabbed an early lead and were in front all the way.

Although the doubleheader produced a dozen or more double total individuals, none reached the common-place "20" mark.

Koenig of the Saucers and Wiltwycks' Kleine bagged 18 apiece. Other leading scorers were Fink McElrath 17, Rod Sagendorf 17, Clark Mains 17, Moll Leonard 16, Schultz 15, Hickey 15, Glaser 16.

MODENA

Modena, Nov. 10—The music committee of the Modena Methodist Church will present a program of music Sunday night, Nov. 19, at the church. Featured on the program will be selections by the Women's Glee Club of New Paltz directed by Miss Marian Harding; also by Joyce Rosenfield, harpist, of New Paltz, and Mrs. William A. Imler and Mrs. J. Leonard Coy, Jr., of Modena, organists.

The postponed meeting of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Lillian Courter, president. The annual election of officers resulted in Mrs. Courter being re-elected as president for the 12th consecutive year; Mrs. Ferris Briggs of Clintondale, was appointed vice presidnt, succeeding Mrs. Milton Van Duser of Plattekill; Mrs. Simon DuBois, secretary, and Mrs. Frank Coy, treasurer, also were reelected. Others attending the meeting were public health nurse Joyce Kopf, and her assistant, Dorothy Meredith of Wallkill; Mrs. Fred Bernard, Mrs. Burton Ward and Mrs. Roy Jensen. The regular business meeting will be omitted during December but a special meeting has been called early in the month to plan for a fund-raising entertainment. The January meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 4, at a place to be announced. Old business was completed and new ideas were suggested for the coming season.

Rival Dog Food Holds Line; No Price Increase

CHICAGO, November 13—Housewives can't buy much with a dime today, but when it comes to Rival Dog Food, the little ten cent piece still looks like its old self. The makers of Rival are holding the line on price, in spite of the fact that all the elements that go into its manufacture have increased in cost. Since dog food is an important item with millions of dog owners, it is no wonder that so many have expressed their appreciation to the Rival Packing Company for maintaining its 10c price for the full pound can by buying in ever-increasing quantities.

Food Value, Quality Unchanged

In announcing its intention to hold the price line, the Rival Packing Company stresses the fact that the high quality of Rival remains unchanged. The same rigid standards are applied in checking the purity and food value of every ingredient that goes into Rival Dog Food. "The secret of maintaining price and quality, when manufacturing costs are rising," state Rival officials, "is large volume. America's dog owners have made that possible, by purchasing Rival at a record-breaking pace."

Production Capacity Increased

With demand for Rival Dog Food growing, it has been necessary to add to Rival's manufacturing capacity. As a result, Rival Packing Company is now constructing additional plant facilities which will greatly increase production.

Jersey City Set To Give Up Ghost

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Newark dropped out of the International Baseball League a year ago, and today it appeared as if Jersey City would give up the ghost in the Triple-A circuit.

League directors announced at their annual meeting yesterday that the New York Giants would operate a franchise in the International loop in 1951, "but probably not at Jersey City."

Newark and Jersey City, both within the range of three major league parks in New York, have suffered heavy losses at the gate. Television and radio broadcasts of the New York games have been blamed. Springfield, Mass., got Newark's franchise last season.

The league said no city had been decided upon for the Jersey City franchise. That is a matter to be worked out between the New York Giants, owners of Jersey City, and the prospective site. The league must approve the new city.

Frank Shaughnessy was re-elected to a new three-year term as league president.

Americans Lose

Buenos Aires, Nov. 13 (AP)—Venado Tuerto, just about the smoothest riding quartet in South America, today held the Argentine polo championship for the sixth straight year. It beat Bostwick Field of Westbury, N. Y., in the title round yesterday, 14-8. Peter Perkins, Pete Bostwick, George Oliver and Lewis Smith played for Bostwick Field.

Citizens of other countries can enter the United States Military and Naval Academies by special act of Congress.

Boxing Show Planned on Thursday Night

Tickets for Thursday night's boxing show for the benefit of the Kingston Boys Club flooded the city today and it won't be the fault of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association if anybody gets by without a chance to patronize the big sports event.

The card is the first scheduled for the municipal auditorium in several months and features two ace lightweights in the main bout, Vince Salvati of Schenectady and Eddie (Red) Prince of Poughkeepsie.

It is the promise of Ben M. Becker, chairman of boxing in the Adirondack District of the A.A.U. that supporting matches will give plenty of action. The Albany High School principal says he will have a fine collection of ring talent from Amsterdam, Schenectady and the Berkshire Boys School which has produced several amateur champions, including Harry Smith and Jim Hardy.

Committee Active

Police Commissioner Bill Singer, President Guernsey Burger, Jr., president of the police organization and other officers spent Sunday afternoon on planning distribution of tickets and today every patrolman had tickets for sale.

Ringside and reserved seats may be ordered by phoning police headquarters.

Members of the Boys Club will also have tickets, Singer said, because the youngsters feel they must do their part in supporting the project for the benefit of their club.

The club has the well wishes of Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, District Attorney Louis Bruhn, County Judge John M. Cashin and City Judge Raymond J. Mino, who approve of the organization to combat juvenile delinquency.

Good Scrap Predicted

In sanctioning the main go for Thursday's card, Chairman Becker said he thinks it will be one of the best contests ever presented in the auditorium. Both scrappers are real action battlers.

Salvati won the featherweight championship of the Adirondack A.A.U. before moving into the lightweight class and went to the finals in the A.A.U. national tournament at Boston. He has defeated most of the outstanding amateurs in the east.

Prince, who won by a knockout in the first round when he appeared on the last card in Kingston, has left-hooked his way to victory in 11 out of 12 bouts. The one he lost was to Salvati during the summer, and the decision was close.

He's counting on avenging the loss by a knockout Thursday night.

Arclight Trapshoot At Katrine Gun Club

The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club plans something new in the line of trap shooting, with an arclight trapshoot Tuesday night at the club grounds.

Giant floodlights will turn the trap range into artificial daylight for the large number of sharpshooters expected to compete. The shoot is sceduled for 6:30 p. m., weather permitting.

At 8 o'clock, the club will hold its regular monthly meeting. Important business matters are on the agenda (hi, there, UN) and motion pictures will be shown.

Hint to Motorists

When jacking up a car, the jack should be placed as near the end of the axle as possible. The closer it is to the center of the car, the more weight it must bear.

New Draft Is Fountain of Youth For Washed-Up Ex-Big Leaguers

Older 30s and 40s Due Back for 1951 Season

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Remember back in 1944 when such greybeards as 48-year-old Hod Lisenbee and 46-year-old Guy Bush graced the rosters of major league teams?

Well, from all appearances those grandpappy days are likely to return in 1951. With more and more young stars leaving the ranks to don Army and Navy uniforms, big league clubowners now are scanning the minor league rosters for over-age "draft proof" players.

Already such young stars like Art Houtemann, Curt Simmons, Eddie Ford, Preston Ward, Danny O'Connell, Billy Martin and Joe Adcock have either been inducted or are earmarked for induction into the armed services. Others like Erv Palica and Maurice McDermott are awaiting final decisions by the medical boards. More are certain to follow.

Of course, the Lisenbees and Bushes will be considered a mite too old when spring training gets under way next February. However, don't be surprised if such fortyish stalwarts like Cliff Melton, Augie Galan, Bert Haas, Don Padgett, Cookie Lavagetto and Elmer Riddle are pulled out of the moth balls and given another big league life.

Young "Oldies" Return

Such "youngsters" like Bill Voiselle, Johnny Lindell, Ed Sauer, Lou Klein, Bill Salkeld, Steve Souchock, Bob Chipman, Mickey Haefner, Marvin Rackley, Hank Behrman, Dave Ferriss and Dick Wakefield appear to a cinch to return for another fling. All are past 30 and all have been dumped back into the minors after apparently having outlived their usefulness in the big time.

There is not a club in the majors that is draft proof. All are sure to be tapped for at least two or three of its top stars. The New York Giants, for instance, are resigned to losing Alvin Dark, their star shortstop. Dark is an officer in the Air Corps Reserve. Hence the purchase of Artie Wilson, the 30-year-old shortstop from Oakland.

The Yankees expect to lose Bobby Brown. The third baseman, who graduated from Tulane's Medical School last spring, is expected to join the Medical Corps. The Phillies' famed Whiz Kids, listing several unmarried youngsters under 25, probably will be hardest hit.

Others lost to the armed forces include Sam Calderone, Giants; Jim Lemon and Al Aber, Cleveland Indians; Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinals, and Frank House, Detroit Tigers.

Lakers (22)—Parks f 2, Altamore f 6, Salusti c 8, Richards g 2, Uhl g 4, Heisman g, G. Nagele g.

Cold Wave Lessens

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP)—The solid cold wave which took temperatures far below normal over the week-end has begun to soften. The mercury began a slow climb over most of the middlewest yesterday, but failed to reach autumn levels for the date at most places before beginning another sharp nighttime dip. More sub-freezing was reported early today as far south as Bowling Green, Ky., which had an early low of 27 degrees, and Memphis, which had 28. Other low readings early today included: Duluth, Minn., 19; Minot, N. D., 10; Seattle, 32; Los Angeles, 53; New York 37; Chicago, 24.

Yank-Los Angeles Game Next Sunday To Decide Title

By JOHN CHANDLER

New York, Nov. 13 (AP) — With one month of the season remaining, the National Football League found itself all scrambled up today with no less than six teams in a red hot battle for championship honors.

The won and lost figures in both divisions are exactly the same for the leaders after Sunday's six-game program. Cleveland's Browns still are leading the American Conference, while the Los Angeles Rams displaced the New York Yanks atop the National group.

If the Rams want to stay in the lead, they've got a tough job next Sunday in the league's big game, when they meet New York at Yankee Stadium.

Rout Packers

Los Angeles eased into first place by blasting the Green Bay Packers, 45-14, at Milwaukee while the Bears tamed the New York's Yanks before 50,103 cheering fans packed into Wrigley Field at Chicago, 28-20.

The Cleveland Browns had a rough time for three periods before subduing the San Francisco 49ers, 34-14, at Cleveland. At New York, the Giants pulverized the Chicago Cardinals, 51-21; the Philadelphia Eagles blanked the Redskins at Washington, 33-0; and the Steelers defeated the Baltimore Colts at Pittsburgh, 17-7.

Thus Cleveland and Los Angeles lead their divisions with seven victories and two losses each. The Chicago Bears and New York Yanks are deadlocked for second place back of Los Angeles, with six wins and two defeats. The New York Giants and Philadelphia have the same won and lost mark in their second place tie behind Cleveland.

Next Sunday the Cardinals play at Philadelphia, with Washington at Cleveland, New York Giants at Baltimore, San Francisco at Chicago Bears, Green Bay at Detroit —in addition to the Yanks-Rams.

Foxes appear to be a chief means of transmitting rabies according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Wiltwyck Cagers Rout Chez, 85-61

Wiltwyck Motor basketeers flashd top form in whipping Chez Emile by a 24-point spread, 85-61, in the feature game Saturday night on the Y court.

Overcoming a 13-15 first quarter deficit, the Motormen poured in baskets for quarter totals of 25-22-25. They led 38-30 at halftime.

In the companion piece, the Flying Saucers trounced Schuler's Inn, 66-41, in a game in which they grabbed an early lead and were in front all the way.

Although the doubleheader produced a dozen or more double total individuals, none reached the common-place "20" mark.

Koenig of the Saucers and Wiltwycks' Kleine bagged 18 apiece. Other leading scorers were Fink McElrath 17, Rod Sagendorf 17, Clark Mains 17, Moll Leonard 16, Schultz 15, Hickey 15, Glaser 16.

Vast Aid Program

prise in foreign countries instead of giving to governments which he said "use it to buy up and socialize industry." (An obvious reference to Great Britain.)

In the main, Gray proposed action along three lines:

1. Foreign assistance—A vastly expanded U. S. aid program carrying billions not only for Europe but also for under-developed areas—Africa, Asia, and Latin America—and administered by single agencies in Washington.

Produces Recoveries

The Marshall Plan has succeeded in producing real recoveries in Western Europe, the report said, but the rearmament program forced by the Korean crisis and new threats of Soviet aggression, mean that the countries will continue to need help for three or four more years.

The amount of economic assistance they will need remains to be figured out, but at one point Gray's advisers tentatively estimated the cost at $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 a year. Meanwhile, the U. S. in cooperation with the International Bank would also undertake a loan and grant program for the underdeveloped areas totaling at least $1,100,000,000 a year, far beyond anything previously planned.

2. Domestic economic policies—Drastic revision of American tariff, shipping, agricultural and other internal policies which Gray described as conflicting with this country's foreign economic policies aimed at helping friendly nations produce and sell more goods for dollars.

3 Conditions of aid—The Gray report takes the line that the United States, using aid agreements and distribution as a lever, should continue to insist on high performance by other nations in carrying their share of the load. For example, the aid which any particular European nation would receive would depend on the extent of its own sacrifices in rearming for the common defense.

"Mediocre" Chemist

Louis Pasteur, one of the leading chemists of all time, was rated as "mediocre" in chemistry on his college diploma, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

investigators were "getting right on top of this thing."

Blames Letter

He said that circulation of the Hanley letter "was undoubtedly one of factors" which, he said, "wiped out my normal Republican majority of 50,000."

The two-term congressman claimed "campaign lies, innuendos and misrepresentations" also had played a part in the vote against him.

Macy reiterated his denial that he gave the Hanley letter to the Democrats. He said he did not know how they got it.

Copies of the letter were in circulation at the GOP Republican State Convention in Saratoga Springs 15 hours before he received the original message from Hanley, Macy cclaimed.

Asked about Macy's statement, Hanley said at Albany:

"I know nothing about it. There was only one original letter, and it was marked personal and confidential. It was the original letter, photostatic copies of which I saw published in the newspapers."

Hanley said he didn't know how the Democrats obtained the letter

The lieutenant governor also was asked when Macy should have received the original. Hanley replied that he did not know. He added that the letter was written in Albany and sent to Macy by messenger.

Sprague Takes Exception

Nassau County Republican Chairman J. Russel Sprague has taken exception to a statement by Macy that the Nassau Republican organization had not given him proper support.

Sprague said the Nassau G.O.P. county committee "campaigned conscientiously for all Republican candidates."

"While we are partisan," Sprague said, "we would never be a party to altering voting records for any candidate, including Mr. Macy."

Rep. Leonard W. Hall, Republican congressman in the Second New York District embracing part of Nassau county, said he had "complete confidence that no fraud can be found" in a recanvass of the vote in Macy's district.

Hall, who heads the G.O.P. congressional campaign committee, defended the "honesty and integrity" of the bi-partisan elections board in Nassau county.

Reports 'Instigated'

Macy said that some persons "in high places," whom he did not identify, instigated false reports that he made the Hanley letter available to the Democrats and that his purpose was to get the U. S. Senate nomination for himself.

"The instigation of this fabrication was conceived in malice and propagated by those, some in high places; selfishly representing special interests, who knew it to be false, for the purpose of doing me all harm possible in the election," Macy said.

Macy said in his statement he intended to press vigorously his $250,000 suit against the New York World-Telegram and Sun which he said carried a story saying he utilized the letter to advance his personal ambition for the Senate nomination.

Wanted House Reelection

Macy said that for months he had made it clear he desired reelection to the House "and that I did not even want my name mentioned for Senate, that I would not take the nomination if offered, and that under no circumstances would I run for that office."

"If I were guilty of the base actions of which I have been accused," he said, "I would be deserving of the condemnation of every right-thinking citizen and all the invective that has been heaped on me would be more than justified."

Macy said a threat of political reprisal had been levelled at him and his supporters. He said this was "an indication of the type of the vitriolic opposition that has been fomented."

Prior to the parade a dinner will be given at the Governor Clinton Hotel for Lewis. Delegates from all organizations have been invited to attend and reservations must be made before Thursday of this week. Lawrence Quilty is chairman of the dinner committee.

Dewey Allocates Funds

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—New York state will stockpile $500,000 worth of medical supplies for use in event of atomic or other attack. Drugs and anti-biotics, blood transfusion sets, burn treatment supplies, fracture supplies, syringes and hypodermic needles, and surgical equipment will go into the stockpile. Governor Dewey allocated the funds Saturday. He said "apparently the federal government not only has no plans but no intention of providing medical supplies."

Quiet Anniversary

Denver, Nov. 13 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolff celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary yesterday. With the three-tiered wedding cake, and the little group of friends, it was much like similar parties. There was one difference. Neither of the sparkling-eyed pair said a word. They haven't throughout their marriage. Both have been deaf and unable to speak since they were children. Their eloquent sign language conveys their thoughts.

Search for Diabetics

By ALTON W. BLAKESLEE
(A.P. Science Reporter)

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—A nationwide search for 1,000,000 missing Americans begins today.

These are the people—you may be one—who have diabetes and don't know it. They are missing out on the modern help that can bring them extra years of life and health.

The search starts with an offer of free tests this week, anywhere in the country, to check you for diabetes. The campaign is staged by the American Diabetes Association.

The tests are simple checks of urine or blood for excess sugar, the hallmark of diabetes. Diabetes comes from a lack of insulin, a hormone from the pancreas gland. Due to this lack your body is not able to turn sugars and starches into energy as it should, and your health suffers.

Free Tests Offered

In some communities this week, doctors are offering free tests in their own offices. Other towns and cities have set up special testing centers. Mobile units are visiting factories, clubs and schools in other communities. In a few others, people are being urged to do their own urine testing with special kits sold in drugstores.

Finding of excess sugar in the urine or blood means possible diabetes. Further tests are necessary to show whether the sign is really due to diabetes, or some other condition.

About 1,000,000 Americans are known to have diabetes, and are under treatment with insulin or proper diets designed to keep the disease under control.

Based on Surveys

The estimate of a million more unknown diabetics is made by the association on the basis of surveys in towns like Oxford, Mass., and Virginia, Minn. They found that one-half to 1.5 per cent of these townsfolks had diabetes nd weren't aware of it.

How can you tell whether you're one of the million?

You can never be sure, even if you feel pretty much all right, for diabetes can start mildly and insidiously. But there are certain danger signals that should make you more alert.

In severe untreated cases, diabetes brings excessive thirst and hunger and frequent urination. Kidneys work overtime to rid the blood of excess sugar, and the body demands more water. Hunger comes from failure to utilize food energy properly.

Other Signs

Other signs may be getting tired easily, loss of weight, severe itching, trouble with eyesight or gums, or slow healing of boils, infections or cuts and bruises.

Diabetes can hit at any age, from infancy on, but it begins most often in middle age and old age.

Women are more susceptible than men, and married women are more likely to get diabetes than single women.

It is more common in overweight people.

And it is most often found in relatives of people who have diabetes. There seems to be some inherited tendency, with diabetes running in families. But it seems to follow the heredity laws that let it be absent from a family for several generations and then appear in one member or several members. In some families, it may be inherited fairly regularly.

All of which means that sometimes there are signs to make you suspect diabetes, and other times no signs at all.

This week the association hopes at least 5,000,000 Americans will take the free tests, said Dr. John A. Reed of Washington, D. C., chairman of the detection committee. This would turn up about 50,000 of the missing diabetics, for a big start toward locating the million.

also in the house at the time. Mrs. McCabe said he had apparently changed his jacket while he was near the house and it was thought at first that there were two men near the place.

Officers Go On Hunt

County Investigator Clayton Vredenburgh and Deputy Sheriffs Edward Brinkman and William Churchill went out on the search for Baldwin after the taxi driver told his story. Troopers John Metzer, H. E. Rasmussen, Ray Dunn, James Ayres and Arthur Royael went out for the state police and working for the local police on the case were Officers Grover Hoffay, Gerald Every, Joseph Fallon, Detective William Krum, and at headquarters Capton William T. Roedell, Lieut. William Leonard and Sgts. James Cullum and Lemuel Howard.

A search was made in the area of the McCabe home and at 6:40 a. m., a report at police headquarters said that Detective Krum had found a black and red plaid jacket in the airport field.

At Clinton Avenue Address

At 6:50 a. m., a report said that Officers Fallon, Every and Hoffay went to 35 Clinton avenue and found Baldwin there. The arrest on the assault charge was made by Officer Hoffay and that for burglary by Detective Krum.

Baldwin, police said, admitted to Lt. Leonard that he was the one who entered the Cerasaro store. Later Capt. Roedell sent the young man out with Officers Every and Hoffay and Detective Krum to retrieve the various articles which he allegedly took from the Cerasaro store. County Investigator Vredenburgh went with them.

Rifle, Belt Found

The rifle and a cartridge belt were found near the airport field along the Sawkill road. A jacket, some shells and a flashlight were found near Bright Acres.

In the course of questioning Baldwin Investigator Vredenburgh and Detective Clarence Brophy obtained information which led to the arrest of Joseph Patrick Winter, 26, and Irving Henry Ruger, 17, who gave 107 Henry street, as their address.

Charged With Burglary

The two were charged with burglary, third degree and unlawful entry, for allegedly having entered a summer camp owned by Hobart and Marion Rowe, of West Hurley. The camp is on a road between Willow and Edgewood, and it is charged that a 16-gauge shotgun and some stuffed birds and squirrels were taken about two weeks ago.

The .32 calibre rifle, which ultimately got Baldwin in trouble, was allegedly taken from the Cerasaro store along with other items. John Cerasaro reported after the theft was discovered that the shells were not the right size for the rifle.

Statements taken by the police indicated that Baldwin sat in the taxi with the gun on his lap and pointed towards Stevens, the driver. The latter said he had asked Baldwin if he was "kidding" when he ordered him to drive on, and Baldwin had cocked the rifle and said he was not "kidding."

Survey Shows Vassar Girls Favor Families

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Ninety-five per cent of the students at Vassar College, one of the top women's schools in the U. S., wants to be married and have children before they are 30.

A third of the student body hopes to get married within two years after graduation — and 23 per cent of the seniors already are engaged.

The figures were released by the college yesterday after New York University spent a year studying Vassar a part of a research project in student-college relations.

Although marriage and children were the ultimate objects of the women students, almost one-half wanted to work for awhile before starting a family. A third would like to go back to work when their children are grown.

Survey Shows Russian Strength at 3 Million

London, Nov. 13 (AP)—An unofficial British survey of the world's armed forces says Soviet Russia now has 3,000,000 men under arms, 18,000 first line warplanes and a submarine fleet of 360 in a rapidly expanding navy.

The survey, "Brassey's 1950 Annual," estimated Russia will have trained manpower reserves of 12 to 13 million by 1954 and plans to expand her undersea fleet to 1,000 subs by the end of next year Annual Soviet plane production, according to the survey, is 12,000.

The Annual, published here for 64 years, reported Russia this year has completed two 35,000-ton, 29-knot battleships mounting 16-inch guns and one or two aircaft carriers. It said more battleships were under construction.

Russia has not published any details about its naval program.

Sees Dual Needs

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the nation's selective service director, says America's manpower must serve both the economy and the armed forces. He said the draft may have to be extended to 18-year-olds and to men older than 25. Although there are an estimated 8,000,000 men in the 19-26 age group, Hershey said, some 1,000,000 have dependents, another 3,000,000 are veterans and a large proportion of those remaining do not meet physical or mental requirements. In the older group there are many men who would be of greater value in the economy than in the military forces, he said.

Explosion Kills Man

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—One man was fatally burned and another critically so in an electrical explosion that crippled water service in this area over the week-end. A transformer blew up at the city's main water filtration plant Saturday night, halting pumping from the Niagara river for about 100,000 consumers in Niagara Falls and the towns of Lewiston, Niagara and Porter. Joseph A. Wysocki, 42, an electrician, whose clothing burst into flames died in a hospital yesterday of burns over most of his body.

ernor of Biganj and his family and took them to Bihar. Indian officials rescued them and gave them refuge.

Scheduled to Come

An Indian foreign ministry official announced that Nepal's director general of foreign affairs—who is the son of the ruling prime minister—is scheduled to come here for consultation with the Indian government. It was not known when he would arrive.

Both President Rajendra Prasad and Prime Minister Jawaharial Nehru are expected to report on the situation in India's Parliament at its opening session tomorrow.

The rebels seek to unseat Prime Minister Maharajah Mohun Shamsher Jang Bahadur Rana, whose family has controlled the kingdom since 1867. The prime minister last week dethroned the figurehead King Tribhuvana Bir Bikram, replacing him with his three-year-old grandson Gyanendra, reportedly because the king wishes to liberalize the autocratic government.

India, though it has given refuge to the king, is maintaining a neutral policy.

Sabu Quarters Wrecked

Los Angeles, Nov. 13 (AP)—Fire which detectives labeled as arson wrecked the top floor of a 12-room house owned by Sabu Dastagir, the elephant boy of the movies. Sabu, 24, and his wife, actress Marilyn Cooper, were visiting friends yesterday when the blaze occurred. He later reported that jewelry, silverware and other valuables were missing. A detective said it appeared the place in suburban Northridge was burglarized, then set afire, perhaps in an attempt to cover up thefts. Sabu reported prowlers at the estate a week ago.

Halts Toll Briefly

Newark, N. J., Nov. 13 (AP)—The New Jersey law which bans hunting on Sunday momentarily stopped the rising toll of hunter and hunted yesterday. As the first week-end of the state's upland game season closed there was no record of game killed but the hunters' ranks lost one killed, one dead of a heart attack and 15 wounded.

Vast Aid Program

prise in foreign countries instead of giving to governments which he said "use it to buy up and socialize industry." (An obvious reference to Great Britain.)

In the main, Gray proposed action along three lines:

1. Foreign assistance—A vastly expanded U. S. aid program carrying billions not only for Europe but also for under-developed areas—Africa, Asia, and Latin America—and administered by single agencies in Washington.

Produces Recoveries

The Marshall Plan has succeeded in producing real recoveries in Western Europe, the report said, but the rearmament program forced by the Korean crisis and new threats of Soviet aggression, mean that the countries will continue to need help for three or four more years.

The amount of economic assistance they will need remains to be figured out, but at one point Gray's advisers tentatively estimated the cost at $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 a year. Meanwhile, the U. S. in cooperation with the International Bank would also undertake a loan and grant program for the underdeveloped areas totaling at least $1,100,000,000 a year, far beyond anything previously planned.

2. Domestic economic policies—Drastic revision of American tariff, shipping, agricultural and other internal policies which Gray described as conflicting with this country's foreign economic policies aimed at helping friendly nations produce and sell more goods for dollars.

3 Conditions of aid—The Gray report takes the line that the United States, using aid agreements and distribution as a lever, should continue to insist on high performance by other nations in carrying their share of the load. For example, the aid which any particular European nation would receive would depend on the extent of its own sacrifices in rearming for the common defense.

investigators were "getting right on top of this thing."

Blames Letter

He said that circulation of the Hanley letter "was undoubtedly one of factors" which, he said, "wiped out my normal Republican majority of 50,000."

The two-term congressman claimed "campaign lies, innuendos and misrepresentations" also had played a part in the vote against him.

Macy reiterated his denial that he gave the Hanley letter to the Democrats. He said he did not know how they got it.

Copies of the letter were in circulation at the GOP Republican State Convention in Saratoga Springs 15 hours before he received the original message from Hanley, Macy cclaimed.

Asked about Macy's statement, Hanley said at Albany:

"I know nothing about it. There was only one original letter, and it was marked personal and confidential. It was the original letter, photostatic copies of which I saw published in the newspapers."

Hanley said he didn't know how the Democrats obtained the letter

The lieutenant governor also was asked when Macy should have received the original. Hanley replied that he did not know. He added that the letter was written in Albany and sent to Macy by messenger.

Sprague Takes Exception

Nassau County Republican Chairman J. Russel Sprague has taken exception to a statement by Macy that the Nassau Republican organization had not given him proper support.

Sprague said the Nassau G.O.P. county committee "campaigned conscientiously for all Republican candidates."

"While we are partisan," Sprague said, "we would never be a party to altering voting records for any candidate, including Mr. Macy."

Rep. Leonard W. Hall, Republican congressman in the Second New York District embracing part of Nassau county, said he had "complete confidence that no fraud can be found" in a recanvass of the vote in Macy's district.

Hall, who heads the G.O.P. congressional campaign committee, defended the "honesty and integrity" of the bi-partisan elections board in Nassau county.

Reports 'Instigated'

Macy said that some persons "in high places," whom he did not identify, instigated false reports that he made the Hanley letter available to the Democrats and that his purpose was to get the U. S. Senate nomination for himself.

"The instigation of this fabrication was conceived in malice and propagated by those, some in high places; selfishly representing special interests, who knew it to be false, for the purpose of doing me all harm possible in the election," Macy said.

Macy said in his statement he intended to press vigorously his $250,000 suit against the New York World-Telegram and Sun which he said carried a story saying he utilized the letter to advance his personal ambition for the Senate nomination.

Wanted House Reelection

Macy said that for months he had made it clear he desired reelection to the House "and that I did not even want my name mentioned for Senate, that I would not take the nomination if offered, and that under no circumstances would I run for that office."

"If I were guilty of the base actions of which I have been accused," he said, "I would be deserving of the condemnation of every right-thinking citizen and all the invective that has been heaped on me would be more than justified."

Macy said a threat of political reprisal had been levelled at him and his supporters. He said this was "an indication of the type of the vitriolic opposition that has been fomented."

Prior to the parade a dinner will be given at the Governor Clinton Hotel for Lewis. Delegates from all organizations have been invited to attend and reservations must be made before Thursday of this week. Lawrence Quilty is chairman of the dinner committee.

Dewey Allocates Funds

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—New York state will stockpile $500,000 worth of medical supplies for use in event of atomic or other attack. Drugs and anti-biotics, blood transfusion sets, burn treatment supplies, fracture supplies, syringes and hypodermic needles, and surgical equipment will go into the stockpile. Governor Dewey allocated the funds Saturday. He said "apparently the federal government not only has no plans but no intention of providing medical supplies."

Denver, Nov. 13 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolff celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary yesterday. With the three-tiered wedding cake, and the little group of friends, it was much like similar parties. There was one difference. Neither of the sparkling-eyed pair said a word. They haven't throughout their marriage. Both have been deaf and unable to speak since they were children. Their eloquent sign language conveys their thoughts.

Search for Diabetics

By ALTON W. BLAKESLEE
(A.P. Science Reporter)

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—A nationwide search for 1,000,000 missing Americans begins today.

These are the people—you may be one—who have diabetes and don't know it. They are missing out on the modern help that can bring them extra years of life and health.

The search starts with an offer of free tests this week, anywhere in the country, to check you for diabetes. The campaign is staged by the American Diabetes Association.

The tests are simple checks of urine or blood for excess sugar, the hallmark of diabetes. Diabetes comes from a lack of insulin, a hormone from the pancreas gland. Due to this lack your body is not able to turn sugars and starches into energy as it should, and your health suffers.

Free Tests Offered

In some communities this week, doctors are offering free tests in their own offices. Other towns and cities have set up special testing centers. Mobile units are visiting factories, clubs and schools in other communities. In a few others, people are being urged to do their own urine testing with special kits sold in drug stores.

Finding of excess sugar in the urine or blood means possible diabetes. Further tests are necessary to show whether the sign is really due to diabetes, or some other condition.

About 1,000,000 Americans are known to have diabetes, and are under treatment with insulin or proper diets designed to keep the disease under control.

Based on Surveys

The estimate of a million more unknown diabetics is made by the association on the basis of surveys in towns like Oxford, Mass., and Virginia, Minn. They found that one-half to 1.5 per cent of these townsfolks had diabetes nd weren't aware of it.

How can you tell whether you're one of the million?

You can never be sure, even if you feel pretty much all rignt, for diabetes can start mildly and insidiously. But there are certain danger signals that should make you more alert.

In severe untreated cases, diabetes brings excessive thirst and hunger and frequent urination. Kidneys work overtime to rid the blood of excess sugar, and the body demands more water. Hunger comes from failure to utilize food energy properly.

Other Signs

Other signs may be getting tired easily, loss of weight, severe itching, trouble with eyesight or gums, or slow healing of boils, infections or cuts and bruises.

Diabetes can hit at any age, from infancy on, but it begins most often in middle age and old age.

Women are more susceptible than men, and married women are more likely to get diabetes than single women.

It is more common in overweight people.

And it is most often found in relatives of people who have diabetes. There seems to be some inherited tendency, with diabetes running in families. But it seems to follow the heredity laws that let it be absent from a family for several generations and then appear in one member or several members. In some families, it may be inherited fairly regularly.

All of which means that sometimes there are signs to make you suspect diabetes, and other times no signs at all.

This week the association hopes at least 5,000,000 Americans will take the free tests, said Dr. John A. Reed of Washington, D. C., chairman of the detection committee. This would turn up about 50,000 of the missing diabetics, for a big start toward locating the million.

Baldwin 'Tour'

also in the house at the time. Mrs. McCabe said he had apparently changed his jacket while he was near the house and it was thought at first that there were two men near the place.

Officers Go On Hunt

County Investigator Clayton Vredenburgh and Deputy Sheriffs Edward Brinkman and William Churchill went out on the search for Baldwin after the taxi driver told his story. Troopers John Metzer, H. E. Rasmussen, Ray Dunn, James Ayres and Arthur Royael went out for the state police and working for the local police on the case were Officers Grover Hoffay, Gerald Every, Joseph Fallon, Detective William Krum, and at headquarters Capton William T. Roedell, Lieut. William Leonard and Sgts. James Cullum and Lemuel Howard.

A search was made in the area of the McCabe home and at 6:40 a. m., a report at police headquarters said that Detective Krum had found a black and red plaid jacket in the airport field.

At Clinton Avenue Address

At 6:50 a. m., a report said that Officers Fallon, Every and Hoffay went to 35 Clinton avenue and found Baldwin there. The arrest on the assault charge was made by Officer Hoffay and that for burglary by Detective Krum.

Baldwin, police said, admitted to Lt. Leonard that he was the one who entered the Cerasaro store. Later Capt. Roedell sent the young man out with Officers Every and Hoffay and Detective Krum to retrieve the various articles which he allegedly took from the Cerasaro store. County Investigator Vredenburgh went with them.

Rifle, Belt Found

The rifle and a cartridge belt were found near the airport field along the Sawkill road. A jacket, some shells and a flashlight were found near Bright Acres.

In the course of questioning Baldwin Investigator Vredenburgh and Detective Clarence Brophy obtained information which led to the arrest of Joseph Patrick Winter, 26, and Irving Henry Ruger, 17, who gave 107 Henry street, as their address.

Charged With Burglary

The two were charged with burglary, third degree and unlawful entry, for allegedly having entered a summer camp owned by Hobart and Marion Rowe, of West Hurley. The camp is on a road between Willow and Edgewood, and it is charged that a 16-gauge shotgun and some stuffed birds and squirrels were taken about two weeks ago.

The .32 calibre rifle, which ultimately got Baldwin in trouble, was allegedly taken from the Cerasaro store along with other items. John Cerasaro reported after the theft was discovered that the shells were not the right size for the rifle.

Statements taken by the police indicated that Baldwin sat in the taxi with the gun on his lap and pointed towards Stevens, the driver. The latter said he had asked Baldwin if he was "kidding" when he ordered him to drive on, and Baldwin had cocked the rifle and said he was not "kidding."

Survey Shows Vassar Girls Favor Families

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Ninety-five per cent of the students at Vassar College, one of the top women's schools in the U. S., wants to be married and have children before they are 30.

A third of the student body hopes to get married within two years after graduation — and 23 per cent of the seniors already are engaged.

The figures were released by the college yesterday after New York University spent a year studying Vassar a part of a research project in student-college relations.

Although marriage and children were the ultimate objects of the women students, almost one-half wanted to work for awhile before starting a family. A third would like to go back to work when their children are grown.

Survey Shows Russian Strength at 3 Million

Lordon, Nov. 13 (AP)—An unofficial British survey of the world's armed forces says Soviet Russia now has 3,000,000 men under arms, 18,000 first line warplanes and a submarine fleet of 360 in a rapidly expanding navy.

The survey, "Brassey's 1950 Annual," estimated Russia will have trained manpower reserves of 12 to 13 million by 1954 and plans to expand her undersea fleet to 1,000 subs by the end of next year Annual Soviet plane production, according to the survey, is 12,000.

The Annual, published here for 64 years, reported Russia this year has completed two 35,000-ton, 29-knot battleships mounting 16-inch guns and one or two aircraft carriers. It said more battleships were under construction.

Russia has not published any details about its naval program.

Sees Dual Needs

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the nation's selective service director, says America's manpower must serve both the economy and the armed forces. He said the draft may have to be extended to 18-year-olds and to men older than 25. Although there are an estimated 8,000,000 men in the 19-26 age group, Hershey said, some 1,000,000 have dependents, another 3,000,000 are veterans and a large proportion of those remaining do not meet physical or mental requirements. In the older group there are many men who would be of greater value in the economy than in the military forces, he said.

Explosion Kills Man

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—One man was fatally burned and another critically so in an electrical explosion that crippled water service in this area over the week-end. A transformer blew up at the city's main water filtration plant Saturday night, halting pumping from the Niagara river for about 100,000 consumers in Niagara Falls and the towns of Lewiston, Niagara and Porter. Joseph A. Wysocki, 42, an electrician, whose clothing burst into flames died in a hospital yesterday of burns over most of his body.

ernor of Biganj and his family and took them to Bihar. Indian officials rescued them and gave them refuge.

Scheduled to Come

An Indian foreign ministry official announced that Nepal's director general of foreign affairs—who is the son of the ruling prime minister—is scheduled to come here for consultation with the Indian government. It was not known when he would arrive.

Both President Rajendra Prasad and Prime Minister Jawaharial Nehru are expected to report on the situation in India's Parliament at its opening session tomorrow.

The rebels seek to unseat Prime Minister Maharajah Mohun Shamsher Jang Bahadur Rana, whose family has controlled the kingdom since 1867. The prime minister last week dethroned the figurehead King Tribhuvana Bir Bikram, replacing him with his three-year-old grandson Gyanendra, reportedly because the king wishes to liberalize the autocratic government.

India, though it has given refuge to the king, is maintaining a neutral policy.

Sabu Quarters Wrecked

Los Angeles, Nov. 13 (AP)—Fire which detectives labeled as arson wrecked the top floor of a 12-room house owned by Sabu Dastagir, the elephant boy of the movies. Sabu, 24, and his wife, actress Marilyn Cooper, were visiting friends yesterday when the blaze occurred. He later reported that jewelry, silverware and other valuables were missing. A detective said it appeared the place in suburban Northridge was burglarized, then set afire, perhaps in an attempt to cover up thefts. Sabu reported prowlers at the estate a week ago.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 13 (AP)—The New Jersey law which bans hunting on Sunday momentarily stopped the rising toll of hunter and hunted yesterday. As the first week-end of the state's upland game season closed there was no record of game killed but the hunters' ranks lost one killed, one dead of a heart attack and 15 wounded.

Special Services Offered At Kingston High School

In keeping with modern trends in education, Kingston High School is offering a number of special services to its students, designed to help them not only while in school, but also when they go out from school as adult citizens and wage earners.

One of the most extensive of these services is that given by the staff of school physicians, dentists and nurses. Medical attention for Kingston school children begins, when, even before entering the city's schools, they are given a pre-kindergarten physical examination.

The staff consists of two doctors, Dr. Samuel Nussbaum and Dr. Elbert MacFadden, two dentists, Dr. Harold Newman and Dr. Victor I. Randel and four nurses, Mrs. Doris Fogg, Miss Mabel E. Mericle, Miss Kathleen Shurter and Miss Anna M. Young.

Dental clinics are held five days a week at the Myron J. Michael School. At the high school a doctor is in attendance throughout the day with Mrs. Fogg as his assistant.

The medical staff is not only called upon to give first aid to students in case of sudden illness or accidents, but every year each high school student receives a physical examination. Later the medical staff stresses the correction of defects discovered during the examination. Students are also referred to guidance clinics, if the doctors consider it advisable. The doctors also interview parents to assist them with their guidance problems. Every high school athlete receives a special athletic examination before he is allowed to take part in any sport, except tennis.

Other medical services include ear testing for all students and the supplying of glasses, free lunches and tonsil operations for students whose families cannot afford to pay for these services. The medical staff also undertakes many home visits during the year to study the needs of students.

The business department of the high school under the direction of Loryne Connick also conducts a comprehensive placement service for students. At present the placement service is over-seeing 124 students who are working an average of 20 hours a week in various stores in Kingston. Other students are also employed in secretarial and office jobs.

Not only do these students secure these positions through the school but the placement service watches and advises them during their probationary period. This service also keeps a record of its graduates for five years after they have left school.

The Vocational School under the direction of Hubert Hoderath offers excellent opportunities for training to students who plan to enter the trades. Students taking trade electricity, woodworking, auto trade and trade machine courses usually follow these fields upon completing school. A number of graduates find their way into the General Electric Company at Schenectady and the International Business Machine Corporation at Poughkeepsie.

For the girls, Mrs. Evelyn Thomas has a special course which gives training in the operation of garment machines and graduates of this course are sought by local factories.

The agricultural course in charge of Raphael Klein serves the large rural area of which Kingston is the center. This course enables the young would-be farmer to do a better job on his own family farm or permits city boys to learn whether or not they would be interested in farming as a career. Mr. Klein also places students on farms for the summer months and in emergencies, can supply county agriculturalists with additional help for the fruit picking season or harvesting of special crops.

Students with musical interests are given weekly lessons in playing band and orchestra instruments. Although most students provide their own instruments, the large, less common and prohibitively expensive instruments are furnished, upon occasion, for the students. These classes in band and orchestra are under the direction of Marlin E. Morrette and Harry Berchin. The vocal groups conducted by Leonard Stine, also give students an opportunity for voice training which they can later use to advantage. Churches make extensive use of high school vocal students in their choirs.

The newest service offered to high school students is special work in remedial reading. Miss Ruth Grant, reading consultant was secured by the Board of Education when it was found, through tests, that many students in the city were retarded in their work by improper reading habits.

The project is being directed in the high school by Alexander Banyo. So far about 40 students are being instructed. The purpose of the corrective reading program in the high school is to improve reading speed, train students to comprehend more readily the meaning of what they read and to improve their vocabularies.

Courses in driver education are being given to both students and adult groups. William Scafidi, instructor in the course, trains the students in proper methods of automobile driving on a special sedan fitted with dual controls. These courses have a list of waiting applicants, who upon completion of the course, hope to secure their drivers' licenses.

Another special service offered at the high school is the adult education program. Courses for adults are given two evenings a week and offer business training, work in handcrafts, such as ceramic and weaving and courses that will lead to job improvement. Courses in citizenship and Americanization are also given for those who wish to gain a better understanding of American institutions and are planning to take their citizenship tests.

Through its many special services the school feels that it is not only guarding the health of the students but is training them in skills that will be of paramount help to them when their formal education is completed.

Will Attend Game

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—The White House said today President Truman probably will attend the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia on Dec. 2.

Young G.O.P. Insists Acheson Resign Post

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP) — The Association of New York State Young Republicans insists that Secretary of State Dean Acheson should resign from President Truman's cabinet.

The group's board of governors adopted Saturday a resolution demanding Acheson's "immediate replacement."

The resolution said that voters of California and Maryland, where Acheson's foreign policies were an issue in senatorial campaigns, had "mandated" his removal.

Other resolutions, adopted at the quartely meeting:

1. Urged that the federal government permit New York state to develop electric power on the St. Lawrence and Niagara rivers.
2. Recommended a review of new federal controls in installment buying.
3. Called for "intelligent legislation" favoring civil rights, "moderate revisions" of the Taft-Hartley law, "a reasonable" farm assistance program, and a "genuine" bi-partisan foreign policy.

The Young GOP Association claims 17,000 members in the state.

172,288 Cases Are Filed

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The temporary State Housing Rent Commission disposed of 131,409 rent applications in the six months after the new rent law became effective last May 1, State Rent Administrator Joseph D. McGoldrick reported last night. A total of 172,288 applications for rent increases or decreases were filed with the commission in the six months.
